

ally, and occasionally using even stronger anathemas... His hands were tied at least to his satisfaction, and every pen and paper he dashed off the table to the lady of his heart...

THE CONTEST IN COUNTY CORK

EXTRAORDINARY SCENES

[Ulster Examiner.]

Cork, Monday.

To-day, being fair day in Macroom, Colonel Colthurst and Mr. Kettle attended there for the purpose of forwarding their candidature...

At half-past one o'clock Mr. Finigan and Mr. Kettle, with green ribbons flying from the handles of their umbrellas, which were hoisted on their shoulders...

THE FRENCH CANADIANS.

The French Canadians are hard at work organizing for the celebration of St. Jean Baptiste day, the 24th of June, 1880...

Mr. Finigan—And now, in the name of Catholic Ireland, and recognizing the right of every man to worship God as he thinks fit...

Several Voices—You did say it. Mr. Finigan—I will give you my authority, sir, and will write to your bishop on the subject.

Mr. Finigan—And now, in the name of Catholic Ireland, and recognizing the right of every man to worship God as he thinks fit...

Mr. Finigan—And now, in the name of Catholic Ireland, and recognizing the right of every man to worship God as he thinks fit...

Mr. Finigan—And now, in the name of Catholic Ireland, and recognizing the right of every man to worship God as he thinks fit...

Mr. Finigan—And now, in the name of Catholic Ireland, and recognizing the right of every man to worship God as he thinks fit...

Mr. Finigan—And now, in the name of Catholic Ireland, and recognizing the right of every man to worship God as he thinks fit...

WHAT THE SPIRIT SAID TO THE PRINCE.

Two hundred thousand guineas doth he pocket; Low, hungry peasants' sweat marks every shilling...

O happy, happy Erin, be thou grateful! Diddn't Tommy Moore indite a lay to George? Ah! Denis Florence, thou poetic pate full...

Can nothing glorious to Parnassus call ye? The welkin's full of cheers,—great guays are hanging, Conceiv'd, O Mac, a classical "Come all ye."

Who speaketh myst'ries:—"Darlin' Prince, your servant; 'Tis pity, Prince, this reasonable famine...

By herring, Prince, we are a curious people! If we said 'Yes,' you'd change our rage to emine;

To sing 'God Save the Queen' on Sunday morning; To pray for kings, landlords, queens, process servers,

'Och, by the seven-league club of Fin ma Coul! We're a quare pack,—as obstinate as lo-nens;

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

MR. SULLIVAN AND MR. CALLAN.

The following extraordinary letter from Mr. A. M. Sullivan, M. P., to the Editor of the Freeman's Journal, upon Mr. Lowther and Mr. Callan, is published in to-day's (Monday) Freeman.

DEAR SIR,—In reference to the election contest in Louth which has just terminated, I have to-day to ask your attention, and the attention of the Irish people, to a fact which throws a lurid light on the secret relation which may exist between the Government and professing members of the Home Rule party.

On opening one of those letters, I found it contained direct, precise, and absolute information of a fact previously made known to me in a less positive manner, that within the past week Mr. James Lowther, the Irish Chief-Secretary, had received from Mr. Phillip Callan a communication, offering himself to oppose me in Louth, and asking Mr. Lowther for money to carry out this purpose.

Now, sir, this is a very serious statement and not to be lightly made. I am in a position most solemnly to pledge myself in the face of the world that I know it to be true. I think you will agree with me, sir, that the matter cannot rest where it now is; that it is due to the character of the Irish representation, and to the purity and decency of Irish political life, that it should be challenged, investigated, proved, or confessed. I hereby undertake to prove it by the evidence of just one witness—namely, Mr. Lowther himself. It is, at all events, a gentleman, and will truly tell if this damning story be a fact or fiction.

As for a denial from Mr. Phillip Callan, we know the high esteem in which that should be held; and the point at issue is not as to whose cheques are cashed for the occasion, or who else may be financially confederated in the affair. The one plain and simple statement which I hope you, sir, as one of the public guardians of public morality, will insist on being answered is—Did Mr. Lowther receive from Mr. Phillip Callan an application for money to contest Louth against me—Yours very truly, A. M. SULLIVAN.

DEAR SIR,—In reference to the election contest in Louth which has just terminated, I have to-day to ask your attention, and the attention of the Irish people, to a fact which throws a lurid light on the secret relation which may exist between the Government and professing members of the Home Rule party.

On opening one of those letters, I found it contained direct, precise, and absolute information of a fact previously made known to me in a less positive manner, that within the past week Mr. James Lowther, the Irish Chief-Secretary, had received from Mr. Phillip Callan a communication, offering himself to oppose me in Louth, and asking Mr. Lowther for money to carry out this purpose.

Now, sir, this is a very serious statement and not to be lightly made. I am in a position most solemnly to pledge myself in the face of the world that I know it to be true. I think you will agree with me, sir, that the matter cannot rest where it now is; that it is due to the character of the Irish representation, and to the purity and decency of Irish political life, that it should be challenged, investigated, proved, or confessed. I hereby undertake to prove it by the evidence of just one witness—namely, Mr. Lowther himself. It is, at all events, a gentleman, and will truly tell if this damning story be a fact or fiction.

As for a denial from Mr. Phillip Callan, we know the high esteem in which that should be held; and the point at issue is not as to whose cheques are cashed for the occasion, or who else may be financially confederated in the affair. The one plain and simple statement which I hope you, sir, as one of the public guardians of public morality, will insist on being answered is—Did Mr. Lowther receive from Mr. Phillip Callan an application for money to contest Louth against me—Yours very truly, A. M. SULLIVAN.

DEAR SIR,—In reference to the election contest in Louth which has just terminated, I have to-day to ask your attention, and the attention of the Irish people, to a fact which throws a lurid light on the secret relation which may exist between the Government and professing members of the Home Rule party.

On opening one of those letters, I found it contained direct, precise, and absolute information of a fact previously made known to me in a less positive manner, that within the past week Mr. James Lowther, the Irish Chief-Secretary, had received from Mr. Phillip Callan a communication, offering himself to oppose me in Louth, and asking Mr. Lowther for money to carry out this purpose.

Now, sir, this is a very serious statement and not to be lightly made. I am in a position most solemnly to pledge myself in the face of the world that I know it to be true. I think you will agree with me, sir, that the matter cannot rest where it now is; that it is due to the character of the Irish representation, and to the purity and decency of Irish political life, that it should be challenged, investigated, proved, or confessed. I hereby undertake to prove it by the evidence of just one witness—namely, Mr. Lowther himself. It is, at all events, a gentleman, and will truly tell if this damning story be a fact or fiction.

As for a denial from Mr. Phillip Callan, we know the high esteem in which that should be held; and the point at issue is not as to whose cheques are cashed for the occasion, or who else may be financially confederated in the affair. The one plain and simple statement which I hope you, sir, as one of the public guardians of public morality, will insist on being answered is—Did Mr. Lowther receive from Mr. Phillip Callan an application for money to contest Louth against me—Yours very truly, A. M. SULLIVAN.

DEAR SIR,—In reference to the election contest in Louth which has just terminated, I have to-day to ask your attention, and the attention of the Irish people, to a fact which throws a lurid light on the secret relation which may exist between the Government and professing members of the Home Rule party.

THOUGH NEPTUNE RISE UP FROM HIS COMB

'Tis pity, Prince, our country is—'Tis pity, Prince, our country is—'Tis pity, Prince, our country is—

Two hundred thousand guineas doth he pocket; Low, hungry peasants' sweat marks every shilling...

O happy, happy Erin, be thou grateful! Diddn't Tommy Moore indite a lay to George? Ah! Denis Florence, thou poetic pate full...

Can nothing glorious to Parnassus call ye? The welkin's full of cheers,—great guays are hanging, Conceiv'd, O Mac, a classical "Come all ye."

Who speaketh myst'ries:—"Darlin' Prince, your servant; 'Tis pity, Prince, this reasonable famine...

By herring, Prince, we are a curious people! If we said 'Yes,' you'd change our rage to emine;

To sing 'God Save the Queen' on Sunday morning; To pray for kings, landlords, queens, process servers,

'Och, by the seven-league club of Fin ma Coul! We're a quare pack,—as obstinate as lo-nens;

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

'Tis strange, dear Prince, that spite of all such kindness, Which lays our gratitude a heavy tax on,

SHOOTING IN VALLEYFIELD.

A SPRINGER MORTALLY WOUNDED—HE DECLARES HIMSELF THE GUILTY PARTY.

Valleyfield, Que., May 5.—Last Friday, Frank Alexa, agent for the South Eastern Railway, arrived in this town, in order to hire the hands now on strike at Valleyfield to go to work in the manufactories in the Eastern States...

The average number of United States mail trains transported across the Panama Railroad the past 25 years has been 500 per year at a medium cost of $250 a head, making about $300,000 expended by the Government for this item alone.

UNMITIGATED DISTRESS.

DUBLIN, May 4.—Captain Potter, of the Constabulary, was to-day presented with the freedom of the city of Dublin.

Lord Mayor Gray, who presided at the ceremony, stated that the distress in Ireland was as great as ever, and he feared that during the next three months it would prove most severe.

ADVERTISING CHEATS.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of 'Pop Bitters' as plain, honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them, one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.

THE GOLD IS SATISFIED THAT BISMARCK WILL ENGLAND AND RUSSIA IN CARRYING OUT THE TREATY OF BERLIN.

The Gold is satisfied that Bismarck will England and Russia in carrying out the Treaty of Berlin.

THE GOLD IS SATISFIED THAT BISMARCK WILL ENGLAND AND RUSSIA IN CARRYING OUT THE TREATY OF BERLIN.

The Gold is satisfied that Bismarck will England and Russia in carrying out the Treaty of Berlin.

THE GOLD IS SATISFIED THAT BISMARCK WILL ENGLAND AND RUSSIA IN CARRYING OUT THE TREATY OF BERLIN.

The Gold is satisfied that Bismarck will England and Russia in carrying out the Treaty of Berlin.