A COMMON ERROR.

"What was the greatest mistake you ever made in your life?" asked the youthful seeker after knowledge.

"It happened when I was a very young man, and consisted of thinking I couldn't make any," replied the old codger.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

SHARE FARMING.

I wish to have my 150-acre farm worked on shares. There are 100 acres of tillable land, clean, and in good condition, 30 acres in permanent pasture, with running water, 20 acres bush with some pasture. I have a barn with high stone basement which stables 25 head of cattle and 8 horses, a power windmill is on the barn, and a 100-ton cement silo is on the place. There is also a hay barn and pigpen, and separate henhouse. The stock consists of 15 milch cows, 4 brood sows, and the usual implements. The man would be expected to supply the horses. What would you consider my share of the profits should be, and what portion of the expense, the man to get free use of house, firewood, milk and butter, and the keep of 50 hens?

W. G. N.

Ans.—It is difficult for us, not knowing the circumstances in every detail, to suggest a perfectly equitable basis of agreement. In working farms on shares, the apportionment of expenses borne and proceeds received by the tenant, commonly runs from one-third to forty per cent., thirty-five per cent. being a fair average. According to this plan, the owner, besides furnishing land, buildings, live stock and implements, pays 65 per cent. of the taxes and repairs, and receives 65 per cent. of all proceeds. The tenant does all the work, including the hiring of help, bears 35 per cent. of the expenses and receives 35 per cent. of the proceeds. This plan, or one resembling it, would doubtless be satisfactory on your farm. The tenant having to supply the horses, perhaps his share should be a little higher, and something about the 40 per cent. might be nearer right.

MAMMITIS—SOWING ONION SEED.

1. About two months ago I noticed that the back part of the udder of one of my cows was quite swollen, the milk was full of mucous, and a little curdy. Now the trouble is extending to the forward part, and the milk is not fit for use from any part of the udder. There is a hard lump above two of the teats on the inside. You cannot see it, but can feel it. I bathed it with both hot and cold water, and put fresh lard and salted butter on it, and a few applications of Caustic Balsam, but it does not improve. Please tell me what is the cause and cure. The cow seems healthy in every other way, and is eleven years old. I might mention that she had a very bad attack of it two years ago, and we could not use the milk for two months. We had a veterinary to treat her.

2. Would you advise me to plant onion seed now, so it would have a good start by spring, or would it be better in the spring?

M. J. B.

Ans.—1. The cow is suffering from mammitis, or garget. This trouble is induced in many ways, as irregular milking, wounds or bruises, sudden changes of weather, heat and cold operations alternately, wading through water, and many other bad conditions. It often occurs without appreciable cause. This is particularly the case in cows with tubercular disease of the udder. The recurrence of this in your cow indicates this trouble, and we would suggest that you have her tested with the tuberculin test. Prevention consists in good care and regular milking. Curative treatment consists in administering a purgative of Epsom salts, applying hot poultices to the udder, milking four or five times daily, and after milking rubbing well with camphorated oil. Feed lightly.

2. Early spring is the best time to plant the onion seed.

The attention of Ayrshire breeders and dairymen generally is called to the new advertisement of Alex. Hume & Co., Menie, Ont., who offer for sale young bulls and females from their noted herd of Ayrshires, which ranks among the very best in the Dominion for prize-winning material and for dairy production. Yorkshire pigs are also a specialty of this firm, and in this line their stock is up to a high standard.
