

NOTES OF THE TRIP OF A VENTURE-SOME LOCAL TEACHER.

Magnificent Scenery—Delicate Flora—The Highest Altitudes—Sights That Aroused Enthusiasm.

The World is indebted to J. J. Dougan, of the city school teaching staff, for the following account of a trip up Mount Rainier.

It has been the intense ambition of many to ascend the magnificent height of Mount Rainier, and previous to this year not a few more than a dozen parties have climbed its magnificent altitude—a maximum of 15,000 feet.

It is of home-made boards, yet it is elegant, and in all features, an excellent inn where means are so unobtrusively provided.

over, under, through, and along giant trees. It is due to the fact that the latter of these latter the equestrian occasionally alighted on the mane to the great delight of many of the party.

COL. COCKERILL WRITES OF THEM IN THE HERALD.

Greater Care Should be Exercised in Selecting Suitable Persons—The Work of Evangelization is Proceeding Slowly in the Mikado's Kingdom.

Col. John Cockerill, the permanent resident of the New York Herald in Japan, recently received a communication from a friend in Hartford, Conn., regarding the status of missionary labors in the Land of the Rising Sun.

It is of home-made boards, yet it is elegant, and in all features, an excellent inn where means are so unobtrusively provided.

THE QUEEN'S BOUNTY.

A Montreal dispatch of the fecundity of French-Canadians has often been a subject of comment, but P. A. Choquet's account of the birth of a child is a record.

Liberals Enunciate Their Trade Policy and Their Attitude on the School Question—A Westmoreland Election Meeting.

The joint meeting at Petrolia, N. B., in connection with the Westmoreland struggle, is a typical one and is here reproduced in its entirety.

When we went into camp on Clear creek, the camp was pitched on the high peaks of the Big Horn mountains, writes W. F. Coker in the Herald.
