Wonderful Vaudeville at the Nicklet Theatre

These popular caterers, Messrs. Hiltz & Clark certainly deserve great credit for their enterprise in providing such high-class turns as we have seen and heard this week at the Nicklet Theatre. In engaging Private Ballard Brown—the popular actor-baritone of the 193rd Battalion—they have secured an artiste of international repute. Private Ballard Brown hails from Bonny Scotland, and a braw lad he looms in his native costume and his small assistant, Master Eric Galloway, scores a great triumph in his military manoeuvres. Private Ballard Brown has performed in all parts of the world including Australia, South Africa and in every large town in Great Britain where he is a headline in the Vaudeville world. He left a profession to which was commanding him a large salary to fight for his King and country, and Messrs. Clark and Hiltz deserve all economies for presenting to us this distinguished artist.

Miss Madge Locke—the most versatile of dancers and singers entertains us better every time we see her and her stories are certainly so clever as to make her a distinct novelty and her repertoire seems almost endless.

Tonight (Friday) the recent great world's championship boxing bout between Jess Willard and Frank Moran will be shown at 9 o'clock or after the termination of regular show. Remember the regular show begins as usual at 7.30 at which the usual prices of admission is charged. The admission for the fight pictures will be 25c.

"Ballard Brown" and "Madge Locke" close their engagement this week, new and distinct novelties are booked for next week. Watch for announcement.

AGRICULTURE MEETINGS

The Sheep Industry and Its Development

A series of meetings at which Sheep Raising will be discussed by competent men from the Dominion Live Stock Department will be held in Kings County commencing July 10th. These meetings are being held under the auspices of the Kings County Farmers Association.

The sheep industry in its different phases will be fully dealt with. The object is to assist in giving practical information that may enable farmers to increase their sheep flocks to best advantage.

Farmers generally should avail themselves of this opportunity to get the best possible information relating to this important branch of live stock. The meetings are being arranged at considerable expense and can be of value to the farmer only by him taking an interest in them. It is hoped that those in and adjoining the community where the meetings are being held will assist in making the attendance as large as possible.

Meetings will be held at the following places commencing at 7.30 p. m.:

- July 10th.—South Alton.
- July 11th.—Upper Percu.
- July 12th.—Gaspereau.
- July 13th.—No. Kingston.
- July 14th.—Harmony.
- July 15th.—Morristown.
- July 17th.—Lake George.
- July 18th.—Burlington.
- July 19th.—Prospect.
- July 20th.—Woodville.
- July 21st.—Whites Cor
