

"No wonder you're busy" You sell fine suits at $25

THAT'S what a man said to us yesterday—and he was right. We don't do a big business here because we are handsome or lucky or because anybody gives us our rent.

WE'RE busy because we sell fine suits at $25—suits that cost us more to make than other $25 suits and show more profit to you than to us.

VERY simple, isn't it? And yet it explains why we're growing more popular every day.

Burt pitched for Oiler, and his elusive shots turned back fifteen would-be hitters by the strike-out route. Mackie replaced Kirby at first base and played a clever game. Burt's and Mackie's home-run drives over the left-field fence featured.
