COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

Nearly twenty cattle have disappeared from the vicinity of Sand Hill, and it is thought that they have been stolen and shipped to the U. S. They were grazing on the roads and may have caught the eye of a dishonest drover.

More than half the population of the world is ruled by two women—Queen Victoria and the Empress of China—and then there are besides the henpecked husbands, leaving the margin of thoroughly emancipated men exceedingly small.

Many a pale, weak school girl, suffering the evil effects of an exhausted nervous system, and thin, watery blood, has been fully restored to the vigor and buoyancy of robust health, by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. The healthful glow on the cheek and the brightness in the eye tell of the building up process which is taking place in the body.

WANTED—A pair of suspenders for the breeches of promise. A barber to shave the face of the earth. A bar for the bed of the ocean, and another for the cradle of the deep. A dentist to work on the jaws of death. Sea horses to feed from the trough of the sea. A few seeds from the flower of speech. A pair of corsets for the waste of time.

The other day Mr. John Waechter of Greenock met with a serious accident which has since confined him to the house. It appears that he was returning from Brant township, and on the towline between Brant and Greenock his horses became fractious and broke the neckyoke so that the pole of the democrat fell to the ground and brought the vehicle to a standstill. The horses becoming disengaged started for home leaving Mr. Waechter, who had been hitched out, lying on the road insensible. In this condition he was found an hour or two afterwards and conveyed home, where he is now under the Dr's. care. Besides a severe general skaking of the system, he has a small bone in his shoulder broke.

Mr. Haight, who is known to his neighbors as a plain, honest, unassuming farmer, but thoughtful, progressive, and the possessor of great mechanical skill. In all respects we might describe him as an up-to-date agriculturist. With many others, he believes, for performing the heavier duties about the barn buildings such as cutting feed, pumping water, sawing wood and pulping turpines, in utilizing the cheapest power we possess, that furnished by the wind. With this purpose in view he purchased one of those splendid machines sold by the Aermotor Company of Chicago and with this he operates all his stationary machinery. But these comparatively simple achievements did not altogether satisfy Mr. Haight. The thought struck him, why not use wind power for the operation of moving machinery well, something in the same way as gasoline is used in propelling the horseless carriage? After long study and patient experiment, our friend has perfected apparatus by which he can use windpower to operate and cut hay with his new McCormick mower. The mechanical arrangement, by which he succeeds in doing this, is, as great inventions usually are, exceedingly simple and practicable. It is understood that he will take immediate steps to secure patents in all civilized countries of the globe. The possibilities of this new discovery are indeed amazing. It is as plain as the multiplication table that other farming implements can be operated equally as well. Thus we may confidently look forward to the time when the farmer who has hitherto borne about ten tenths of the White Man's Burden can sit in his cushioned chair and by simply pulling the lever invoke the winds to his aid both at seed time and harvest and enable him to live the life of a gentleman and avoid those slavish duties which have up to present made him little better than a hewer of wood and a drawer of water.

BORN

DIED—In Carrick, on May 26th, the wife of Martin Diebold, of a son.

Additional Locals,

—Miss Carrie Faupel and Miss Sarah Fink returned from Buffalo on Saturday.

—Mildmay baseball club goes to Clifford on Dominion Day to play the club of that town.

—Miss Allie Curle attended a wedding at Harriston on Wednesday.

—Miss Annie Moyer, who has been in Paisley for the past four months, has resigned her position and returned to her home here.

—Mr. Robert Edmanson jr has returned home from South Africa where he has been for the past four years selling mining stock. On his way home he visited many of the larger cities in Europe.

—Mr. D. Culliton called at the office to-day and expressed his disapproval at the action of the Government for spraying his neighbor's trees free of charge and chasing the pests over to his orchard. The line fence between Mr. Lewis' farm and Mr. Culliton's is covered with crawlers and they are making a bee line for Denny's orchard. Furthermore he wishes the Government to distinctly understand that he wants it stopped at once.

Wm. Barnett, who was sentenced by Judge Barrett to ten days in jail for jumping over the jail wall, was released from jail on Tuesday. It was at first supposed that he would have to put in the full time of his original sentence, but through the representatives of Mr. Dixon, John Tolmie, M. P. and others the Governor-General directed Barnett's discharge from further custody.

An ostrich farm is being established near Toronto. The farm at Pasadena, Cal., now contains 200 birds. The hen lays an egg every other day. The eggs weigh three pounds each and are equal to 30 hen's eggs. The feathers bring a big price and each ostrich produces $30 worth a year.

As is usual in the early part of May when preparations are being made for the coming of new wool clip on the market, great interest is taken in the prospects presented for this important industry. The outlook is anything but reassuring. To begin with, it is estimated that 75 per cent. of the clip of last year is still held in this Province. A good deal of this wool was purchased from 16c to 18c and the highest price bid for it to-day in this market is 13c. Not only is the bulk of last year's clip still held in Ontario by parties who a year ago expected to be able to sell it at a profit soon after it was purchased, but a Canadian exporter has at an American point a large lot of the 1897 clip, which he was able to get across the line before the Dingley duty took effect, and for which, notwithstanding the fact that it has the advantage of not having to carry the 12 per cent. duty which the 1898 clip would have to pay, there is practically no market in the United States and it remains to-day unsold.

On Monday morning as Detective Heffernan was crossing the lower bridge, Walkerton, he noticed a woman jump into a river at a point behind Frank Ritchie's house. Thinking that that she had made the plunge to save a child from drowning he made all haste and in a minute or two was on the scene. When he arrived at the spot he found a woman floundering in the water which at that point was only two or three feet deep, and immediately hauled her ashore. On being questioned she admitted that her intention was to commit suicide; the fact of the attempt being unsuccessful being entirely due to the timely arrival of Mr. Heffernan. She declined giving any reasons for the act and such can only be conjectured. Her name is Miss McNeil of Paisley and she has lately been visiting in the house formerly occupied by Mrs. McConnell, west of Lee's mill. As it is unlawful for a person to take their own life or attempt to do so, an information was laid by constable Millons before Justice McNamara in the absence of the police magistrate.—Herald.
