The Best.

The Chatham Business College

CHATHAM, ONT.
It is unquestionably Canada's greatest business school.
No other school gets such RESULTS.
It is now current talk throughout the country that the student who wants the best training and a good position when graduated must attend this school.

250 students placed in year 1900
350 " " " 1901
375 " " " 1902
400 " " " 1903
If these were placed in picture positions worth $5 or $6 per week, the showing would not be worth the space in this paper that it takes to tell it. But when the salary averaged $500 per week, a few of them over $1000, the public should know that no other business school in Canada publishes such lists and gets such results.

Many of our former graduates are now commanding salaries from $500 to $1000 annually. WHY SHOULD IT NOT BE YOURS?
We pay your railway fare up to $5.00. Good board in Chatham, $3.00 to $4.00. For the handsome catalogue published by any business school in Canada, write for the student and the writer, as an authoritative reference book for schools, teachers, families, business and professional men, there is one book which offers superior advantages in the solid value of its information, and the ease with which it is obtained.

One's admiration for Webster's International Dictionary increases daily as it comes to be better known. It never refuses the information sought and it never overwhelms one with a mass of misinformation illogically arranged.

The St. James Gazette of London, England, says: For the teacher, the pupil, the student and the litterateur, there is nothing better; it covers everything.

The New and Enlarged Edition recently issued has 25,000 new words and phrases, a completely revised Biographical Dictionary and Gazetteer of the World, 2300 pages and 5000 illustrations.

Our name is on the title-pages of all the authentic dictionaries of the Webster series.

MAUSER BULLETS.

Strange Freaks of the Mailies Used by the Japanese Arms in Their Fight With Russians.

"It is perfectly true, I believe, that the Japanese soldier is using a bullet of smaller calibre than has ever been used before in war," said a military surgeon to a London newspaper writer, the other day. "And it is no doubt equally true, as reported, that Russian soldiers shot clean through the body with one of these tiny bullets might go on fighting for hours and scarcely even know that they had been hit; but when they tell us that these bullets often leave no marks of entry or exit—well, I draw the line there."

"The modern bullet is a very remarkable thing, and some of its funny ways which I witnessed in the late Spanish-American war, I should set down as freaks of the imagination if I had not seen them with my own eyes. Take this for example. One man was shot completely through the body from side to side by a Mauser bullet; both lungs were traversed, but he had no symptom, no bleeding, and all that was visible was a tiny red spot where the bullet had entered the body and a similar tiny spot where it had come out. This man actually did not know that he had been hit at all, and if his leg had not been broken by a second bullet, he would never have been in the hospital at all."

"No, I scarcely think a man could survive if he were shot through the heart, though it is conceivable that he might if the bullet struck the heart just as it was drawn to the left in its closest contraction; if the heart were on the other beat, and therefore distended and softer, it could probably be so lacerated that death might ensue. I recall one case where a man was shot through the breast on the left side, the bullet entering about a quarter of an inch below the nipple and passing out at the back, shattering the shoulder blade. In this case the surgeons all agreed that the bullet had passed through the pericardium or covering of the heart, and more than one declared that the heart itself had been penetrated. Oh, yes, the man lived right enough—indeed, his life was never in danger."

"Talking about freaks of bullets, in one case, I remember the bullet entered the left chest, passed through the body and out of the abdomen, then went through the air for a foot or so and landed in the right thigh. In about half-way to the king. In another case a man was wounded in the shoulder by a Mauser bullet, which ploughed its way around the chest under the deep muscles and lodged in the left arm, shattering the humerus. It was a puzzler, but a wound in the right shoulder, but no bullet, the bone of the left arm broken, but no wound to be seen. However, thanks to the X-rays, the bullet was located in sixty seconds. "What hundred of these wondrous rays must have saved already many a man from the agonies of pain! Instead of spending hours, it may be, in probing for a bullet and perhaps never finding it, the X-rays will discover it for us with unfailing accuracy in a few seconds. In fact, the time ranging from five seconds for a wound in the head to perhaps a quarter of an hour for a bullet deeply embedded in the body."

"The modern bullet is, as I have said, a most remarkable and, indeed, an unaccountable thing. If you fire a Mauser bullet into a bag of sand, a can of water, or a dead body, the shattering effect is terrible; but fire at a living body and a similar bullet will pass through as cleanly as a stiletto, leaving two tiny marks of entry and exit and boring a hole as neatly through a bone as if it had been drilled."

"Mauser bullets fired experimentally into the skulls of dead men splintered them into fragments, and yet they pass through the skull of a living man making just two tiny holes. A remarkable thing, too, is that a man may be shot through the brain and yet live to tell the tale; though naturally the majority of men thus shot die, chiefly through the poisoning of foreign matter brought into the brain with bullets."

"It is a curious fact that a man has a better chance of living when a bullet has passed clean through his chest than when the chest is opened and the bullet remains. In many of the former cases, barring severe hemorrhage, the symptoms are often mild, some of the patients being confined to bed for a few days only."

Weaning the Foal.

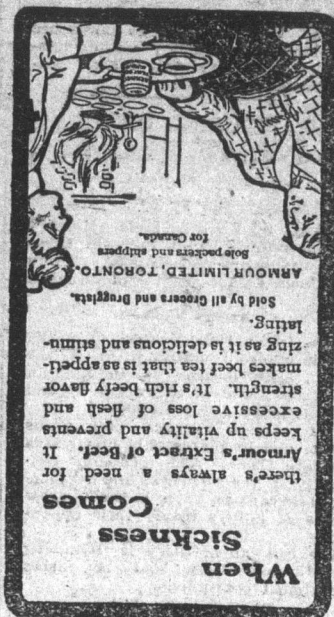

Experience teaches that the most practical time for weaning the foal is about five months old, says J. A. Craig in National Stockman. Worrying can be avoided by tying the colt within sight of the dam and giving some grain. Always give the foal plenty of exercise. A pasture is one of the best places, as the colt can exercise whenever he feels like it. Ramping about tends to extend the muscles, expand the lungs and give the blood better circulation throughout the body. These, along with plenty of good feed, will make healthy and robust animals.

Salt for Sheep.

Experiments recently made in France for the purpose of ascertaining the nutritive value of salt, for sheep show that sheep which had been fed salt gained in weight four and a half pounds more than those which received no salt. Moreover, the sheep which received salt produced one and three-quarters pounds more wool and of a better quality than those which received no salt.

Feed the Brood Sow.

Don't let the brood sow get sucked down to a shadow of her normal selves. Feed enough for pigs and now both. Then she will be more tractable, less liable to become brachy, a chicken eater or any other kind of a nuisance.

Coches in France.

As regards the history of coaches in France, Henry IV. was assassinated in 1610. Soon after his death some engravings were published representing him being murdered in his carriage by Ravallac. It is from these that we get a fair idea of the coaches.

They are simply square boxes, measuring by scale six feet in length by three and a half feet in width, on four wheels of the same diameter, without any springs or straps and seating six persons in all—namely, two with their backs to the horses, two facing them and two more, one on each side of the two "boots" at the side. Each vehicle had a roof, resting on light columns, and curtains to draw or to let down.

This agrees well with the received accounts of the incident, according to one version of which Henry rode in an open carriage, and according to another that as soon as the fatal blow was delivered by the assassin the king's attendant who rode with him in the carriage drew the curtains, and, hiding the king from public view, assured the enraged people that he was only wounded.—Notes and Queries.

Cuban Women.

The Cuban women—and the men as well—are intensely affectionate. They say much in words, often more than their hearts feel. But they are very warm-hearted. Every letter that I get from girl friends of six months' acquaintance is a love letter, full of passionate expressions of affection. The Cuban women mature quickly, and a girl of fourteen in Cuba is as mature as a girl of seventeen here. Early marriages are the rule. The Cuban women are dainty, pretty and very like the French women, with many of the French ways and ideals. They care little for forming themselves into clubs for literary culture, and woman suffrage doesn't agitate them. They are not more interested in being clever than in being good. They are good housekeepers, good musicians, good housewives, charming sweethearts, than in running the government.
