

poor, are not able to build one. The priest who is charged with their spiritual care resides about thirty miles from the greater number of them, and he cannot possibly minister efficiently to them, for want of a church in which they might assemble. It would be at least as great a charity to come to the spiritual aid of those poor Catholics as it would be to help to bring the light of the Gospel to the heathen; for the first care and dearest wish of our Holy Mother the Church is to protect the faith, and to save the souls of the children of her womb. They have the first and strongest claims on her maternal solicitude. If desired, we would send half of the alms to the Holy Father for the schools of the East, and we would devote the other half to the construction of a modest frame church in Leamington, where we have already secured a suitable site for the purpose. We request of the reverend clergy to send the alms of the Jubilee to Rev. M. Tiernan, of London, with the expression of their desire as to the object for which the alms should be applied; and their wishes shall be carefully carried out in the matter.

5th. Visits to be made to churches. In the city of London the faithful will visit three times the Cathedral, and three times also St. Mary's Church. Outside of this city the faithful should visit six times the church in their respective missions. Members of religious communities and their pupils who are boarders shall visit six times the convent chapel.

6th. Prayers to be said during these visits according to the intentions of His Holiness, for the following objects:—

(a.) For the prosperity and exaltation of the Catholic Church and for the Holy See.

(b.) For the extirpation of heresies and the conversion of all who are in error.

(c.) For concord amongst Christian princes, and for peace and union amongst all the faithful. At each visit the beads or the Litany of Loretto may be recited, or the way of the Cross performed for the aforesaid intentions.

II. The indulgence may be applied by way of suffrage to the souls in purgatory.
