BILTMORE FOREST SCHOOL

BILTMORE, - - NORTH CAROLINA

THE Biltmore Forest School is for the time being the only technical school of lumbering and forestry in the United States. The Biltmore Forest School has four headquarters, viz,—spring quarters in North Carolina, near Biltmore; summer quarters in the lake states, near Cadillac, Michigan; fall quarters on the Pacific side; and winter quarters in the forests of Germany. ¶ The course of instruction covers any and all branches of forestry and lumbering. The auxiliary courses are cut to order for the benefit of the students. No attempt is being made to give a thorough training in general science. The course comprises twelve months at the school, followed by an apprenticeship of six months in the woods, and leads to the degree of Bachelor of Forestry.

YALE UNIVERSITY FOREST SCHOOL

NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT, U. S. A.

A two years' course in forestry is offered leading to the degree of Master of Forestry.

The Forest School is a graduate department of Yale University requiring for admission a college training. Graduates of universities, colleges, or scientific institutions of high standing are admitted upon presentation of their diplomas, provided they have taken courses in the following subjects in their undergraduate work: at least one full year in college or University Botany, and at least one course in Zoology, Physics, Inorganic Chemistry, Geology, Economics, Mechanical Drawing, French or German and the completion of Mathematics through Trigonometry.

Candidates for advanced standing may take examinations in any subject but are required in addition to present evidence of a specified amount of work done in the field or laboratory.

The school year begins in early July and is conducted at the school camp at MILFORD, Pennsylvania.
