Boers Carried Some British Defenses at Ladysmith

AND HELD THEM UNTIL NIGHTFALL BUT WERE FINALLY DRIVEN OFF WITH GREAT LOSS—A GLORIOUS BRITISH VICTORY.

London, Tuesday, Jan. 9, 3.30 a. m.—Gen. Buller still holds out, or did so sixty hours ago, when the Boers, ousted from their hold inside the works, suspended their assault at nightfall. England has taken heart. The situation, however, is still causing much anxiety. The beleaguered force must have expended a large amount of ammunition which cannot be replenished, and must have lost a number of officers and men, which is counterbalanced, so far as the garrison is concerned, by the greater loss of the Boers. The entrenchments at Ladysmith, as described in a message that left a day or two before the fight, and has just come through, are fortified hills, well covered with rifle pits and trenches, down which the infantry move in single file to the various posts in absolute safety. Full rations are still served, but no whiskey or tobacco.

GEN. WHITE'S REPORT.

The war office has just published the following despatch from General Buller:—
Frere Camp, Natal, Jan. 8.—The following is from General Buller, dated 2 p. m. yesterday:—An attack was commenced on my position, but was chiefly against Casser's Camp and wagon Hill. The enemy was in great strength and pushed the attack with the greatest courage and energy. Some of our entrenchments on Wagon Hill were three times taken by the enemy and re-taken by us. The attack continued until 7.30 p. m. One point in our position was occupied by the enemy the whole day, but at dusk in a very heavy rainstorm, they were turned out of this position at the point of the bayonet in a most gallant manner by the Devans, led by Col. Park. Colonel Ian Hamilton commanded the Wagon Hill and rendered valuable services. The troops have had a very trying time and have behaved excellently. They are elated at the service they have rendered the queen. The enemy were repulsed everywhere with very heavy loss, greatly exceeding that on my side, which will be reported as soon as the lists are completed.

TWAS GLORIOUS NEWS.

It was not till the middle of the afternoon that there was an official confirmation for the morning of the Frere Camp rumors of General White's success at Ladysmith. But at 3.40 p. m. the war office relieved the extreme tension of the waiting crowds by posting the welcome despatch from the front, announcing the repulse of the enemy with heavy loss. Not since the day of Gen. Buller's reverse has such a crowd of inquirers visited the war office. As the afternoon progressed a rumor obtained currency that Ladysmith had surrendered, and the depression in the lobbies had become extreme, when an official appeared, and in a loud voice shouted:—"Good news," and posted the despatch chronicling a brilliant victory for the British troops. The news spread with astonishing rapidity all over London, and caused an instantaneous change in the aspect of the metropolis. Smiling faces were seen everywhere, and even at the sedate foreign office and other departments of the government great elation was shown. The newspapers were all jubilant. The Conservative Standard, in big headlines, announced:—"A Glorious Victory at Ladysmith." The Stock Exchange received the news with rousing cheers, and prices immediately ascended in all departments.

THE CASUALTY LIST.

It is understood that the war office has received some figures on the casualties in the Saturday's attack upon Ladysmith, but not the list itself. These have not yet been made public. Spencer Wilson, in the Morning Post, estimates that there is one division only at Chieveley, another at Pretre and a third at Estcourt. As Chieveley is seven miles from Colenso, the second division would have had to march twelve miles to get into action, and the third division, twenty-two miles. Gen. Buller's 30,000 men and seventy guns were therefore almost ineffective on Saturday, and when Gen. White telegraphed, Gen. Buller could really make no move, but an ineffective demonstration.

Woodstock, in the year 1871, he received the position in this city, which he held at the time of his death, from the Sanfield Macdonald administration, succeeding the late Thomas Ireland. Some 25 years ago he married Miss Ingeral, of Woodstock, Registrar of Oxford county. Besides a widow, a family of seven survive. They are: Florence, a nurse-in-training in the sick children's hospital at Toronto; Sergeant William Campbell, a member of the second Canadian contingent; Beverly, who is visiting in Toronto; Louise, Kate, Fanny and Harry, at home, on Victoria avenue. A peculiarity of this sudden affair is that Mr. Campbell's father also died suddenly of heart disease while sitting in his chair.

P. D. McKellar left early this morning for Toronto to take charge of the remains and bring them to this city. Dr. Fleming received a telegram from Mr. McKellar this forenoon, in which he states that while the train was going around a curve, after passing Milton Mr. Campbell got up and went out of the dining car. This was the last seen of him alive. The swinging of the train on the curve must have thrown him off. His head in the fall struck a timber, and death was instantaneous. The body will arrive in the city tonight.

Thos. Scullard was looking after the interests of Mrs. Campbell at the office this morning.
