

fold duties he had imposed upon himself it was hard to decide whether to remain as a fighting unit on the hill top, or to continue his rescues and then return to his wife and child who could not be left indefinitely.