CUPID LAUGHS AT BETS AS WELL AS LOCKSMITHS

Hamilton, June 24.—About a year ago David P. Rockmaker made a wager with Archie Frank of this city that he would never be married. To make it binding an agreement was drawn up and signed under which he undertook to forfeit $500 if he married before fifteen years had elapsed. He later felt so sure of himself that he made another wager with A. J. Frank by which he was to pay $50 if he married before 1925.

All of which leads to the disclosure that there is something else at which love laughs besides locksmiths. Mr. Rockmaker has paid a delicate compliment to Miss Henriette Stein of Toronto, whom he is to marry on July 18 in this city. He recognizes that he is out $500 on his wagers, but is quite content to lose the money.
