SPORTING COMMENT

BY FREE LANCE

The Varsity rugby players are not ladies' men, so they shouldn't fall for the Queen's at Kingston on Saturday.

Sporting Life says that Enos Kirkpatrick, utility fielder of the Brooklyn Club, will be turned over to the Toronto Club next season. Kirkpatrick was formerly with Newark in the International League.

The O.H.A. annual convention will be held in Toronto on Saturday, Dec. 6, not Friday, the 5th, as has been stated. Nominations for office close next Saturday with the secretary, W. A. Hewitt, Daily Star, Toronto.

It is said that the Paris O. H. A. intermediates do not want to be grouped with the London team this winter. Their claim is founded on the fact that there is little money to be made out of the game by not being able to win their district each season.

It is altogether likely that Woodstock College Athletic Association will enter a team in the junior series of the O. H. A. this coming season. The committee is looking into the matter, and a decision is looked for in a few days. Should Woodstock College decide to enter it would materially weaken the Woodstock juniors, as two or three of the collegians are expected to play with the city team.

London Free Press: Reuter, one of the best junior O. H. A. goal-keepers, is in the city, employed at the Bank of Commerce, and will be among the youngsters to try out with the locals this winter. Reuter played with the Galt juniors in 1911 at the age of 16, and was then considered one of the stars of the game. A lad from Clinton is also in the city who will try for a forward position on the juniors, besides Gray of Peterboro, who made a good impression as a junior last season.

At a meeting of the International Boxing Union held Wednesday night in Paris (not Paris, Ont.), the world's heavyweight championship was declared vacant on the grounds of Jack Johnson's conviction in the American courts and his repeated refusal to fight. The Toronto Star, commenting upon the situation, says: "The most amusing incident in years in the pugilistic world is the decision reached in Paris last night to declare the heavyweight championship of the world vacant because of the so-called criminal record of Jack Johnson and his unwillingness to fight. The International Boxing Union is a very imposing name, but the organization is not representative and has no authority or right to deprive a man of a championship. The whole thing savors of the comic opera stage and will not be taken seriously in any country in the world. Until he is defeated or retires voluntarily, Jack Johnson will always be recognized as the champion."

Hamilton Spectator: Ban Johnson's suggestion that the world's series baseball contests be extended to nine games, with a reduction in the present prices of admission charged, will find a ready response in the wishes of many fans, although there are many others who feel that the seven-game arrangement is fully sufficient to demonstrate the relative abilities of the contenders. For all that, we will give Czar Johnson credit for one timely thought, and that is a reduction in prices. Baseball is the greatest game in the world to-day from a financial standpoint, and why tax the public outrageous prices at world's series contests? But for the public and the newspapers where would the club-owners and directors come in? While suggestions are in line, why not give the players a little more of the receipts? They are the ones whom the directors look to bring good returns for their investment. They get them, too, you may be sure. A nine-game series might not appeal to the various clubs in the league, and then there is always the possibility of bad weather conditions. A good many followers of the game feel the same as Johnson, that four out of seven games is not enough to settle the question of supremacy, basing their argument on the series between the Boston and the Giants in 1912. Some were of the opinion that the Giants might have won that series, especially in view of the fact that they outplayed the Red Sox, errors at critical times costing them the championship, this especially being true when Snodgrass dropped that memorable fly in the deciding game.

There are wheels within wheels just now in Canadian League developments. President Mahoney of Guelph says if he keeps the franchise his club will go to Erie, Pa. At the last Canadian League meeting Mr. Mahoney was offered $3200 for his club, but refused. The Berlin owners refused $3000 for the franchise. Youngstown, Ohio, wants to get in the new circuit, while there is a strong possibility of teams being placed in Buffalo, Rochester and Toronto, a move which was unheard of until the new Federal League precipitated its irrad of organized baseball in this territory. President Nelson is strongly of the opinion that the Canadian League finally will be composed of London, Ottawa, Hamilton, Toronto, Buffalo, Rochester, and one other big city, possibly Erie. This may not eventuate this year, but it leaves Brantford out of it. Of course a new league could be formed on a smaller scale, with the nucleus of Canadian cities.

Whatever happens, President Nelson has the goodwill of every present Canadian League owner. He will sell voluntarily if the deal goes through. No pressure has been brought to bear on Brantford to get out of the league. In fact, it is figured that this is a good town, and it was never more fully exemplified than last year. Brantford drew fourth in attendance last year, beating out Hamilton, Guelph, St. Thomas and Berlin by a big margin. Ottawa, London and Peterboro got the money in the order named. The showing made by Brantford, a tail-end proposition, has undoubtedly proved impressive to other magnates, who consider the Brantford franchise a good investment, whether it remains here or is transferred to a bigger town.

There is scarcely a fan in town who wants to see Brantford lose Canadian League ball, and undoubtedly an effort will be made to have Mr. Nelson dispose of his holdings locally rather than to an outside party. It is figured that a joint stock company would make a big success of the club. President Nelson is not disposed to take hasty action in the matter. In fact, last night he announced that it would not be definitely known until Monday what action would be taken.

One thing is sure, the league will be on a bigger scale next year than ever, and it will require some hustling to get out in front. It would be a great boost for Brantford to win a pennant and a great advertisement. For this reason many business men are loath to see the game leave Brantford.

MAY PULL TEAM OUT FROM CITY

President Nelson Goes to Toronto To-day Re Sale of Club.

Important Developments Expected in Course of Few Days.

Fans Here May Form Company to Retain Club in City.

President T. J. Nelson of the Brantford Baseball Club is in Toronto to-day, in connection with negotiations, as reported exclusively in the Courier last night, which may mean the removal of the Canadian League franchise from this city. Either one of two things may happen, and Mr. Nelson does not himself know which will eventuate. Either the franchise will be sold to Toronto parties, who will keep it in Brantford, or it will be removed from this city as a result of the projected sale to the same parties. There is a strong feeling among Brantford Club officials that if the franchise is sold it will be "Good night" to Canadian League ball for the Telephone City.

There are wheels within wheels just now in Canadian League developments. President Mahoney of Guelph says if he keeps the franchise his club will go to Erie, Pa. At the last Canadian League meeting Mr. Mahoney was offered $3200 for his club, but refused. The Berlin owners refused $3000 for the franchise. British Firm Gets Canadian Contract

More Than a Million for Extensive Canal Work in Canada.

According to a despatch from Ottawa the contract for the second section of the new Welland Canal has been awarded to an English firm, Messrs. Baldry, Yerbrough and Hutchinson. The contract is for £1,100,000.

The firm which has secured the contract are well known as railway and general contractors. Their London offices are at 21 Queen Ann's Gate, S. W., and their works are at Arlington House, Quarry-lane, Mansfield, Nottinghamshire.

Marquis Durazzo, Italian consul for Canada for the past two years, is going to Berne, Switzerland, to become First Secretary of the Italian Legation there. His place is being taken by Signor Gualtero.

Buffalo Athletes Threaten Boycott

Toronto Contingent Receive Letter Asking Them to Hold Off.

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Owing to the fact that the 65th Regiment have announced only two foot races for their indoor meet to be held on the 14th, the Buffalo athletes are up in arms, and threaten to give the meet the go-by unless a regular program is issued. With this end in view they have written the Toronto men to hold off until such time as a settlement is arrived at. Jack Tait and Mel Brock are entered to run in the half mile event, and owing to the fair treatment the Toronto boys have always received from the officials of the 65th Regiment, they are loath to default on account of the local trouble.

The All-Toronto relay team is booked to meet the All-New York team in Buffalo on New Year's night.

WHITE SOX LOST TO THE GIANTS

New York Garnered Seven-teen Hits Off Pitcher Leverenz.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 7.—The Giants yesterday nipped Walter Leverenz for a barrel of hits and enough runs to make the score against the White Sox 14 to 5. Wiltse was fairly good, but any hit missed by an outfielder usually went for a home run, and thus five were accumulated during the matinee. As the stifled atmosphere prevented curves, Leverenz was helpless, as that was all he had and his batters were straightened out every inning. The score—White Sox 5, Giants 14.

THE hero of "Brewster's Millions," who sent his typewriter to Tiffany's for repairs is not different from the extravagance of some men in paying $35.00 for clothes such as we sell at $25.00.

THERE might be some reason for their paying $35.00 if they could buy finer woollens—but they can't. If they could get smarter colors or patterns—but they can't. If they could get finer style—but they can't. If they could get finer fit or more "individuality"—but they can't.
