REG. NOBLE BADLY INJURED IN OTTAWA--MAROONS TIE CONTEST

OVERTIME FAILS TO GET VERDICT BETWEEN TEAMS

Boston Gets Stranglehold On Third Place In Race

MONTREAL, Feb. 22.—Reg Noble, stellar defender of the Montreal Maroons, is in the hospital here suffering from a fracture of the skull close to the right eye. He will be out of the game for some time. In the third period of the game between Montreal and Ottawa, Saturday night, Noble was working diligently on the offensive trying to force a break for the Maroons in the scoreless deadlock. He had cleared the puck at the Montreal defence, and started down mid-way. As he neared the sweeping stick of Nipkow he reversed over to the left wing and attempted to pass Hooley Smith by playing the puck off the boards. The two collided near the boards, and both turned partially off balance. Smith's stick caught Noble across the lower forehead.

A GREAT GAME

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Eighty minutes of breath-taking, strenuous hockey, in which the players of both sides battled themselves into exhaustion in an effort to capture the honors, failed to bring a decision when the Montreal Maroons and Ottawa Senators, leaders in the National Hockey League, fought before a wildly excited crowd, which packed the auditorium here Saturday. From the first whistle to the bell which sounded the conclusion of the twenty minute overtime period, the two teams gave their utmost for victory, but were forced to leave the ice at the end locked in a scoreless tie.

It was the best showing the Maroons have made against Ottawa at home and the result has greatly enhanced their prospects in the championship playoffs. Seidman has such a terrific torrid tussle being waged by teams in the present pro clash as that which was waged by the opposing sides in grueling overtime. From the speed attack launched by the Senators at the start of the first period, through the entire second session and an equally stubborn third period the play was maintained at a dizzy clip. The 20 minutes found both teams tired, but still fighting for the laurels, though the players were able to hold the gait only through a display of the most magnificent courage. Relief for the most part was slight, and it was the regular forces which carried practically the whole burden of the fight.

Where Ottawa started with an advantage in the play, the rugged Maroons finished strong and not strong enough to get through the dogged lot of players who were upholding the tricolor of the Senators.

Both net guardians stood out in the fight, but it was the Maroon goalie who occupied this night. With players on the penalty bench and Montreal faltering in the second period for a few minutes, it was Benedict who rose to the height of his career in a fusillade of shots.

ST. PATS WON
TORONTO, Feb. 22.—Pittsburgh's hopes of ousting the Boston Bruins out of third place received a severe jolt Saturday night, when St. Patrick's beat them 3-1. The locals secured a tally in the first period, coming after six minutes of play, in the opening period. Corbeau broke up a Pirate attack, and carried the puck down the ice accompanied by Dye and Adams. The latter took Corbeau's pass and headed for the corner where he turned and passed out to Dye, who beat Worster. Bellefeuille increased the local lead half way through the second period, from a pass by McCaffrey. The Irish final counter came late in the last period. Day was the successful marksman on this occasion.

From a mad scramble around Roach in the third period, Mills scored the Pirates' lone tally.

For St. Pats Corbeau's brilliant defensive play, the head work of Adams and the numerous rushes of McCaffrey were features.

For Pittsburgh, Conacher, Mills and McCaffrey appeared best.

BRUINS STRONG
MONTREAL, Feb. 22.—Although the Canadians had an edge of the play Saturday night against the Boston Bruins, they could not beat Doc Stewart in the Bruins' goal, and fell down before the upward rush of Art Ross' team, 3-1. The real hero of the Boston victory was Dr. Charlie Stewart, the goal tender. Canadians, although better, were tireless in their efforts, and they never gave Stewart a moment's rest.

Howie Morena made his reappearance with Canadians after an enforced absence of one game, owing to an injured leg. He showed well in flashes, his low drives from the blue line bothering Stewart, but he was evidently handicapped by his injury, and was frequently relieved. Joliat and Boucher also showed well in flashes.

Rheaume let two long ones past but was effective in blocking from close in. The Boston sharpshooters, Cooper and Herbster, aided by Harrington gave a finished display of offensive play, and their back checking efforts relieved their defense of plenty of work.

Lew Morris, New York Flash, Captures New Jersey Skating Title

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLOP

PRIOR to his return to Finland, Clas Thunberg gave the newspapers quite a healthy little interview on how he was going to make plans to have some of the American boys come into his backyard in Finland next year and play with him over there. This is great stuff and shows how smart and intelligent the New York Flash is. The Finn's mind or else it shows a remarkable linguistic feat by Clas who possibly has learned the English language in a few short weeks. Anyway, Clas was quoted for several paragraphs on the virtues of this scheme of taking the American skaters to Finland, and skate in the winter in Sweden. We might well believe such an interview was given by Clas himself but for one thing—there was never a mention of Charlie Gorman, the world's champion. What a bitter pill that has been to swallow and while some of them have got it down heroically, there is a big majority that is making the terrible faces in trying to hang on to it. Now, we all know how Clas was treated at Madison Square Garden and the miserable trick that was played on him when those indoor rinks by Hugo Quist and his fellow conspirators and we all know how much he was pleased with his reception here and how well he thought of Gorman. This, at least, is fact. And then they make poor old Clas say in his farewell that he wants anybody but Charlie to come over and meet him next year. Do you believe that Clas said that? Do you believe he would pass up any chance to regain the title now held by Gorman? Personally, we believe Clas never saw the reporters. Mr. Quist saw to that. The interview reviews Clas' meets in this country and never a mention is made of said. Now, folks don't want us and don't like the idea of our skaters winning, we can very well stick to Canada for competition. And it is time some of the skating officials across the line wised up to the fact.

J. N. B. claims the western college hockey title. We don't care what they claim so long as they try to stage some of those play-off games down here. And that play-off series with Sussex looks interesting also. Hockey is dying hard hereabouts.

JACK HOOD, the coming British welterweight about whom we had a paragraph a few nights ago, went 20 rounds recently with a Belgian fighter by the name of Verrett and while he did not display anything wonderful he did give an exhibition of pluckiness. In the seventh round when he had the Belgian on the verge of being out, he broke a small bone in his right hand which was practically helpless for the rest of the bout. Hood is the boy who is picked by English experts to beat Tommy Milligan, who is pushing himself in line for a crack at the world's welter title by getting a hairline decision from Jack Zivic last Friday night in Madison Square Garden. This evening the standing between them in decisions although Milligan has the shade as a great many at the first meeting were of the opinion that Milligan won easily. His victories over Zivic, however, have not been impressive enough for his friends to go into transports of joy over his chances in a match with Mickey Walker. Jack Zivic is no Walker. At the same time Mickey has not been going well of late and you never can tell what might happen over the 15-round round. Mickey is a game, aggressive fighter with the heart and instinct of a champion, however, and on the face of things should beat Milligan if they are matched.

LADIES TO MANAGE OWN ATHLETICS

Miss Marion Belding, Saint John, is Named Provisional Chairman

Women's athletics in the Maritime Provinces will henceforth be conducted by the ladies themselves with the aid of the male authorities. A provisional committee to organize a women's branch has already been formed with Miss Marion Belding as chairman and Miss Gertrude O'Neill as secretary.

At the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada at Toronto it was decided to allow the women to run their own athletics with the men as advisers, with a separate organization to be known as the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada, to function along the same lines as the A. A. U. Most of the provinces have already got their program under way and officers elected. Ontario completed its organization on Jan. 28.

Word was received from the A. A. U. by W. E. Stirling asking him to take steps to have the girls' athletics in the Maritimes form a branch in accordance with the decision of the provisional chairman and Miss O'Neill provisional secretary.

Girls' athletic affairs were formally handed over to the provisional officers and they were directed to organize the various clubs and associations and have them properly affiliated with the new federation. Supervision will be exercised over all lines of athletics in which girls' clubs participate.

Miss Belding said last night that the first step to be taken will be the registration of all lady athletes by the new body. This will be done at once, before the upward rush of Art Ross' team, 3-1. The real hero of the Boston victory was Dr. Charlie Stewart, the goal tender. Canadians, although better, were tireless in their efforts, and they never gave Stewart a moment's rest.

Howie Morena made his reappearance with Canadians after an enforced absence of one game, owing to an injured leg. He showed well in flashes, his low drives from the blue line bothering Stewart, but he was evidently handicapped by his injury, and was frequently relieved. Joliat and Boucher also showed well in flashes.

TROJANS PLAY FIRST GAME FOR TITLE FRIDAY

Chapter of Reverse Breaks In Saturday's Mt. A. Game

TROJAN Seniors, who start their fourth successive march toward a Maritime basketball title this week, ran into a series of reverse breaks for their game against Mount Allison University which would have given them a fairly good ally had they been beaten, but as it was they won comfortably by 34 to 23. The train that carried them to the college town was late, the locals not arriving until 11:20 o'clock. To be in readiness, the boys changed into basketball gear in the baggage car and then drove about a mile in an open sleigh in bitterly cold weather to the gym. With very little warming-up, owing to the lateness of the hour, they jumped into the game, agreeing to play only two 15-minute periods, with a five-minute rest, instead of the regulation 30-minute periods. It was well after midnight when the game finished and during it "Beet" Malcolm, the locals great center, picked up a nice strained ankle. To make things more interesting, Mount A. gave the Trojans plenty of action, and the Marjans were forced to loaf along toward the end and hold their lead.

Wednesday night of this week, Trojans play their return game with U. N. B. here, while on Friday night they are in Woodstock for the first game for the provincial title. Woodstock is a strong team, and the locals are anticipating plenty of opposition at Woodstock. In Saturday night's game Mount Allison defeated them by a powerful 30-14.

Shortly after the start of the second, both Lister and Kerr of the opposing team, were forced out through an excess of foul play. The game was very fast throughout, except during the closing minutes, when the Trojans seemed to stall in an attempt to hold their lead. The whole it was by far the most interesting contest witnessed in the Mt. Allison game, since the Trojans defeated Truro for the Maritime title here in 1924.

Trojans field goals, 14; fouls, 6 out of 18. Mt. Allison field goals, 11; fouls, 10 out of 17. Mount Allison—Forwards: Lister, 10; Smith, 6; Malcolm, 2; centre, Thomas 5; defences, Rice, Wilson. Referee, George, timekeeper, Plumptre 12; Wilson 4; centre, Beet Malcolm 14; defences, Hollis 4, Lee, Kerr. Saint John and Sussex will meet on Friday evening at the Arena in the first of a home and home series to decide second place in the Southern League will be played in Sussex on Wednesday or Wednesday of the following week. LOCALS TO ST. STEPHEN
The Saint John team will go to St. Stephen on Friday evening to play the border town team. This game was promised early in the season when it was found impracticable to include St. Stephen boys, with Nicholson, who starred the Saint John team for several seasons playing goal, can always be relied on to put up a good fight and the locals are taking along a full line-up.

Sussex has won five out of the last six games played, their last win being over the Abbies, 3 to 1. A band of royal rosters will accompany the Sussex team when they come to Saint John on Friday night for the first battle between these teams.

Sackville Hockey Club Is Suspended For Playing a Pro

THE SACKVILLE hockey club was suspended last evening by a bulletin issued by W. E. Stirling, vice-president of the Maritime Provinces branch of the A. A. U. of C. The bulletin was issued after the signature of S. F. Doyle and J. F. Quigley, president and secretary of the Maritime Provinces branch. The reason for the suspension was the playing by the Sackville team of Gordon Rennie in a game on February 16 against the Moncton Rovers.

Rennie was suspended as a professional some time ago and his amateur card cancelled. This has never been restored, although it is said he has obtained a hockey certificate. The bulletin wants all players, clubs and bodies affiliated with the Amateur Union not to play against Sackville or any of its registered players.

The Milligan-Zivic Bout

Writing in the New York Herald-Tribune, Jack Lawrence says, regarding the Milligan-Zivic bout last Friday night:

Tommy Milligan, the braw Scot, with the scorching left hook, was a highly popular decision over Jack Zivic of Pittsburgh, in the feature event of a three ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden. It was a decision that failed to raise a single squawk. It is probable that even Zivic himself was willing to admit his own defeat when the tenth bell rolled around and the boys were permitted to smoke again.

There was a dull moment when one of the best that has been staged in Madison Square Garden since that structure was opened by Tex Rickard. There wasn't a dull moment when the tap of the first gong until the customers lit their pipes, cigars and cigarettes and Milligan came into his own, and in doing so proved that he is no false alarm. He is a little figure that must be figured upon when one is sizing up either the welterweight or the middleweight divisions. This writer's opinion, after viewing last night's battle, is that Milligan will make a lot more headway as a middleweight than as a welterweight.

It might also be remarked that Milligan won the decision, despite rather atrocious handling in his corner. But Tommy was probably getting used to this. He has been mismanaged or handled in his corner from the time he made his American debut in the Queensboro Stadium last summer against Morris Schaffer.

HARRY GREE INTRODUCED
The main bout was preceded by the usual introductions, which included Harry Gree, middleweight champion of the world, who meets Tiger Flowers for the title in the Garden next Friday night. Milligan weighed 146½ and Zivic 144½.

They did not waste much time in getting into action. Zivic hooked Milligan to the head with a left. Milligan tried a left hand at long range, but it missed repeatedly. He finally copped Jack with a left, and they came to a standstill. Milligan shot both hands to the body and they locked again. Zivic crossed his left to the chin and took a hard right to the jaw, which was followed up by a vicious left jab. Milligan seemed to be doing the better boxing of the two. The action was fast and furious from the time they started. Coming out for the second round, they walked into a clinch and exchanged blows at close quarters, in which neither seemed to have any particular advantage. Zivic tried a left lead and came through with a right to the body which did not seem to have much steam behind it. They went to work on each other at close quarters and each hooked left to the jaw. Milligan stuck out a wicked left jab to Zivic's face. Jack backed off. Milligan followed this with a solid right cross to the jaw. Zivic was not staggered, however.

But it was Milligan's magnificent advice, despite the obviously poor advice of the handlers in his corner, that piled up the points for the Briton. Milligan displayed a left hand last night that was a marvelous thing to watch. It was a flashing weapon that would make trouble for the best welterweights in the country.
