Casadepega Head. This remarkable looking rock is known as a schist, which is weathered and crumbled into a human expression which is startling. Not only is there a distinct resemblance to a man's profile but the head is apparently dressed in a pair of the style of the last century such as the soldiers of Cornwallis wore. The rock is located on the top of a 2,000-foot hill on Seaward peninsula, Alaska, and is called by the natives the Big Head, or the Casadepega Head. The face is about eight feet high.

True Meaning of "Boomerang." Boomerang has beaten all records of words turned inside out. The term does not convey the idea of retribution, as the boomerang returns not at the thrower's peril, but to his further use. No Australian would make that blunder. Colonel Miles, the allied expeditionary forces' chief chaplain during the war, used the term right when he declared: "We are your boomerang, hung out by you to conquer a continent and now returning to your feet for another throw."

Russian Sturgeon Fisheries. Sturgeons of various species are especially abundant in Russia, where the sturgeon fisheries are of great value. The fish is eaten when fresh, but is chiefly used in the preserved form, either smoked or salted. More than 10,000 fish are sometimes caught at a single fishing station during the upstream migration, which lasts for a fortnight. The eggs are removed in quantity from the ovaries and separately prepared as "caviare."

Habit of Horned Toads. Horned toads are harmless, never trying to bite, even when taken into the hand. But they have a habit, perhaps as a means of defense, of spitting a little jet of blood from the eye when disturbed. One will thus eject first from one eye and then from the other a drop of blood to a distance of 12 to 15 inches, repeating this several times.

Harnesses Sun's Rays. An experimenter in the Royal College of Science in Toronto claims that he has found a way to harness the sun's heat to industrial tasks of almost any nature. For instance, by his experiments with mirror combinations he has focused reflected rays so as to melt a bar of lead at a temperature below freezing to a depth of one and a half inches in 45 seconds.

How Cloves Are Cured. In the Spice Islands the cloves are sometimes cured by being smoked over a wood fire until they assume a deep brown color, when the further drying is accomplished by the sun. Occasionally the buds are scalded before being dried. It is bright sunny days prevail and the buds are dried from first to last. The crop loses about 50 per cent in drying.

A Man's Manners. What is a man's manners plus me to the wall, with another I walk among the stars.

The Difference. Boost, don't boast. One gets ahead by the other doesn't—Memorable Commercial Appeal.

Optimistic Thought. A man's good name is his best investment.

Consecration Restrictions. The Nazarene, during the term of his consecration, was bound to abstain from every production of the vine and from every kind of intoxicating drink. He was forbidden to cut the hair of his head or to approach any dead body, even that of his nearest relation.

Cuckoo Superstition. In some parts of England, when the first note of the cuckoo is heard in the woods, every village girl asks the question, "Cuckoo! Cuckoo! When shall I be married?" The bird, in answer, is supposed to sound as many notes as years will elapse before the happy event takes place.

Why Cat's Eyes Shine in Dark. "What causes a cat's eyes to shine in the dark?" Many explanations have been offered in the past, but scientists now hold that invisible rays are transferred by some chemical action into visible rays at the instant of reflection of the eyes of the animal.

Just the Difference. Irene asked her playmate, Rose, why she put an apron over her doll's new dress, and Rose replied that she put it on to keep the dress clean. Irene then exclaimed, "Why, I always put an apron on my doll to hide the dirt."

Man and Money. A Fort Scott preacher, talking about riches last Sunday, told his people that it isn't a question of the amount of money a man has, but of the amount of man the money has.

Why He Felt Good. Daughter—"Papa went off in great good humor this morning." Mother—"Mercy! That reminds me I forgot to ask him for any money."

The Oughts and the Others. "How you gettin on wid yonah 'Ribboned Lou'?" "Well, I done learned to add up de oughts, but de fuggers bodder me."
