

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

What would be the effect of this? These are the things that we are talking about.

Now, in the case of the proposed legislation, we did make a study, which has been made in the 1977 report and will be made to deal with the things in the new Committee. So it would seem to me Mr. Chairman—and Mr. Chairman, you will not be surprised to hear me say—that the things that we are talking about are very important and that it is a very important part of the work that we are doing.

Now, the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the

the Committee that is the Government has

the Committee that is the