

To-Day's News.

Special to The Evening Telegram.

ROME, To-day.
Special received here from the island of Lomax in the Aegean Sea, says a Greek aviator, accompanied by a Greek captain, last night, made a daring flight over the Straits of the Dardanelles in an hydro-aeroplane, which covered 180 kilometres. The despatch says a thorough reconnaissance of the Turkish fleet was made and the aviator flew over Midos near the Southern Point of Gallipoli Peninsula, overlooking the Dardanelles, and dropped four bombs on the Arsenal there. He reports, according to the despatch, that as his machine passed over the fleet he saw flashes from the vessels' guns as they fired at him. The hydro was not hit.

LONDON, To-day.
Papers give great prominence both in their news and editorial columns, to the statement of Admiral Von Tirpitz, German Minister of Marine, that the naval programme as outlined by Winston Churchill, is satisfactory to Germany. This change of front by Germany, the first step towards an entente in Anglo-German relations, a considerable step towards friendship and fraught with momentous consequences are phrases which are used to show how the statement is viewed here. Even the least demonstrative of the newspapers welcome it as opening a way to consider the naval rivalry of two nations in a calmer spirit and argue that it will result in a lull in the ruinous competition of building big ships and armaments. Some newspapers build on the assumption that a definite agreement has been reached between Britain and Germany, especially as official reports of Von Tirpitz's statement are accompanied by a similar one ascribed to Herr Jagow, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in an emphatic declaration that Germany's relations with all Powers are good. Unofficial reports are given that Herr Jagow referred particularly to relations between Germany and England. This has deepened the impression that a special understanding has been reached between the two countries although there is no solid ground for the assumption.

OTTAWA, To-day.
A sensation was caused in the House of Commons yesterday when Col. McLean, a prominent Liberal leader from New Brunswick, came out in a speech in favor of the Government's naval policy of three Dreadnoughts to the Imperial Navy as an emergency contribution. He suggested that the Liberals vote for Borden's policy and both parties unite in getting Admiralty advice upon a permanent policy to be submitted to the people in a plebiscite. Speaking of a German menace, Col. McLean said: "It does seem to me that the moral effect would be greater if Canada could build and loan to England some of the best fighting ships science can devise and money build. This would be better than two small fleet units on the Pacific and Atlantic. If you are going to have the Empire let us give her what she asks. If Britain is power broken and Canada is left defenceless, where would Germany find a colony like Canada, or what would keep the Japanese from landing on the Pacific Coast? Germany is now in the last lap of the race. Her debt is heavy. Might not the appearance of Canada as a factor decide Germany to stop the struggle for supremacy on the sea. We have been singing 'God save the King' and 'God save the Queen' for a great number of years. Let us show the Mother Country our loyalty in not merely hot air." After pointing out what Britain has done for Canada in the way of defense and development, McLean proceeded to contrast Canada's policy of contributing nothing towards Imperial defense with that of New Zealand's contribution of $15,000,000; Australia's contribution, $30,000,000; South Africa's, $425,000; India's, $8,300,000; Newfoundland's, $200,000. He concluded with a stirring appeal for Canada to discharge her duty as a part of the Empire, to which we are attached by every tie; to which we must render effective service, and if necessary give our all for common defence and expect the forces of that mighty Empire to be at our back when our lives and free people are threatened. Forty years ago, he said, Joseph Howe wrote that security for peace can only be kept in the sincere organization of armaments of the whole Empire as what make uncertainty of defeat a foregone conclusion to any foreign Power that may attempt to break it.

One Hundred Thousand Say 'Tis So.

Of all the engines in the land, Fairbanks is a beauty; 'tis guaranteed for years to stand, and always does its duty; and now we'll have our readers know, and let them duly note it, one hundred thousand say 'tis so, and to it they're devoted. Fairbanks never yet went wrong, nor couldn't if it tried; 'tis durable, 'tis sure, 'tis tried, the rest are 'fools' beside it. So if an engine you would buy, 'tis up at BARR'S you'll get it; and you may bet it now, my boy, you never will regret it.

A Sad Case
Of Poverty.AN OLD MAN FOUND IN SHACK—
DIED AT POOR ASYLUM.

Yesterday afternoon, a resident of Quidi Vidi, reported to the authorities that an aged man named William Ainsworth, who was existing in an old dilapidated structure there without food or fire, was in a state of abject poverty and that if something was not done for the poor old man he might succumb, as it was intensely cold. Immediately Mr. E. H. Whiteway, who was informed, procured a sleigh and drove to the village. He found the old man in a perishing and starving condition. After hearing the circumstances of the case, Mr. Whiteway placed the poor

S.S. Erik For Sale.

The sealing steamer Erik, owned by Job Brothers, is now on the market for sale, and we hear that a certain Company, of which Hon. J. C. Crosbie is the principal, is negotiating for the purchase of her and have offered a figure. The Erik is 461 tons net register, was originally built in Dundee in 1885, but in 1908 was dry docked here, remodelled and refitted, so that she is now a practically new steamer. The vessel is being sold with all her sealing equipment and we understand will be sent to prosecute the seal fishery this year by her new owners.

Dangerous Accident.

AS A RESULT OF FALL CHILD'S MIND MAY BE SERIOUSLY
IMPAIRED.

Yesterday afternoon, Master Clouston, son of Mr. John Clouston, tinsmith, of Duckworth Street, fell near his residence, Quidi Vidi Road, and was so badly hurt about the head that he became unconscious. A doctor was called and after some time the lad regained his senses. He, however, later lapsed into unconsciousness, was a long time in this state and the opinion of the medical man who attended him is that his injuries may be very serious as the result of the unfortunate affair.

Cochrane Street
Church Organ.

By the s.s. Almeriana, there arrived from the Organ manufactory of Messrs. Foster & Andrews, Hull, nine large cases of organ parts to form additions to the splendid pipe organ in Cochrane St. Methodist Church. These additions will complete the original scheme of the organ and will be put in place by Mr. Walter Vey, who directed the instrument. Later on two special experts from Hull will arrive, who will go through the whole work and thoroughly test every stop. The congregation greatly enjoy the sweet and rich tones of this organ under the manipulation of Mr. Mews, the organist, and they appreciate the great interest of the generous donor of the instrument, who is also giving the present addition.

The Christian Brothers of Mount Cashel, beg very greatly to acknowledge the receipt of $300, being the net proceeds of the concert organized by Miss Jordan in aid of the institution. They avail of this announcement to thank Mr. Kelly, who so kindly gave the Casino Theatre free of charge for the benefit of the orphans.

Enquiry Continued.

The magisterial enquiry was continued to-day in Judge Knight's office. Daniel McDonald, engineer of the tug John Green, was sworn and examined. He was thirty years in various service, had experience in various classes of towing but never had an accident, similar to that of Saturday last before. He remembered seeing three men in the boat but did not know what happened. So far as turning Movat out of the engine room he was concerned, McDonald explained that the light was out and told him to go to the stockhold where it was much warmer. Saw nothing further about the accident.

James Molloy, fireman, testified that he helped to pull Movat, who had hold of the tow rope, out of the water and up over the side of the tug. Never saw the other two men.

Robbery at Musgrave.

Letters received in the city yesterday say that at Doting Cove, near Musgrave Harbor, on Monday night last, some person or persons broke into the Union store there and ransacked the place, forcing open the desk where the cash was kept and stealing all the money it contained, which must have been considerable. Mr. Watton, the caretaker, had left for Carnarville when the place was burglarized.

Very Stormy And Cold.

The brig, Minnie which got here from Bahia last evening had it very stormy after passing the Gulf Stream. Storm succeeded storm and the sea ran mountains high while it was terribly frosty and the ship was badly iced up. The captain is thankful to the Ferryland station people for answering his signal yesterday. The vessel came down from Cape Race in the quick time of 7 hours.

Found Ill in Stable.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night, an inmate of the Poor Asylum, named Thomas Kean, was found in a bad state in a stable at the rear of Hon. M. P. Gibbs' residence, LeMarchant Road. The man occasionally did some odd jobs about the place, and last evening went to the building and after engaging in some work, became stricken with paralysis, but was fortunately found in time to get a doctor. Dr. Scully was called and did all possible for him and Rev. Dr. Greene administered the last sacraments of the church after which the unfortunate man was driven to the Poor Asylum where he is still in a dangerous state.

BORN.

At Torbay, on February 3rd, a son to Mr. and Mrs. William F. Thorne.

DIED.

Passed peacefully away at his home in Catalina, at 2 p.m., yesterday, Benjamin Snelgrove, Esq., aged 88 years.

Last night, Freddie, darling child of James and Rowena Bailey, aged 6 months and 14 days.

The little crib is empty now, the little clothes lay by.

A mother's pride, a father's joy in death's cold grasp doth lie; God needed one more little lamb within His shining band.

And so He stooped with loving smile and clasped our darling's hand.
