CARTWRIGHT'S SPEECH

THE LIBERAL CAMPAIGN OP-ENED IN TORONTO.

He Favors an Alliance Between Great Britain and the United States, Based on a Zollverein.

Toronto, Dec. 11 .- Sir Richard Cartwright for almost an hour and half discussed domestic affairs, Canada's expansion under Liberal rule, the reasons for and results of increased Government expenditure, the census of 1801, the national debt, and the Gov ernment's railway policy; then for half an hour he spoke of Imperial trade issues, advocating an Anglo-Am erican alliance to be brought about by British zollverein and its consequent tax upon American farm exports. The end he desired was the consolidation of the empire, and beone that an Anglo-American alliance for political and commercial purposes The United States had placed their trade in Britain's hands because $70. oco,000 more than half their exports were to the British Empire. Sir, I think Mr. Chamberlain sees that the selfish policy of the United States has resulted in a very extraordinary condition of things, and has put High aims form high characters, great objects bring out great YOUNG LADIES, READ THIS., dinary condition of things, and has put a very great power into the hands of the people of Great Britain if they choose to use it. The trade relations now existing between Great Britain and the United States are worthy of the most serious consideration. I have here a list of the exports, and I invite your attention to them. The United States in 1903 exported $1.420, 200,000 worth of goods, chiefly food products. As you know, their goods are imported free into Great Britain. At any rate, as you know the trade from Great Britain to the United States has been cut down by prohibitory legislation to such a point that only some £20,000,000, or about one-sixth or one-seventh part of the amount Great Britain imports free, has been exported to the United States. Now, sir, there are three courses, to my mind, open to the people of Great Britain. on Wheat. London, Dec. 11.-Mr. H. H. Asuith, speaking at Bradford yester day, said that there was not the lightest chance within a measurable period for the empire to supply its own wheat. Canada exported three and one-half million quarters, whereas we need 26,000,000. A preferential duty of two shillings on Canadian wheat would not increase Canada's population four-fold. Canada's offer shut out any prospect of preference in the things which Canada could supply her self. To transfer the source of our food supply from without to within the empire was fraught with danger.

London, Dec. 11.—Sir Frederick Borden, interviewed by London papers re Mr. Sifton's speech, said that neither the Canadian Government nor any of its Ministers had any intention of obtruding their views on the question of preferential tariff.
