

lightful Summer tour, lasting just eleven days, with out an accident having happened, or the enjoyment of a single hour having been marred by illness.

That we may all live to realize the desire expressed by the entire party, to meet again next year, is the fervent wish of the author.

FINIS.