ROME, April 20.
Prince Arthur of Connaught is here as the representative of King George and the British people at the Italian Jubilee. He received an enthusiastic welcome. King Victor Emanuel and Queen Helena met their royal guest at the railway station, where a crowd had gathered. When the Prince appeared he was cheered heartily. Thousands followed the carriages in which he and the Italian Sovereigns had driven to the Quirinal. At the palace the popular demonstration was so persistent that Prince Arthur appeared on the balcony and acknowledged the greetings. Prince Arthur delivered to King Victor a letter from King George, in which the British Monarch congratulated His Italian Majesty upon the attainment of united Italy's fiftieth anniversary, and expressed the friendship of the British nation for the Royal house and people of Italy.

Prospects of the armistice are brighter than ever. For the purpose of peace negotiations, no political concessions will be asked.

Sounds of Battle.

The report of a battle reaches the world over in these days of the reign of the newspaper, but without any such outside aid it can be heard far beyond the scene of actual strife. The reports of the guns themselves, the real sounds of battle, go far out into space, and can be distinguished a long way from the point of conflict.

Professor W. F. Sinclair says that there is nothing unusual in the hearing of artillery at a distance of sixty miles. The Bombay time guns and salutes are often heard at the northern Mahim, a distance of over fifty miles. The guns are—or were at the time when the observations were made—very modest affairs, old-fashioned, twenty-four or thirty-two pounders loaded with four or five pounds of coarse black powder, not all of which was burnt.

The target practice of the forts and turret ships at Bombay was easily distinguishable from mere salutes and time-guns, not merely as a louder sound, but by being felt in the chest when the others could only be heard. The sound produced by modern powder is probably very different from that of old black powder, so that an army in action at the present time may be relied upon to make its voice heard. The "din of battle" is not a figure of speech.

Presentation to Mr. Hedley Tuff.

The members of George St. Methodist Church choir, in conjunction with several officials of the Church, spent a few enjoyable hours in the young men's room, so kindly placed at their disposal for the purpose by the George St. Y. M. A. The assemblage had gathered to tender a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Tuff, who very shortly leaves our shores to begin life anew in the growing Canadian North West. Mrs. Richard White, until recently the oldest active member, but now an ex-member of the choir, and Miss Story received the guests of honour at 8.15. The meeting was immediately called to order by the Pastor, Rev. J. W. Bartlett, who explained the nature of the gathering, which up to that time was pretty much of a surprise party to many present, and particularly so to the couple most concerned. Mr. Tuff had been a very valuable member of the choir for several years, said the rev. gentleman, and had at all times freely and unostentatiously given of his musical talent to the service of the choir and of the Church. It seemed right, therefore, that we should give some slight token of recognition, and a memo. to remember us by in the far West. While regretting deeply the loss the choir and Church would sustain through Mr. Tuff's departure, he had very great pleasure in reading and presenting him with an address, beautifully worded and artistically written, and accompanied by a gift that had been subscribed to by every member of the choir and several of the officials and members of the congregation.

Mr. Tuff in a few brief, well chosen sentences, replied, thanking the many kind friends who had so generously thought of him in this manner, and particularly thanking Rev. Mr. Bartlett, for himself and on behalf of Mrs. Tuff, for the many nice and kind things he had said about him, much of which, he felt, he was undeserving of.

During the evening speeches were made by Mr. C. R. Steer on behalf of the Quarterly Official Board; Mr. R. F. Horwood on behalf of the Trustee Board; Mr. Gordon Christian, the talented organist, on behalf of the Choir, and for Hon. J. B. Ayre, organist, who is at present out of the country. The following gentlemen of the Choir also spoke: Messrs. John E. Steer, W. T. Courtenay, Richard White, H. Courtenay and S. J. Tucker. Mrs. Story, representing the ladies of the congregation, also made a few remarks appreciative of Mr. Tuff's very valued services. Musical numbers were given by Miss Story, Messrs. Tuff, Courtenay, Green, Tucker and White, and Mr. Butler edited the others by preaching a sermon from "Mother Hubbard." The young ladies of the choir then served refreshments which were duly taken care of and put out of harm's way, finally eliciting from Mr. Butler a motion that a vote of thanks be tendered the ladies for their thoughtfulness and kindness, which, being promptly seconded by Mr. Green, was carried by acclamation. Singing a farewell hymn, prayer and Benediction by the Pastor now brought the affair to a successful close.—Com.
