PUTTING IT STRONG.

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme, or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after-dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight, temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now, how can the stomach become rested, recuperated, and at the same time the body nourished and sustained?

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia, according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak, yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished, and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much-abused stomach will be given to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money.

to save them from their sins. But, while we pity their ignorance and deplore their blindness, we might well imitate them in their recognition of God in their daily life. We are too prone to keep religion for Sundays, and to banish the thought of God from our minds when we are about our daily tasks. We are slow to believe that our work would be better done if we learned to "practise" constantly the "presence of God," and did all things as "in the Great Taskmaster's eye." If we honoured the Lord in our places of business, or of toil, and in all the social intercourse of our lives, He would surely honour us and make all our work more fruitful of blessing.

In a busy life it may be impossible to seek special places or to set aside certain hours for prayer. We may pray as we work. There is an inner sanctuary into which we may enter in all times of need, difficulty, or danger, and find the help we want. In hours of toil or sorrow, in weariness of body or of mind, the heart knows perfect rest that has learned to stay itself upon the Lord, who is never far from any one of us.—Eglanton Thorne.

"BE CAREFUL FOR NOTHING."

Hast thou within a care so deep,
It chases from thine eyelid sleep?
To thy Redeemer take that care,
And change anxiety to prayer.

Hast thou a hope with which thy heart

Would almost feel it death to part?
Entreat thy God that hope to crown—
Or give thee strength to lay it down.

Hast thou a friend whose image dear
May prove an idol worshipped here?
Implore the Lord that nought may be
A shadow between heaven and thee.

Whate'er the care which breaks thy rest, Whate'er the wish that swells thy breast,
Spread before God that wish, that care,
And change anxiety to prayer.

of course your nose is broken;
but take this can of Nestlé's Food home to Baby Brother, and you will feel ever so much better."

Nestlé's Food has been the standard infant's diet for forty years. It nourishes the child so that the in-noted. It contains the right elements of nutrition, so combined that it closely approximates mother's milk.

The danger of cow's milk is avoided.
It requires the addition of water only (no milk) in preparation, as the basis of Nestlé's Food is the purest cow's milk, properly modified.

WHAT THE MINISTER SAYS

Is Most Convincing.

"I thought I would write you what Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I had a most aggravated case of bleeding piles; indeed, I dreaded when I had to go to stool. One fifty cent box cured me. I feel like a new man. I have recommended it to others as being the most wonderful remedy known. It is, indeed, a great blessing to suffering humanity. You are at liberty to use this for all it is worth, and I hope it may do good." Rev. W. E. Carr, 355 No. Holbrook Street, Danville, Va.

Clergymen (like all professional men who lead sedentary lives) are especially addicted to piles, in various forms, and are continually on the lookout for a remedy which will give relief, with little or no idea of obtaining a cure.

Recognizing this fact, Rev. Mr. Carr consents to the use of his name in order that other sufferers may know there is a cure called Pyramid Pile Cure, which is sold by druggists everywhere for the low price of fifty cents a package, and which will bring about for every one afflicted with piles the same beneficial results as in his own case. Be careful to accept no substitutes, and remember that there is no remedy "just as good."

A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and will be sent free for the asking. All sufferers are advised to write for it, as it contains valuable information on the subject of piles.

THE RATTLER'S CALL.

"What is the rattlesnake's rattle for?" Walter asked of the zoo keeper.

"It is a call," he answered, "with which it calls its mate. A man was telling me the other day that he studied the rattle question last year in the West. He said it is mainly as a call that the rattle is used, though different sounds can be made with it and these
