In all the Cathedrals in France to-day, special prayers were offered for the National Assembly. Congregations very large. The Government Officials attended, escorted by troops.

All the Conservative elements of the French Assembly have united in favor of a motion to be introduced this week condemning Gambetta's speech at Tours.

At Stralsund, eighty vessels were totally wrecked in the recent gale, and the town was much damaged by inundation. The Islands Zenzeb, Dars, and Hiddense, lost all their fishing smacks, houses and their contents. The damage done is very heavy, and nearly all the cattle drowned. The wells are flooded from the sea, and the inhabitants are suffering for want of fresh water, food, and shelter. Steamers with supplies have been despatched to their relief. The loss of life on the islands and mainlands has been very great. The small Island of Cottoe was submerged and every inhabitant perished.

NEWS ITEMS.

Marshal Bazaine is in such ill health that it is feared he will die before the indictment against him can be drawn up.

The breastplate worn by General O'Neil in the Canada campaign is now for sale. It fits neatly under his coat-tails, and is laced in front.—American paper.

It is intended to propose Mr. Charles Darwin, author of "The Descent of Man," as a candidate for the Lord Rectorship of Aberdeen University at the next election.

"LONDON SOCIETY" is now edited, as so many of our magazines are, by a lady, Mrs. Ross Church, who has just published a life of her father, Captain Marryat.

In the Spanish Congress on the 22nd ult., a petition was presented requesting Government to commence negotiations with Great Britain respecting the cession of the fortress of Gibraltar.

ADVICES from Odessa state that a conspiracy has been discovered in the Caucasus, and that a general rising of all the Circassian tribes was intended. The leaders have been imprisoned.

The Pope has refused to allow the Municipality to place additional gas lamps in the Piazza di S. Pietro, or before the Church itself, during the residence at the Vatican.

It was proposed to publish the names of drunkards in Louisville, but a paper of that city objects to the plan, lest it should involve the repudiation of the entire city directory.

It would be well if smokers were to cast away the ends of their cigars a little more judiciously, and not throw them on the pavement to be swept up by the dress of the first lady who passes. A lady in Washington recently had her dress set on fire from this cause.

The Swiss Times has received a telegram from its branch office in Rome, which says:—"The Arno has overflowed its banks, and communication between Florence and this city has been entirely interrupted. We have had a great storm here, and much damage has been done."

The London Times says the accounts from San Francisco describe the realization of one of the largest grain harvests ever secured in California, and the consequent despatch of numerous cargoes to England. The first vessel to clear was the British India, on June 28, which may now be considered due, and by this time the wheat fleet route hither is reckoned at about one hundred vessels, with 125,000 tons.

The London Daily News has been informed that it has been determined to despatch Sir Bartle Frere as a special commission to inquire into the whole subject of the African Slave Trade, and that he will leave for Zanzibar this week. Dr. Livingstone's representations on this subject were too startling to be passed by, and one of the results of Mr. Stanley's courage and enterprise appears to be, that the English Government, having learned, thanks to him, made aware of atrocities which were not even suspected, are now taking the most judicious course for their suppression. Dr. Moffat, father-in-law of Livingstone, states that one object of Sir Bartle Frere's mission to Zanzibar is to open direct communication with Livingstone.

A BRAVE MAN.—A sad remnant of the siege of Paris was discovered in the Seine on the 22nd ult. Some barges were being towed along at Bercy, when an unslightly mass came to the surface of the river. It was immediately fished on board by two men, and found to be the decomposed remains of a human body dressed in a diving costume. The dress was riddled in several places, and on being undone a tin box dropped out, which was discovered to contain despatches from the Delegation at Tours to the Government of Paris. Another paper in the same box gave the name of the bearer, which was none other than Captain Louis Legrand, of the Army of the Loire. The unfortunate deceased was a native of Choisy-le-Roi, and owing to his intimate knowledge of the river in that part of the Prussian investment, had undertaken to get into the besieged capital. He is supposed by the aid of his diving costume, to have walked along the bed of the river for some distance, but through miscalculation came to the surface too soon, and was shot by the Prussian outposts.
