Operative S

On Monday, we referred to the tardy attempt of Morris and Me to wreck the Fishermen's Union subject will bear further consideration so as to drive home to the men and to all Union workers sympathizers the peculiarly character of the attack. Morris' fees at all times to have sympathy for the workingman, laborer, the mechanic and all work for a living. A special graph in his Manifesto was a to vague promises, unfulfilled need not say, to improve the tions of the working classes. It was not one of the promises concerning the Reid Company and way building, as it was not put millions into the pockets of railway contractors, it was stably and faithfully evaded.

The mechanics of St. John's tradesmen and the laborers have been organized into Unions for years and great have been benefits to employee and employer. The employee has the right to demand a living wage and to his income meet the increased of living and the employer has settled condition of things to late on when estimating the cost his manufactures. The benefit union became so apparent to the port resident, from his frequent visits to St. John's, that when Coaker started to organize the men into a Union he found them and ready. In an incredibly time the idea took root and spread over the northern districts. In addition to the customary object which the idea stands in St. John's Mr. Coaker grafted on co-operative stores and a central trading club, a meeting house, a lodge place where they can come together and exchange ideas and principles as a medium by which they can express a united voice on any question affecting their interests in commercial or political life of country. The Union Trading Company, and co-operative stores are points which the fishermen most strongly object to. In fact, they got a change of clothing. Mrs. Baird kindly taking all their clothing off and replacing it with dry and warm apparel. Messrs. Sam Martin and William in their motor boat hauled the frightened females at the King's Wharf at 6.30 this morning. Inspector Collins spent a most anxious night. He had been patrolling everywhere in the suburbs. Two people were missing up to 1 p.m. Mrs. Rendell, of King's Road, and Mrs. Bull, of Little Street. A sensational affair was the loss of the little lad Power, son of Mr. Power, of the James Buid Co., out on the Freshwater Road. He became detached from the party, when Messrs. E. Spurrell, M. Duffy and M. Doran made a search with lanterns they heard the child crying after a long search, and 1.30 this morning or thereabouts found him. It was reported to-day that another woman was astray out in Freshwater Bay and that two others were caught out on the Three Pond Barrens. The police are investigating.

No wonder he will accept substitutes for Duffy's. "I have great faith in your wonderful remedy which I have regularly for the past twenty years. Before I took Duffy's Malt Whiskey I was subject to colds and heavy colds in the winter. My physician advised me to take tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Whiskey before meals. I follow his directions and found it created appetite and while taking it I was not subject to the cold chills the formerly suffered with.

Investment News

St. John's, Nfld.,
Sept. 11th, 1913.

Within Reach of Everybody!

There are many people with a small "nest egg" who think vaguely that investing is solely for the wealthy. Hence they allow their savings to remain idle—or practically so.

If they have ever seriously considered an investment the obstacle has frequently been the need of a considerable sum before making a start.

No longer need this be so. Our new Partial Payment Plan places before EVERY man and woman of limited means an opportunity to purchase the same securities (yielding as high as 7 per cent.) that are carried by our wealthy clients. And the method of payment is so easy to commence and so easy to continue that it leaves no room for criticism as to its convenience.

We have a booklet describing the plan ready to be addressed to you. Shall we send it?

Obituary.

JAMES A. CHAPLIN.

Yesterday there passed over to the Great Beyond a well known citizen in the person of Mr. James Chaplin, brother of Mr. Mark Chaplin. Mr. Chaplin has been an invalid for 18 months past and had been a patient at the Signal Hill Hospital for some time. Mr. Chaplin married Miss Minnie Kean, daughter of the late Maurice Kean, a well known and respected fisherman. Messrs. Samuel and Ted Chaplin are also brothers, and the deceased leaves a large family. Mr. Mark Chaplin was about to leave yesterday on a business trip abroad but had to defer it owing to the death of James. To the bereaved widow and family the Telegram extends its most sincere sympathy.

JOHN BYRNE.

Another well known and estimable citizen passed away yesterday in the person of Mr. John Byrne, an aged and respected cooper. Mr. Byrne had been ill only a short time and was in his 76th year. Mr. Byrne was a well known figure on our streets and was a man of sterling worth. He was especially known to the commercial community, as for years he ran a large cooperage, and in his earlier days took an active part in our regattas, and was generally a sportsman. John Byrne was genial and gentlemanly and in St. John's many people will read of his death with sincere sorrow. He was an exemplary member of his church and before death was fortified with the rites of that Church. Mr. Tpos. Byrne, the well known cooper, is a son of the deceased, and several relatives survive him. Mr. Byrne was a life long member of the Mechanics Society. To the bereaved relatives the Telegram extends sincere condolence.

Baseball.

The attendance at the game of the league baseball series yesterday was probably the largest for the season, and almost 1,200 fans saw the Shamrocks defeat the B. I. S. by an innings and two runs in what might be termed one of the best exhibitions of the games yet seen on Stancombe's field. By reason of this defeat the B. I. S. team overtook the Shamrocks for the first year of baseball history, and the Shamrocks are to be congratulated upon their showing in the score. The B. I. S. although defeated, gave a snappy exhibition, but were outclassed at all points. Play ball was called at 11 p.m. when the players lined up as follows:

B. I. S.	Shamrocks.
Power	catcher
Doyne	1st base
Ring	2nd base
Grace	3rd base
Ready	short stop
Campbell	left field
Joy	right field
Flinn	center field
	Pitcher
	Calahan
	Waterfield
	Harsant
	Goodland
	O'Neill
	Brian

The B. I. S. players totalled 10 runs in seven innings and the Shamrocks 32 runs in six innings. The victors' record for the first year has been one they might well feel proud of. Besides making the only triple play for the series they succeeded in winning the silk vest and other prizes donated for the first home run which was secured by their second base player Harsant. In yesterday's game Messrs. McManus and Deuch umpired and Mr. T. Hartnett scored. The following is the standing of the teams:

RAILROADERS' BUSY.—Yesterday it was estimated that 2,500 people mostly excursionists passed over the Reid Co's lines. Fully 700 went out to Fr. O'Brien's Garden Party at Tor's Cove. Another large crowd went to Bay Bulls for that trip and along the line to Carbonara a vast crowd went, even the 6 o'clock train taking a large quota.
