

SOCKS ARE WANTED BY CANADIANS NOW ENTERING GERMANY

Capt. A. Murphy Writes Home
For Supplies.

RESPONSE IS IMMEDIATE

I. O. D. E. Chapters, Donate
Quantity and Add Cigarettes to Parcels.

It isn't time yet to quit knitting socks for overseas men, judging from a letter received by Major T. J. Murphy from his son, Capt. Albert Murphy, 11th Canadian Battalion, B. E. F. Writing after the final big push of the war, he announced that his unit was on the way to Germany, and he expected to go to Berlin before returning home. The letter was written on the back of some German newspaper, the only kind available. A place had been reached which had been under German rule for four years. The Germans had taken everything with them, cattle and provisions, leaving the civilian population absolutely destitute and entirely dependent upon the army rations given them by the Canadians.

In Need of Socks. It was impossible to get supplies of any kind there, and the soldiers were much in need of socks. The "S. O. S." of the letters, being interpreted, meant "Send us Socks." Immediately Mrs. Murphy began devising ways and means of obtaining enough socks to outfit the whole of her son's company. When the matter was brought before the 11th Canadian Battalion Chapter of the I. O. D. E., of which Mrs. Murphy is regent, the chapter voted $25 towards buying socks.

The Government Will, If You Do Not!

Democratic laws give you the right to make your Will; appoint your executor; provide for the distribution of your estate.

If you die without leaving a Will a distribution will be made according to Ontario statutes.

The laws cannot be altered to meet the individual needs of your family.

Your estate will need thoroughly experienced, impartial service and freedom from unnecessary costs. This is guaranteed by the appointment of The Canada Trust Company as executor.

We shall be pleased to have you call and discuss the service we render, without obligation to you.

THE CANADA TRUST COMPANY

Managed in Connection With the HURON & ERIC MORTGAGE CORPORATION.
LONDON BRANCHES:
445 RICHMOND STREET AND MARKET SQUARE.
T. G. MEREDITH, K.C. HUME GRONVY, President. General Manager.

Will the Christmas Gift Please as Much as You Hope?

It can—and will—if you allow us to supply it. For we know so well what is liked best and our entire stock is made up of gifts of that kind—you're sure to choose the right one if you select it here.

BARNARD JEWELRY is dignified and distinctive, yet the prices have been kept down to a low level. You can rest assured that the gift sent from this store will receive a hearty welcome.

DIAMOND RINGS	$10.00 to $300.00
BAR PINS	$2.00 to $55.00
NECKLACES	$5.00 to $70.00
LAVALIERES	$20.00 to $100.00
BRACELETS	$1.00 to $40.00
WRIST WATCHES	$15.00 to $200.00
BUREAU SETS	$10.00 to $85.00
VANITY CASES	$1.00 to $22.50

John S. Barnard
JEWELER
194 DUNDAS STREET, LONDON.

FATHER AND SONS HAVE DONE THEIR BIT AT BATTLE FRONT

Corp. F. H. Evison. Pte. R. H. Evison. Pte. M. E. Evison. One family that has certainly done its "bit" to crush Prussianism is the Evison family of No. 1 Seale Terrace, York street. The mother, Mrs. F. H. Evison, has sent two sons and her husband to the war. All three soldiers enlisted at Stratford with the 15th Battalion. One of the sons, Pte. R. H. Evison, was killed in action on August 27, 1918. He was in his 23rd year. Prior to enlistment he was a farmer in Alberta. Spurred on by the news of his brother's death, Pte. R. H. Evison did such good work in the last battle of the war that he received the Military Medal. Although he has been in the army about three years, he will not be 21 years of age until next March. Before enlisting he was farming near Stratford. The father, Corp. F. H. Evison, was wounded and returned home some time ago. Before joining the C. E. F. he was employed by the Carriage Company of Stratford. The two boys are grandsons of George Hill, Delaware, who is a Fenian raid veteran and who is now 85 years of age.

German Sailors Admit Defeat At Jutland And Tell of Ships Being Sunk, About Which Nothing Said

Vivid Description of Foe's Naval Surrender Given by Brother of Londoner, Who Says That the Cinema Machines Made Record of All That Occurred On the Great Day.

A most interesting and enlightening description of the surrender of the German fleet is given by Chas. Smith of H. M. S. "Courageous" in a letter to his brother, Raymond Smith, of The London Advertiser staff. The letter follows:

"You will no doubt be interested to learn about the carrying out of the terms of the armistice by the German fleet. Well, King George came steaming around on Wednesday inspecting the fleet, dining with Beatty, etc. No one got dizzy over that. What we'd been waiting about for was the surrender of the fleet. I suppose our next job will be to fight or wouldn't it? Many arguments cropped up on the lower deck re this matter. It certainly didn't seem feasible as it does now, that he would give up all those ships without a struggle. "Well, today came the greatest day England or the world has ever seen. We were only before dawn the whole of the grand fleet this time to meet the enemy's beaten ships. Yanks and all were there. I've seen nothing but ships, ships, ships, everywhere, all day today. At 8 o'clock the six 'lighters' reported the enemy ships sighted east of May Island and an hour later we passed them on our starboard and within easy gun range. We were at action stations of course, but our guns trained fore and aft the ship, so as to cause no misunderstanding. First came the battleships, then the battle cruisers, all in squads of five each, led by a dinky little destroyer or light cruiser. A few miles behind came their destroyers, hemmed in by two lines of our little grey devils. "Cinema Men There. "It has been a beautiful day and as there were several newspapers and cinema men on board, I expect there will be some decent pictures on show before long. We brought up the rear, coming back, and passed the whole big brood surrounded in the Fifth, the ones by our dreadnoughts, the cruisers by ours, with the destroyers above the bridge safely locked in. "Once again Britain is mistress of the seas, and the navy has done her bit towards winning up the 'Watch the Rhine.' Now we are only waiting for the army to put the tin hat on it and finish off the Hun. On Monday we are escorting the German ships to Scapa Flow, in the Orkneys, the battleships' base. From there the crews will be sent home in their own transports after the care and maintenance parties have taken the ships over, all correct. "There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"I am also Lewis Gun instructor, being the only person in the ship who understands the Lewis gun. I've got a 3-inch high-angle gun to play with. This is a strange weapon, which is automatic when you enter cartridges. The empty brass cylinder is thrown out by the recoil, opening the breech, and working a pair of extractors automatically. The only thing about it is that it's a bit of a nuisance to load. "On doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

SISTER STRUCK BY MOTOR CAR SUFFERS BROKEN THIGH BONE

Was Walking From Behind a Street Car.

Although still in a critical condition, Sister St. Joseph, who was knocked down by a motor car last evening at the corner of Colborne and Dundas streets, is in a much better condition than was anticipated. She is suffering severe pain from a broken thigh. Sister St. Joseph was on her way to St. Joseph's Hospital in company with another sister, and in alighting from a North Bell car and proceeding to walk behind it to cross the road she stepped directly in front of the motor car. She was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital and was attended by Dr. W. J. Tillmann. Sister St. Joseph came to London 50 years ago yesterday from Toronto and entered the Sacred Heart Convent, where she has since remained. She had intended celebrating the anniversary of her entrance to the convent by attending mass in the convent this morning.

German Sailors Admit Defeat At Jutland And Tell of Ships Being Sunk, About Which Nothing Said

Vivid Description of Foe's Naval Surrender Given by Brother of Londoner, Who Says That the Cinema Machines Made Record of All That Occurred On the Great Day.

A most interesting and enlightening description of the surrender of the German fleet is given by Chas. Smith of H. M. S. "Courageous" in a letter to his brother, Raymond Smith, of The London Advertiser staff. The letter follows:

"You will no doubt be interested to learn about the carrying out of the terms of the armistice by the German fleet. Well, King George came steaming around on Wednesday inspecting the fleet, dining with Beatty, etc. No one got dizzy over that. What we'd been waiting about for was the surrender of the fleet. I suppose our next job will be to fight or wouldn't it? Many arguments cropped up on the lower deck re this matter. It certainly didn't seem feasible as it does now, that he would give up all those ships without a struggle. "Well, today came the greatest day England or the world has ever seen. We were only before dawn the whole of the grand fleet this time to meet the enemy's beaten ships. Yanks and all were there. I've seen nothing but ships, ships, ships, everywhere, all day today. At 8 o'clock the six 'lighters' reported the enemy ships sighted east of May Island and an hour later we passed them on our starboard and within easy gun range. We were at action stations of course, but our guns trained fore and aft the ship, so as to cause no misunderstanding. First came the battleships, then the battle cruisers, all in squads of five each, led by a dinky little destroyer or light cruiser. A few miles behind came their destroyers, hemmed in by two lines of our little grey devils. "Cinema Men There. "It has been a beautiful day and as there were several newspapers and cinema men on board, I expect there will be some decent pictures on show before long. We brought up the rear, coming back, and passed the whole big brood surrounded in the Fifth, the ones by our dreadnoughts, the cruisers by ours, with the destroyers above the bridge safely locked in. "Once again Britain is mistress of the seas, and the navy has done her bit towards winning up the 'Watch the Rhine.' Now we are only waiting for the army to put the tin hat on it and finish off the Hun. On Monday we are escorting the German ships to Scapa Flow, in the Orkneys, the battleships' base. From there the crews will be sent home in their own transports after the care and maintenance parties have taken the ships over, all correct. "There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

"It is interesting to watch the 15-inch at director firing. The 'Glorious' and this ship exchange firing with the director thrown off six degrees, for training. Our fellow is very hot and has 90 per cent of hits to his credit. All the time this firing is going on, photos are automatically being taken, showing the splash from right angles of the target. The last time we went out on this racket, the 'G' put a 15-inch gun shot into the forecastle and, of course, we were glad she didn't come any closer. "I am doing fairly well in this ship and I don't want to leave her. She is the fastest craft I've ever seen. I've seen her do 35 knots, and no one seems to know what her top speed is. She has an armor belt and a main gun turret, which is a very unusual feature. She looks like a battle cruiser. There were three of the 'Purloins,' has been for some time a carrier of aeroplanes, with a huge platform and derrick on the sides, which give her the appearance of a Noah's ark. There is another queer-looking object which joined up the other day, called the 'Argus,' also a Noah's ark, for aeroplanes. She is driven by internal combustion engines and has a huge platform deck, no vertical funnels, and huge lifts which raise the planes for flying off. How many she carries, goodness only knows. The press calls us the hush ships. The heavies call us the samurai squadron."

"There are a lot of naval secrets being revealed now. I'll give you one. The Germans admit defeat at Jutland. They also say that it took the guts out of them, so that they're no more. Here's another: This ship, 'Courageous,' and the 'Glorious,' which are termed two being."

SMALLMAN & INGRAM

The Christmas Store

SMALLMAN & INGRAM

Give Furs For Christmas

You can greatly please many people Christmas morning by marking "furs" opposite their names on your shopping list and by making your choice here. The little children dearly love scarfs and muffs "just like mother's"; young girls delight to have furs for school and dress wear; and mother herself is doubtless hoping that "Santa" will bring a new coat or a short wrap, or a smart set of furs for winter days. Pages of descriptions would not satisfy. You must see them to appreciate their beauty. The Fur Section is now overflowing with new furs—neckpieces, scarfs, muffs, stoles and coats, in all the new and popular furs.

Muffs, Scarfs and Misses' White Furs

Natural Raccoon Sets, muffs at	$18.50, $22.50 to $30.00
Neckpieces	$17.50, $19.50 to $33.00
Natural Wolf Muffs	$16.50, $21.00, $22.50 to $35.00
Natural Wolf Animal Scarfs or Capes at
	$18.50, $21.00, $25.00 to $35.00
Hudson Seal Muffs at	$22.50, $25.00 to $30.00
Black Siberian Wolf Muffs at	$6.50, $8.50, $9.50 to $18.50
Black Siberian Wolf Animal Scarfs and Capes
	$7.75, $10.00, $12.50 to $20.00
Civet Cat Barrel Muffs at	$20.00 and $22.50
Civet Cat Capes at	$15.00 to $25.00
Misses' Furs in White Thibet, Muffs
	$4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and $7.75
Neckpieces in White Thibet	$4.00, $4.50, $6.50 to $10.00
Fur Sets in Red Fox, Black Fox, Alaska Sable, Australian Opossum, Brown, Natural and Black Wolf
Hudson Seal Capes, in novelty styles, with collars of fitch, beaver, sable or plain. Price	$45.00, $55.00 to $100.00
Hudson Seal Muffs at	$25.00 and $30.00
Hudson Seal Coats, with collars and cuffs of beaver, black lynx, Alaska Sable, raccoon, lengths 40, 42 and 45 inches, rich silk and satin linings. Prices	$279.00 to $350.00
Coats in Hudson Seal, with smart cape collar, lengths 40, 42 and 45 inches. Prices	$210.00 to $280.00
Muskrat Coats, with shawl or cape collar, at	$120.00, $135.00 to $200.00

Bring Your Troubles to the Adjustment Bureau

To assist in quickly adjusting errors, which it is only natural to expect will occur during the busy shopping days from now until Christmas (during which time a great many extra salespeople are employed), we have established an adjustment bureau, where you may take your troubles and have them quickly and satisfactorily made right. This office is located at rear of East Aisle, Main Floor—where also the report of any inattention on the part of salespeople will be appreciated.

She Expects Handkerchiefs

Think of the sheerest bits of hand-woven linen with such fine embroidery that it resembles nothing so nearly as delicate lace—such charm of the gift handkerchief from abroad, and never have we shown such lovely bits of needlework.

Ladies' Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, embroidered corner	12c and 15c each
Ladies' Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, shamrock lawn, assorted designs, very pretty and dainty. Price	18c each
Ladies' Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, assorted designs	20c and 25c each
Ladies' Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, assorted designs, pure linen	35c and 40c each
Ladies' Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, assorted designs, pure linen	50c each
Ladies' Madeira Handkerchiefs, scalloped edge, beautiful embroidered corner, all handwork	60c and 75c each

Silk Shirts For Men

What could be nicer than one or more fine quality Silk Shirts as a Christmas gift? We have a very complete assortment in a splendid collection of beautiful silks and designs.

Men's Silk Shirts $4.95 Each

There is nothing more appropriate, always appreciated and just at the right time we feature a very attractive line of all silk shirts in neat stripes and fancy patterns. Wednesday you will find on sale here several dozen from one of the best Canadian factories at the very special price of $4.95 each. Don't fail to get yours on Wednesday, as shirts of this quality are seldom sold at so low a price. Sizes 14 to 17. Price $4.95 each

Men's Soft Collars at Half Price

All Soft Collars to be cleared on Wednesday at half regular prices, long-pointed or round-corner collars, in silk, pique, Madras, white and cream shades, in sizes