

TELEPHONE BILL DISCUSSED BEFORE CORPORATIONS COMMITTEE

Mr. Skinner Presents Views of Those Opposed to the Bill and Union of Municipalities Was Well Represented—Important Amendment to Clause I

FREDERICTON, March 12.—The corporations committee at this morning's session proceeded with the consideration of the bill to incorporate the St. Andrews Yacht Club, which, after some explanation by Mr. Grimmer, was agreed to.

The committee then took up the consideration of the New Brunswick Telephone Company's bill. J. A. Barry, K. C., appeared for the promoters and Hon. C. N. Skinner represented the interests of those opposed to the bill. The new union of municipalities was represented by Mayor Sears of St. John, the president, and Dr. McNally of Fredericton, the vice-president. Representatives were also present from the towns of Woodstock and Moncton and several other municipalities in the province.

The chairman, Mr. King, said he understood that there was some opposition to the bill, and suggested that the committee hear what they had to say before going into consideration of the matter.

Mr. Sears said that they had learned from experience the great value of public utilities such as the telephone and how necessary it was that any injustice to the community in the use of them should be prevented if possible. While the delegates did not come to teach the legislature how to legislate, they did come to ask for the consideration to which the people are entitled. Public utilities were often abused by the companies operating them, who considered their private interests rather than the public benefit, and he was there to urge that in this case at any rate private interests should be subservient to the public requirements.

Mr. Skinner said the first thing he wished to urge was that now that the telephone business had assumed such large proportions the government should take over the control of it. The business had become such that it ought not to be left in the hands of any company.

The attorney general said that he had already announced that action would be taken for the protection of the public. The request that Mr. Skinner had made that government should take over the business was one of great importance. Had the municipalities considered that question as far as he had heard of them asking for supervision and control of tolls.

Mr. Sears said that a request to that effect could be obtained from every municipality in the province in a day or two at least.

Mr. Skinner, continuing, said the amount to which the company wanted to increase their capital was much too large; $5,000,000 was a sum far beyond the needs of the company. The privileges which were at present enjoyed by some of the smaller companies would be taken away from the smaller ones, and he thought that was a matter which should be considered as the company would become a greater monopoly than ever. In setting up their posts and lines the company should be prohibited from cutting and destroying trees under such penalties as would cause them to exercise some supervision and control of the proposed site of all poles should be indicated and the consent of the municipality should be necessary before allowing any poles, wires or conduits to be placed. If the bill passed in 10 years' time this would be far and away the most valuable franchise in the province, and municipalities had the right to see that they should be allowed to assess the company on its property. No doubt the business of the company was of great public utility, but the company was not in business for the public good but for private gain. The public was willing that this should be so, but the company must pay for it. If the company should be required to run their lines underground there should be a time not exceeding two years in which this should be done. The company should be required to run their lines underground to regulate the height of all poles and wires sought to be put up. The power to regulate tolls was another most important point. Owing to the telephone being a public utility and of such growing importance it was highly necessary that the government should be of safeguard to the interests of the public and to see fair play, consequently those whom we were charged with the government in council or a commission appointed by them should have power to fix the tolls to be charged and should also have power to compel the company to give telephone accommodation to any person desiring it in proximity to the applicant's place. In addition he thought that the company should submit their accounts yearly under oath to the government and all their books and accounts should be open to the inspection of the government auditors.

Mayor Munro of Woodstock then addressed the committee from the point of view of the citizens of that town, and expressed the hope that the committee should report favorably on the bill and those he represented would like to have some idea of what the provisions of the proposed government bill would be. It was only going to be a skeleton without much vitality they might want to press their views further.

The attorney general said that he was very much impressed with what had been said. He recognized that the tele-

ENGLAND REFORMS HER BUSINESS WAYS

The Guildhall Address of the Prince of Wales is Now Bearing Fruit.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A special cable to the Herald from London says: "Wake up England." The now historic oft-repeated phrase with which the Prince of Wales startled and thrilled his hearers at the Guildhall banquet on his return from his great tour through the British colonies, which caused even the immovable sphinx-like face of Joseph Chamberlain to light up with enthusiasm, and which is said to have been the beginning of the inspiration of his "tariff reform" scheme, is now having its effect. A wave of reform in business methods is sweeping over the country. New ideas are being introduced every day in the leading commercial houses and industrial concerns of London. Even the government departments and some of the higher educational societies are bestirring themselves to foster the commerce of the country and equip the newer generation of business men with a scientific knowledge of business.

For instance, the Foreign Office will institute at the end of this month a diplomatic order of "commercial attaches." They will be stationed in the capitals of the world, to seek new markets for British trade, and keep the commercial office of the Board of Trade in close and constant touch with business needs everywhere.

A progressive step has also been taken by the council of the University of Birmingham, which has formed an advisory board of business men, to co-operate with the professors of the faculty of commerce in the study of new methods of commerce, a professor of finance and a professor of accounting, as well as a few leading commercial lawyers, and there are now many students seeking the "Bachelor of Commerce" degree, which the university first granted last year.

The output of commercial literature is increasing enormously. It embraces new treatises, new magazines, new books of all kinds and prices, and new commercial atlases.

An instance of the scientific spirit among London business men is to be seen in the recent formation of a "System Club," which consists of the leading members of various trades, and meets to discuss business problems and new solutions of them. The club has been called "The System Club," and its members are all co-ordinated in a system, which is calculated to lead the members to the most profitable counter where the salesman is waiting with the particular article which the customer requires.

In view of this "waking up" of the commercial world, it is held by many that the time has come when the government should take more active part in the establishment of a minister of commerce. The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Great Britain have been holding their annual conference in London last week, passed a resolution that this had become imperative, and called upon the government to consider without delay such an appointment.

DR. ANGLIN DELIVERS INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE BEFORE NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY ON TREATMENT OF INSANE

Before the Natural History Society Dr. J. V. Anglin, superintendent of the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases, last evening delivered a most instructive and interesting lecture upon the treatment of the insane. Dr. Anglin dealt particularly with the historic aspect of the subject.

Chains, handcuffs, straight jackets and other like instruments were considered necessary. The person to whom the treatment of the insane was largely a matter of the treatment of the insane. Dr. Anglin dealt particularly with the historic aspect of the subject.

Dr. Anglin went on to say that one of the greatest drawbacks to the best work in this province was the general feeling of aversion to an asylum, which is prevalent among the people of the province. This should be changed. The mentally diseased were as others. Though suffering from a peculiar malady, they were able to enjoy the same pleasures, amusements and occupations as ordinary persons were.

At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks to Dr. Anglin was moved by Dr. Matthews, seconded by W. F. Hatheway, and passed unanimously.

A BROKEN REED IN WORLD POLITICS

Russia Cannot be Regarded as a Factor.

Policy of Military Adventure to Escape Domestic Trouble Reversed—Peace Prospects Bright.

LONDON, March 12.—We have been told this week by several serious journals that a complete understanding has been reached between Great Britain and Russia and that a peace league has been formed, a virtually embracing all the great powers except Germany. This news, if confirmed, would be of transcending importance and would be a far more important step than the League of Nations.

Before giving this fact any wider significance than appears on its face it is necessary to ask what reliance can be placed upon Russia as a factor in any international peace policy would be one of great importance could she be relied upon to oppose the aggressive ambitions in the Near East which are commonly ascribed to the Kaiser.

Since that appalling correspondent of The Mail and Empire, writing on the subject, describes the new legislature as more dangerous than the last one. The names of groups such as Social Democrats and Social Revolutionaries are misleading owing to the adoption of the nomenclature of the Extreme Left parties in other Continental chambers. They are all plain revolutionaries. There is no evidence of a Socialism among the masses of the people. The objective ownership of means of production, but rather, all their clamor is for individual personal liberty.

In the face of a large majority of the Douma holding these sentiments Russia has been in a constant state of domestic crisis of greater danger than ever before. That she can play any part in the maintenance of the peace is impossible. That even her moral attitude should be regarded as permanent or representative is absurd.

WOULD NOT GO TO WAR. The present regime would not go to war with anybody or anything, nor can it furnish any useful stiffening to any combination. The question of turning military adventure to escape domestic trouble that stood for a policy in the Japanese case is now reversed. The determined policy of the Czar's friends has been to give the soldiers plenty of money and to make their life as easy as possible. They are very definitely needed at home, and any mobilizing of reserves of war games would simply play into the hands of the revolutionaries. The only way to make Russia a solid factor internationally would be for the Czar to treat the Douma as a body to be consulted on all matters of importance. The people would be so much more loyal to the Czar to treat the Douma as a body to be consulted on all matters of importance.

It will be seen from the foregoing that any estimate ascribing to Russia the importance of a great power or a combination for peace or other wise would be a serious mistake. He would be a foolish prophet who undertook to say what policy or what rule will direct Russian affairs one year or two hence.

NOR UNITY OF SENTIMENT. Nor is there complete unity of sentiment regarding peace measures among the French. France has recently very much Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's proposal in his article in the Nation. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's proposal in his article in the Nation.
