

Get rid of them and help make your home and premises sanitary by the liberal use of Tanglefoot Fly Paper. There is fully one-third more compound per sheet on Tanglefoot than on any other fly paper; hence it lasts longest, catches the most flies and is the best and cheapest fly paper. If you ask for "fly paper" or "sticky fly paper" you may get a cheap imitation that will soon dry up or glaze over. Ask for Tanglefoot.

Sold by Grocers and Druggists.

THE SPICE OF LIFE.

"Thomas," said mother, severely, "some one has taken a big piece of ginger cake out of the pantry."

Tommy blushed guiltily.

"O, Thomas," she exclaimed, "I didn't think it was in you!"

"It ain't all," replied Tommy, "part of it's in Elsie."

DID HIS BEST.

The difference, not merely of degree, but of kind, which is supposed to separate the English rector from the inferior order of curates, is exemplified by a recent incident. Returning to his parish after his autumn holiday, a dignified country clergyman, noticing a woman at her cottage door with a baby in her arms, asked: "Has that baby been baptized?"

"Well, sir," replied the courtesying mother, "I shouldn't like to say as much as that, but your young man came and did what he could."

TOUGH FRUIT.

Annoyed by a continuous noise, as of small, shifting stones, Mrs. Ames stepped to the kitchen door, and caught her green maid in the act of casting an oyster in the shell on a heap of its brothers in the corner of the iron sink.

"Why, Bridget, what are you doing?" she cried.

"Did ye not give me this," demanded Bridget, holding up an oyster-knife with a hand bleeding at every knuckle, "an' tell me to prepare these f'r dinner?"

"Yes, but—"

"Faith, an' I'm thrying to, but they're mighty hard to peel!"

A clergyman was about to leave his church one evening when he encountered an old lady examining the carving on the font.

Finding her desirous of seeing the beauties of the church, he volunteered to show her over, and the flustered old lady, much gratified at this unexpected offer of a personally-conducted tour, shyly accepted it. By and by they came to a handsome tablet on the right of the pulpit.

"That," explained the good man, "is a memorial tablet erected to the memory of the late vicar."

"There, now! Ain't it beautiful?" exclaimed the admiring old lady, still flustered and anxious to please. "And I'm sure, sir, I 'ope it won't be long afore we see one erected to you on t'other side."

An Old Country farmer was paid for the first time in his life by check.

"What's this?" he said.

"Why, brass for the beasts," said the cattle-dealer.

The farmer stared, and had to be assured that if he took it to the bank they would give him gold for it.

"Well," said he, "aw'll try, but if it's a wrong 'un tha'll hear about it."

The check was cashed, of course, and the farmer went home happy, but could not sleep. He had seen a wonderful thing, and it had excited him. As soon as day broke he made for the cattle-dealer's house and woke the dealer.

"It's me," he said. "Where's ta got them bits of paper from? Aw cud do wi' half a dozen myself!"

Jimmy bit his pencil, and looked at the ceiling. It was less wearying than trying to write an essay on Henry VIII. But suddenly the sharp voice of the teacher broke in upon his reverie. "Two minutes more!" she rapped out. Jimmy had to write something. So he set to work, and evolved the following: "Henry VIII. was King of England, and the greatest widower that never was. He was born at a place called Anne Domine, and he had three hundred and fifty wives. The first was beheaded, and the third died, and then he married Ann Bullfinch. Henry VIII. was succeeded in the throne by his grandchild, Mary, Queen of Scots, who was married to the Lord of the Lake, or the Lord of the Lake. He was beheaded at Westminster Abbey by the Archbishop of York."
