No.49

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 25, 1951

The Canada-United Kingdom tax agreement which has been in force since 1946 was today extended to cover twenty-one Colonial territories of the United Kingdom. This was formally effected by an exchange of notes between the two governments under the provisions of the existing agreement.

This action has the effect of widening substantially the scope of beneficial tax arrangements covering Canadian trade and investments abroad. Details regarding the territories falling under these new provisions and the time of their coming into force will be found in the Canada Gazette.
