IN THE TOILS

In a very short time after the discovery of the burglary in Athens reported last week, suspicion was directed to two young men of the village, Maurice Foley and John Ross, who had disappeared during the night, and Chief Burke of Brockville was wired a description of the pair. Enquiry disclosed the fact that the young men had crossed to Morristown on the early ferry and a message was sent to the police at Watertown, with the result that they were arrested in the evening.

The prisoners made no attempt at a denial of their identity and are reported to have made a clean breast of the whole affair. They were attired in some of the stolen clothing when arrested.

Under the handcar which they left near Brockville was a quantity of clothing, including their old clothing which they had exchanged for new, and miscellaneous articles of merchandise, totalling about $75. Mr. H. H. Arnold went to Brockville and identified a quantity of the goods as his property.

The prisoners, on learning that the U. S. authorities could proceed against them for bringing stolen goods into the country, offered no objections to returning and were brought to Brockville and locked up. On Saturday morning they received a preliminary hearing before R. G. Murphy, J. P., and were committed for trial on the charge of burglarizing Arnold's store.

On Monday the prisoners were again brought before Magistrate Murphy and evidence offered regarding the burglary of the stores of Messrs Beach and Lamb. On these charges they were committed to stand their trial. Action for the B. W. & N. W. burglary was not read. At noon the prisoners appeared before His Honor Judge McDonald and pleaded guilty to the burglarizing of the three stores. On entering the plea each was remanded until Tuesday, Sept. 8, for sentence.

The freedom enjoyed by the boys was brief, and makes plain the fact that escaping the consequences of wrong-doing in this day and age is not an easy matter.

WEBSTER—MORRIS

A marriage in which many Athenians took a pleased interest was celebrated at the home of Mr and Mrs Jacob Morris, Henry street, on Monday morning, when their daughter, Miss Minnabel, was united in wedlock to Mr Matthew G. Webster of Ottawa.

The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. F. A. Read, took place in presence of only near relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was deservedly held in high esteem here where her whole life has been passed. As a teacher in the village school, Miss Morris made a record unexcelled, and in the social and religious circles of the village her presence and services were highly valued.

On the conclusion of a tour including a visit to Toronto, Owen Sound, Fort William, they will take up residence in Ottawa.

The Reporter has pleasure in extending congratulations and best wishes to Mr and Mrs Webster.

INCENDIARY AT FRANKVILLE

A Frankville despatch of August 31 says: A disastrous fire took place on Saturday morning about eight on the farm owned by Henry Johnston of Watson, Sask., but occupied the last four or five years by Wm. Curtis whereby all the outbuilding together with their contents were destroyed. Nearly all the season's crops were under cover. A tramp is blamed for it as on Friday evening one applied to Mr Curtis for lodging but was refused. On Saturday morning when he went to his horse stable he found the tramp in the hay mow and ordered him from the premises, he left making threats that he would make it hot for him. Curtis went to the factory with his milk and after returning flames broke out. In a short time the buildings were all in flames and nothing was saved. Seven pigs were victims. Buildings and contents were partially covered by insurance.

The B. W. & N. W. Ry. management have completed arrangements with Capt. D. Noonan of the Rideau Navigation Co. for two of the popular Rideau excursions to be run Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 7th and 8th. Special train will leave Athens at 7.40 a.m.; returning, will arrive at Athens 9.00 p.m. Fare for round trip $1.00

WHEN VACATION DAYS ARE DONE

When vacation days are over,
Then you leave the bees and clover,
And travel sadly cityward from which you gaily came;
Good times are but a memory,
Your nose must touch the emery,
And grind away from morn till night—
really, it's a shame;
It's breakfast now at seven,
When it used to be at seven,
You are wakened every morning by the alarm clock's vivid knell;
If you had a good sized brick,
You would make that clock look sick.
As you roll from out the covers, and softly say—"Oh, well!"

'Twas a hot old time they spent
At Camp Hades in a tent—
There was "Pard E" and Kenneth,
Harry L. and "Peanut Joe;"
'Twas fishing in the daylight,
And a corn roast every night,
Ain't it funny in vacation how the hours swiftly go?
But now Ken. is selling tea,
While the genial "Pard E."
Is pounding tin in father's shop to make up what was spent;
Roy and Harry, setting type,
Are wishing time was ripe,
For another hot vacation at Camp
Hades in a tent.

If we had things our way,
I fear we'd always play;
But if we never labored, we would
never feast;
If we always had vacation,
We'd soon crave occupation;
'Tis by contrast we learn to love the things we love the least;
If everyone had the dough,
Who'd peel his coat and hoe?
Who'd till old earth's broad acres from dawn 'til setting sun?
So, while we sigh for pleasure,
Let's give the boss full measure,
And labor, labor cheerfully, when vacation days are done.
—S. A. MUEL.

The rector of St. Mark's Church Barriefield, Rev. J. H. Nimmo, M. D., who left the city several weeks ago with a Miss Stuart whom he married at N. Y., has tendered his resignation to the wardens of the church, and has requested that he be deposed from the ministry. He will be formally deposed as soon as proper authority can be received from the bishop now in England.

The annual S. S. picnic of Trinity Church, Oak Leaf, was held on Saturday, 29th inst., at Webster's Bay. A splendid day's outing was enjoyed by the 125 people present, and ample justice was done to the abundance of good things provided by the ladies. Mr. B. Loverin's launch was in requisition and did good work. John Watt's graphophone afforded music. Bathing, baseball, football were among the sports which went to make the day a most enjoyable one.

The picnic at Trevelyan last week under the management of Rev. Fr. Crawley proved in every respect highly enjoyable. M. J. Connolly presided at the platform meeting and entertaining addresses were given by Senator Derbyshire, Hon. Geo. P. Graham, A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., A. T. Wilgress and W. J. Wilson. The dancing platform was well patronized and the festivities continued until late in the evening.

At a pleasant social gathering held at the home of Mrs. W. G. Towrie on Friday last, the choir of the Methodist church becomingly honored the approaching marriage of one of their number, Miss Minnabel Morris. Miss C. Rappell read an address and Miss B. Gainford made the presentation of a silver bread tray in behalf of the choir as a token of their appreciation of her excellent services. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening enjoyed.

—Brockville's Fair, which takes place Sept. 15th to 18th, has been particularly fortunate in its choice of attractions for this year. The reports received from those who have seen the three Ernesto Sisters perform emphatically indicate that they are unsurpassed in their wonderful acts on the high wire. Also in Paul Batty's trained bears the management has secured a very strong drawing card. In New York these clever animals have delighted the large crowds which have witnessed their marvellous acrobatic and comic performances.

A WORD
To the People of Athens
and vicinity.

The time is now at hand when the people of Athens and vicinity, as well as those of other sections, need a new outfit for the coming season. Many are making a special run into the city to make such selections and they will tell you of the cordial reception they have received at our hands and the substantial benefits secured from such a visit. Many more, however, will combine the pleasure of shopping with that of attending the coming Brockville Fair and to those we extend a special invitation to make our establishment the meeting point for themselves and their friends. During this period we are to make special concessions to all out-of-town patrons.

A handsome, stylish suit plays a great part in a man's appearance. It is true that a man may be a perfect gentleman and still be dressed in an ill-fitting, poorly made suit of clothes, but the world is sure to misjudge him.

We want to make this proposition: When in the city, look the situation over carefully, see what's what everywhere. Get the prices, see the styles, examine everything.

Then come here, and if the excellence of our wearables and the fairness of our prices fail to convince you that this is the store to tie to, for the best of everything a man wears (or boy either, for that matter) we will pay you by the day or hour for the time you have lost in finding us out. Fair proposition—Don't fail to take it.
