

ENJOYS HEALTH FIRST TIME IN FIFTEEN YEARS.

Montreal Man Ached From Head To Foot With Rheumatism — Troubles Entirely Overcome By Tanlac.

"I'm now a well man, for the first time in fifteen years," said Edmond J. Pierre, 209 St. Christopher St., Montreal, in relating his experience with Tanlac, recently. Mr. Pierre is a well known tailor, having followed his trade for the past thirty years. Some fifteen years or more ago his stomach commenced bothering him. Then I got to having rheumatism, and at the time I got Tanlac had been in bed for four weeks, barely able to move, and my whole body ached and pained me all the time. I think I had indigestion about as bad as a person can and live. I had no appetite at all, and for days a time my stomach was so upset I could eat a mouthful. When I did I got down a little something. It soured and bloated me until I thought my heart would quit beating, and I could not get my breath. Many a night spent sitting in a chair, just gasping for breath and suffering agony. My arms, legs and shoulders swelled terribly with rheumatism, and my wrists and fingers got so stiff I couldn't use them at all, and often couldn't raise my hands to my face. "Well, this was the fix I was in when I started taking Tanlac, and I was so fed up it took a little time for me to feel much benefit. However, I stuck to Tanlac, and it certainly has made a clean sweep of my troubles. Now my appetite is simply enormous, and everything agrees with me so well I've picked up several pounds in weight. In fact, my stomach trouble and rheumatism are entirely gone, and I can work with satisfaction and really enjoy life. My recovery has been wonderful, and Tanlac gets all the credit for it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, in Paradise, by Mrs. Martin F. Byrne, in Upper Gullies, by Heber Andrews, in Portland, by H. C. Haines, in St. Joseph, Salmonier, by Mrs. J. Gushue, in Marytown, by Exploits Valley Royal Stores, Ltd., in Flat Islands, by William Samson, in Jamestown, by Christopher Haines, and in Lewisporte by Uriah Peake.

Britain's Naval Policy.

BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES.

LONDON, March 14.

British naval estimates for 1921-22 amount to nine million, and are the lowest since 1914. They are divided into eight hundred and sixty-nine thousand pounds for the fleet, and eight hundred and forty-two thousand pounds for the dockyard and other services. It was announced by Lord Lee, First Lord of the Admiralty, today, in a statement explaining the estimates. Lord Lee said that the Government's policy was to maintain a "one power stand" and that the Admiralty had decided to assume risks, which under ordinary circumstances they would have avoided. He pointed out that the reduction of the fleet from twenty to sixteen, as compared with thirty-eight in 1914, was the result of the reduction of the fleet, the reduction of the North American and South African squadrons by one light cruiser each, and the temporary withdrawal of the American squadron and the reduction of the personnel of the fleet by ten thousand men. These changes were dictated almost entirely by the need of economy, according to Lord Lee, and make it incumbent on the Admiralty to maintain the reduced fleet in a state of highest possible efficiency. In pursuance of this policy the ships in reserve will be transferred to the disposal list. The number of capital ships on the effective list will thus be thirty.

Nfld. Produce Held at North Sydney.

North Sydney, March 7.—Some two hundred cases of lobster and salmon, valued at about $4,000, have been seized at North Sydney by officials of the Fishery Department.

The seizure was made on Saturday on a quantity of goods arriving here from Newfoundland for use in the United States market. The shippers, it is claimed, have violated certain provisions of the Meat and Canned Goods Act. The Act provides that all such shipments of tinned goods shall be labelled with the name of the packer, and the exact weight of the contents. This provision, it is said, has not been carried out by the Newfoundland packers. It is also illegal for merchants to display canned goods unless they are properly labelled. The goods are being held here pending a decision by the Fisheries Department as to their disposal.

Benefit Day at Rink.

Exciting Girls' Hockey—Fellidians win League Relay Race.

Benefit Day at the Rink was a great success, the building being thronged with people, attracted by the interesting programme prepared for their entertainment. The ice was in excellent condition thanks to the cold spurt still prevailing. Punctually at 7.30 p.m. the first item on the varied programme.

THE GIRLS' HOCKEY GAME

was started by Mr. Hubert Rendell, who was referee. This game which was between the Reds and Blues, both of which teams had already played twice—each side winning a game—ended in a draw, the final score being 2-2. The game was a most exciting one and the girls deserve great credit for being the pioneers in abandoning the off-side rule which, as they say, is rather a nuisance at times. The referee was not quite used to this new rule and occasionally blew his whistle for off-side but after a little practice he will probably become well acquainted with it. A tendency to hit at the puck and miss was very noticeable and some of the players seemed to have formed the habit of throwing their sticks about without the slightest provocation, an action which became distinctly annoying when it causes a player of one's own side to fall over it. A bit of rough play was also in evidence but nothing of a really serious nature occurred to mar the game. Only two penalties were handed out, but the referee was very lax in this respect. The game was played in two fifteen minute periods.

THE FIRST PERIOD

was also a very exciting one. The Reds scored soon after the start and play became quite fast from that on, until very near the end Miss D. Sellars equalized. When the final gong went both sides were equal. A play off was thus necessitated, and the players of both sides came out to it with a look of dogged determination written on every face, reminding one of the famous picture of the "Die Hard". After four minutes play, however, as no scoring had resulted, the game was brought to an end, the final score being 2 all. The line-up was:—

THE RACES.

Immediately following the girls' game the races were begun. The first of these was the inter-collegiate relay race which was won by St. Bon's. Only the Fellidians and St. Bon's entered a team. Phelan (S.B.) and Lloyd (F.) went off first. Phelan led until near the end of the third lap when he fell and Lloyd took the lead handing the flag on to LeMessurier who was closely followed by Eagan, the latter considerably cutting down the distance between him and his rival. LeMessurier was followed by Withers but Fraser of St. Bon's soon overtook him and beat him easily, thus winning the race for his school.

INTER-COLLEGIATE GAME

In which St. Bon's played a combined team of Fellidians and Methodist. This game which proved a most keenly contested one, and provided quite a bit of excitement at times, ended in a win for the Allies by 4 goals to 3. Mr. J. Tobin, the referee, started the game at 9 p.m. and 20 minute periods were played.

THE SECOND PERIOD

was quite a good one, the advantage being slightly on the side of St. Bon's. Tilley in goal for the Allies played a good game saving several difficult shots. After some excellent stick-handling Herder scored for the victors 2 minutes after the start and Murphy equalized with 6 minutes to go. Before the gong went, Halley put St. Bon's ahead after a good bit of play. During the period a few penalties were handed out for minor offences.

A PLAY OFF.

was started immediately but it was not until only three minutes were left that Johnston netted what was to prove the winning goal. Although St. Bon's worked hard up to the last minute they were unable to equalize. The line-up was:—

ST. BON'S

Goal. Tilley

Defence. Withers

Centre. Herder

Left. Johnston

Spares. LeMessurier

Allies—Bayley.

That Thrifty Scotsman.

As an illustration of thrift and determination, the story of Sir William MacGregor, at one time Governor of Newfoundland, would be hard to beat.

Sir William, when completing his training at a Scottish University, found his money becoming exhausted. He could spare no time from his studies in which to earn any. Something had to be done, so MacGregor called his old Scottish landlady into consultation as to ways and means.

"Well, Mr. MacGregor, how much a week can you find?"

"Half a crown."

"Well, I can do it for that," MacGregor had a bowl of porridge for breakfast, two fresh herrings or one red one—the cost of the fresh ones being identical with the cured ones—for dinner, and another bowl of porridge for supper. He completed his course and took the gold medal for his year.

Exchange and a Customs Tariff.

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir,—The following clipping from "The British Export Gazette" and "The Customs Department" will be of the greatest interest to every importer of goods in Newfoundland.

Australian Merchants Defeat the Customs.

"Apropos of Australia, it will be remarked, not without a good deal of satisfaction, that the test case against the Customs Department, which had made a practice of charging duty on imports at the pre-war rate of exchange instead of at the current bank rate, has been decided against the Department, the latter also having to pay the costs of the action. It is now being debated whether the Court's judgment will affect all cases in which duty has been levied on a higher scale, but whether it does or not, the Queensland firm of importers who brought the case are to be heartily congratulated on the result of the action, and on the success with which they have vindicated the rights of the Australian commercial community generally against an unjust and obnoxious imposition."

The Newfoundland Customs has been charging duty on imports at the pre-war rate of exchange instead of at the current bank rate right along and this is, as the British Export Gazette terms it, "an unjust and obnoxious imposition."

It apparently has not occurred to anybody here to test the validity of this practice but after reading the above extract let us hope some firm will, if duties have been charged on English exports at the current Bank rate (which I think at one time went as low as $3.80 to the pound) it would certainly have reduced the "high cost of living" during a period of hard times and even now it would help matters somewhat.

Yours very truly,

March 14, 1921.

The Misfortunes of Genius.

Homer was a beggar; Plautus turned a mill; Terence was a slave; Boethius died in jail; Paul Borghese had fourteen trades, and yet starved with them all; Tasso was often distressed for five shillings; Bentivoglio was refused admittance into a hospital he had himself erected.

Cervantes died of hunger; Camoens, the celebrated writer of the "Lusiad," ended his days, it is said, in an almshouse, and, at any rate, was supported by a faithful black servant who begged in the streets of Lisbon; Dryden lived in poverty and distress.

In our own country Bacon lived a life of meanness and distress. Sir Walter Raleigh died on the scaffold; Spenser died forsaken and in want; Milton sold his copyright of "Paradise Lost" for £15, in three payments, and finished his life in obscurity. Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield" was sold for a trifle to save him from the grip of the law; Savage died in prison at Bristol, where he was confined for a debt of £3; Butler lived in penury, and died poor; Chatterton, the child of genius and misfortune, destroyed himself.

John Habberton Dead.

AUTHOR OF "HELEN'S BABIES" WAS LIVING IN SOLDIERS' HOME AT KEARNY.

John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," of which more than a quarter million copies were sold in this country after its publication in 1876, died on February 26th in the Mountsinai Hospital, Glen Ridge, N.J., at the age of 78. He had been living at the Soldiers' Home at Kearny, N.J., where several of the men pay board; but it was known that he had not long retained his royalties, for he was an exceptionally generous man. He adopted several children into his home at New Rochelle, where he lived many years, and he could not resist doing an act of kindness though it were beyond his means.

Mr. Habberton was born in Brooklyn, and during the Civil War rose from private to Lieutenant, and later spent seventeen years as an editorial writer on the New York Herald, from 1876 to 1893. A score of novels, are credited to him, and one play, "Deacon Crankett," which was performed more than 500 times.

Thursday, February 24th was his birthday and he had meant to attend a party in his honor at the home of his niece, Mrs. E. T. Biddell in Montclair.—EX.
