For 20 Years

the formula for making Scott's Emulsion has been endorsed by physicians of the whole world. No secret about it. This is one of its strongest endorsements. But the strongest endorsement possible is in the vital strength it gives.

Lenten Pastoral.
James Charles, by the Grace of God and favor of the Apostolic See, Bishop of Charlottetown.

To his Dearly Beloved Brethren of the Clergy and Laity, Health and Benediction in the Lord.

DEARLY BELOVED:

As the holy season of Lent approaches, it is fitting that with renewed fervor we again recall to our minds the sacred mysteries connected with the Passion and Death of our Divine Saviour. We approach that holy season which in a particular manner enjoins on all sincere Christians the necessity of laying aside and completely abandoning whatever may prove to be the slightest occasion of sin, and calls upon us all to renew our lives in the sight of God, and to adorn them with those saintly qualities which our dear religion demands.

Prayer and good works are at all times appropriate and necessary, but at no time are they more so than during the holy season upon which we are about to enter; nor is there any other ecclesiastical season of the year in which they can be made more acceptable to God, and consequently more conducive to our own spiritual and temporal happiness. During this holy season the whole Catholic world joins in praising the Almighty God, invoking His Holy Name, and performing such works of Christian charity, as must be pleasing to our Divine Redeemer. Consequently, though imperfections may accompany our good works individually considered, yet in view of the fact that they are addressed to the throne of God in union with those of all the faithful, and in conformity with the expressed wish of our holy mother the church, they are rendered far more acceptable to the benignity of our Heavenly Father. Let it therefore be the care of each of you, Dearly Beloved, to pass this holy season in the spirit of genuine Christian devotion, and thereby store up virtue and merit that will serve to embellish the soul, and render it still more precious in the estimation of our Sovereign Lord of Heaven.

Among the many works of charity that may be performed during the present season of Lent, there is one to which we must call your special attention. You are aware, Dearly Beloved, that our Holy Church, founded and sanctified as she was by our Divine Redeemer, can have no part with the sinful ways of the world. In no way can she lend her voice to second whatever swerves in the least from the paths of justice and righteousness. By virtue of the inflexible promise made to her and to her Visible Head by our Divine Founder, she has at all times and under all circumstances proved true to her divine mission, as true she shall remain till the final consummation of ages.

Her supernatural mission, however, has not left her unexposed to the wanton insults of the emissaries of Satan. As her Divine Founder in his moral capacity was maligned, persecuted and crucified, in like manner His holy Church and His venerable vicar upon earth have been made a target for the blasphemies and persecutions of the godless portion of mankind. Indeed, it was not without a special reason in behalf of the eternal salvation of His people, that Christ foretold the sufferings and persecutions which He foresaw His church should undergo, lest without His own assurance, the faithful should lose hope in the midst of so many afflictions. Remember my word that I said to you, says our Divine Saviour to His Apostles, The servant is not greater than his master. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you (John, xv.), assuring them however, that blessed are they that suffer persecution for justice sake, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. (Mat., v.)

While at the present time the church, under the inflexible guidance of her Divine Founder, continues her mission with that same vigor and success which during her infancy had characterized the apostles, still she is not without her own special afflictions. For the past twenty-five years the august head of the church, the vicar of Christ on earth, the holy Roman Pontiff, has been compelled by his ruthless enemies to remain a prisoner in his own palace, guarded by day and by night against the foul machinations of those who watch for the first opportunity of taking his life, and as far as lies in their power, deprived of even the bare necessities of life. To such an extent has this nefarious injustice been carried, that to provide for the requirements of his high office, the Holy Father is obliged to have recourse to the voluntary offerings made by the faithful throughout the Catholic world. But when we consider the many expenses attending the Government of the church throughout Christendom for which the Pontiff must make provision—the different departments, councils and congregations to be maintained for the transaction of ecclesiastical business; the various representatives in different parts of the Christian world, who in the performance of their sacred duties must needs be supported; and the many almost destitute missions in the yet heathen countries, which the Holy Father is so frequently called upon to succor, it will readily be seen that the means at his disposal are far from being adequate to the demands made upon him.

Can be properly suited at our establishment. We never had a greater variety of superior clothes than we are showing to-day. The man who can't find exactly what he wants must be very hard to please. By the way, do you know why the clothing made by us looks so well and wears so well? It is because we employ none but the best skilled workmen, who have orders to do nothing. An inferior workman, or one found putting inferior work on a garment, does not stay long at work for us.

Wherefore, Dearly Beloved, as the Catholics of this diocese participate in the benefits of our holy church not unequally with those of other countries, it is only just that they also should contribute to the support of the Sovereign Pontiff. We therefore direct that in each church of the diocese a collection be taken for that purpose, the proceeds of which will be forwarded to the Episcopal Residence not later than during the week preceding Palm Sunday. If it be pleasing to Almighty God, we ourselves intend conveying the same to the Holy Father during our visit ad limina Apostolorum, which we propose making shortly after the above mentioned date.

Let your filial devotion towards the imprisoned and afflicted Head of the Church be not obscured by any minor interests or considerations, and therefore give not sparingly but abundantly, remembering the words of Holy Writ, it is more blessed to give than to receive. (Acts, xx.), as also those of the inspired Apostle of the Gentiles: For God loveth a cheerful giver. (2. Cor., ix.)

Is the customary collection for the liberation of slaves has been taken up, it may be remitted at the earliest convenience.

By virtue of authority received by us from the Holy See, we grant the following dispensations for the ensuing Lent:

1. The use of flesh meat on all Sundays, without restriction.
2. The use of flesh meat at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, Ember Saturday and Holy Saturday excepted.
3. The use of dripping and lard, for dressing food, is allowed at all meals on days of abstinence, even when meat is allowed at the principal meal, excepting, however, Ash Wednesday and Good Friday.

Flesh and fish are not allowed at the same meal.

This pastoral shall be read in each church of this diocese, by the pastor, on the first Sunday he shall officiate therein after its reception. The Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Given at Charlottetown this 13th day of February, 1895

Bishop of Charlottetown.

Lord Roseberry does not appear to be very strongly impressed with the justice or validity of the Anglican claim to continuity. Speaking recently at Cardiff on the question of Church Disestablishment in Wales, he said: "I suppose we all remember what the State once did with these endowments—how it took them at the time of the Reformation from the old Church and handed them to the Reformed Church." And then, that they might be no possibility of mistaking what he meant by the "old Church," the British Premier went on to tell the defenders of the establishment that it was not wise to rest too much upon the right of property; "because of the indefeasible right of ancient property vested in any way with these endowments, it rested, not with the Reformed, but with the Roman Catholic Church." This unequivocal declaration of Lord Roseberry will be as gall and wormwood to those who are wont to speak of the Catholic Church in England as the "Italian Mission."

There are giants even in our day. In the Passage Panopticon, in Berlin, is an Arab, Hassan Ali, who has grown to nine feet two inches. He is only sixteen years of age. It is expected that he has several years more to grow. He was born near Sinah Ammon oasis, in Egypt. He certainly is a desert palm-tree; but he is not quite so graceful as a rule these gigantic men are short-lived; but Hassan is healthy and physically sound, and unless he grows too tall he may have a reasonably long lease of life. There is a very pertinent question asked: What use is his height to mankind?—Exchange.

Good Coffee.

It is asserted by men of high professional standing that when the system needs a stimulant, nothing equals a cup of good coffee. It is also affirmed by eminent physicians that Ayer's Sarsaparilla braces up the system, quickens flagging energies, increases the appetite, promotes digestion, and for all the purposes of a blood purifier is the most reliable, the most powerful as well as the cheapest medicine ever advised.
