People Who Work Indoors With Their Hands

Seamstresses, watch-makers, artists, draughtsmen, and many others, cannot properly handle their tools with cold, stiff hands. Many a lost hour or two on cold winter mornings results from the delayed heat of furnace or stove.

The Perfection Oil Heater in a few minutes gives the temperature that warms the wicker warm hands and flexible muscles.

PERFECTION OIL HEATER Absolutely smokeless and odorless quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic flame adjuster which prevents the wick from being burned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection is finished in Japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

For Woman's Eye With the winter come days of wet, slushy streets, and, more often than not, wet feet and bad colds. It is surprising the protection afforded by coating the soles of the shoes with two or three coats of varnish, letting the first dry before the second is applied, etc. And the same degree of protection may be afforded the uppers by rubbing them thoroughly with castor oil or with a cut lemon.

Children's stockings generally come back from the laundry much more the worse for wear than do those of adults. Somehow a child manages to get a surprising amount of gravel, sand and dirt on the inside of his shoes. This works into the stockings, soaking the stockings for a half hour before putting them on the wash-board and rubbing allows time for the partial if not complete disintegration of the sand; besides, much of it will fall out of its own weight if soaked loose from the stocking.

Half-worn lace gowns should not be discarded this season. They can be made decidedly in vogue by fashioning for them transparent overdraperies and white, black or a colored chiffon is just the material for the purpose. If colors are used, one must be absolutely certain that they harmonize with the lace of the original gown.

To wash chamois gloves successfully place a few drops of olive oil in soft, tepid water and make a lather from any kind of good toilet soap. Rinse in water with a little more oil, being careful to have the water tepid. This makes chamois soft and pliable and keeps gloves looking fresh and new.

You hear a lot about "blushing brides," but did you ever see one?

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE MASSACHUSETTS

By Henry Wilson From a speech on the Crittenden resolutions, proposing amendments to the constitution, in the U. S. Senate, February 21, 1861.

In other days when Adams, Webster, Davis, Everett, Cushing, Choate, Winthrop, Mann, Rantoul, and their associates graced these chambers, Massachusetts was then, as she is now, the object of admiration and assault. I have sometimes thought, Mr. President, that these continual assaults upon the commonwealth of Massachusetts, were prompted---not by her faults, but by her virtues rather---not by the sense of justice, but by the spirit of envy and jealousy and uncharitableness. Unawed, however, by censure or menace, she continues in her course, upward and onward, to the accomplishment of her high destinies. She is but a speck, a mere patch on the surface of America, hardly more than one-fourth-hundredth part of the territory of the republic, with a rugged soil and still more rugged clime. But on that little spot of the globe is a commonwealth where common consent is recognized as the only just basis of fundamental law, and personal freedom is secured in its completest individuality. In that commonwealth are one and a quarter-million of freemen with skilled hand and cultivated brain---with mechanic arts and manufactures on every streamlet, and commerce on the waves of all the seas---with institutions of moral and mental culture open to all, and art, science and literature illustrated by glorious names---with benevolent institutions for the sons and daughters of misfortune and poverty, and charities for humanity, the wide world over. The heart, the soul, the reason of Massachusetts send up unceasing aspirations for the unity, indivisibility, and perpetuity of the North American republic. But if she shall be rent, torn, discovered, she will not lose her faith in God and humanity, she will not go down with the falling fortunes of her country without making a struggle to preserve and perpetuate free institutions. So long as the ocean shall roll at her feet, so long as God shall send her health-giving breezes and sunshine and rain, she will endeavor to illustrate in the future as in the past the daily beauty of freedom secured and protected by law.

GERMANY'S EMBARGO ON EXPORT OF POTASH STIRS AMERICANS

Washington Urged to Take Vigorous Action, and Secretary Knox Will Think It Over.

Washington, Nov. 10---Several prominent lawyers from Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore are coming to see Secretary Knox and Chief Osborne of the Bureau of Trade Relations tomorrow to urge the adoption of a vigorous policy towards Germany in connection with the refusal of the government of that country to permit the execution of the contract which Americans hold for the delivery of potash from German mines.

It is asserted that not only is there an enormous consumption of this chemical in dye works, bleaches, and pharmaceutical preparations, soap-making and other industries, but no less than two million American farmers and gardeners, the necessity of using this potash as a fertilizer, and consequently the food supply of the entire country is adversely affected by any restriction upon its importation. The American contractors claim that there is no question of the applicability of the maximum and minimum provisions of the American tariff act to just such cases as this. The department will listen to this presentation, but is not likely to make any fresh representations to Germany for at least a month, as that time must elapse before Mr. Davis, the tariff expert, has been fruitlessly endeavoring to reach a satisfactory arrangement with the German potash people, can return to Washington and inform the department of the details of his work.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVES FAIL

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't suppress the disease, but remove it. Don't use ointments, but use a liquid. Don't encourage them to multiply, but cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about upon its removal. The healing agent is in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMANS OUT. A simple wash. A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Camphor and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription. This penetrates the disease germs and destroys them, and soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A Record Hatpin

French designers have broken all records by selling hatpins with large heads that actually remove the wearer's hair in the breeze. Some of these pins are large enough to contain mirrors, powder puffs, small change and an extra handkerchief. So huge are others that they have hinged mirrors, and the receptacle within, which hold all the articles mentioned above. Guards are made to cover the dangerous point of the hatpin, and these guards also save the pin from loss. Both heads and guards are represented as pheasants, owls, heads or other birds' heads made of gold, silver and gems, the latter taking the place of the bird's eye. Some of the pinheads are three inches across.
