On the Road to Logy Bay

Tell me not of far lands, with their castles tall and hoary, With their monarchs and warriors, and wondrous works of art, O, I will sing of my land, with its simple fishing story,
And of a place that's very dear to many an honest heart.

You will find a road which winds its way into a little village, To the East of St. John's City where I often took my way:
Where combined with fishing there, the toilers work at tillage, 'Tis a pleasant walk in summer on the road to Logy Bay.

Sure the brooklets by the roadside, clear as crystal they are gushing, There are groves of spruce and alder to be met with here and there;

And the buttercups and daisies, and the wild rose sweetly blushing, What heavy spots in other lands with this spot can compare.

There you'll see the blackbird and the tiny little sparrow, As they troll love notes, in the fields of new mown hay—
And many a swain was smitten I am sure by Cupid's arrow, When out upon a ramble on the road to Logy Bay.

Most hearty will your welcome be, if there you should be meeting, With the men or women, who beside that place reside;—
'Tis "good morning" and "God bless you," Or, it is the soul's true greeting, A thing unknown, uncared for by the art of flimsy pride.

Foreign lands may boast of art, of castles tall and hoary, New York may sing about the lights "along her old Broadway"; More dear to one, is my land with its simple fishing story,
And in summer time to ramble on the road to Logy Bay.

Pleasant Reminiscences of a Popular Play.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—It is with pleasure I read in the Telegram last evening that the B.I.S. have decided to reproduce "Under the Gaslight." It is many years ago since I first saw it staged with the Misses Bride (now Mrs. John Baxter) and Kitty Jordan and Messrs. Tom O'Neill and Phil Moore in the leading roles. The others I cannot remember but the scenes spoken of in your article in yesterday's edition (vilest of the wharf scene and the track scene) I remember quite vividly. The first night it was played, the late J. C. who was then a very prominent Government official left his seat and coming right up to the front of the stage in the old B.I.S. Hall leaned over the footlights and said in a very audible voice "Tis the completest thing I've ever seen" and then turned round and nodded to the audience as if to solicit their approval of his pronouncement.
Another funny incident to occur was when Snorkey was tied to the track and the young lady locked in the baggage room, the noise of the approaching train made the whole audience stand on their feet with excitement.
In the midst of it a young chap who is now the leading figure in one of our fraternal organisations was so carried away that he cried out to the heroine "Get an axe—get an axe!"

"Under the Gaslight" is a splendid drama and I am sure all the "old timers" like myself will turn out with anticipated pleasure to see it. I thank you, Mr. Editor, for permitting me to use up so much of your valuable space, but the mere mention of the name carries one back to days of happy hours and pleasant memories, gone, alas! to return no more.

Yours truly,
L. F. M.

EXAMPLE.

Perhaps the victory shall not come to me, Perhaps I shall not reach the goal I seek,
It may be at the last I shall be weak And falter as the promised land I see; Yet I must try for it and strive to be All that a conqueror is. On to the peak,
Must be my call—this way lies victory!

Boy, take my hand and bear me when I speak.
There is the goal, in honor make the fight.
I may not reach it but, my boy, you can.
Cling to your faith and work with all your might,
Some day the world shall hail you as a man.
And when at last shall come your happy day, Enough for me that I have shown the way.

Hodder Declares

He Can Do Twice
As Much Work Now

Grate's Cove Man So Weak He Couldn't Work—Is Now In Fine Shape.

"I'm a believer in Tanlac, for it not only restored me to health but also keeps me in first-class trim," said Eli Hodder, Grate's Cove, Bay de Verde district, Newfoundland.
"When I first began taking Tanlac I was in a weak and run-down condition and hardly able to work. My stomach had been out of order for several years and I had reached the point where I actually dreaded to eat anything."

"Tanlac proved to be just what I needed and soon had my stomach in excellent condition. My strength and energy came back and I was able to do twice as much work as I had been doing before. If I ever feel myself getting under the weather I immediately take Tanlac and it acts almost like magic. It certainly delivers the goods."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Sagona Gone North.

S.S. Sagona, Capt. Tavernor, reached Curling at about 3.30 p.m. on Saturday, says the Western Star of Jan.
4th. She got north as far as Port Saunders, where she had to steam through about ten miles of ice and then was unable to get into the harbor. At Bonne Bay there was a little slosh ice making, but not much of any account. The Sagona left there at 1 o'clock Thursday and arrived at Lark Harbor that same evening. From Lark Harbor she proceeded to Middle Arm and took on board about a thousand barrels herring which she brought in here. The Sagona is scheduled to sail north again to-day. This, we understand, will be her last trip on this route this season. Upon her return here she will load herring for North Sydney. It was reported on Saturday that she will return to Humbermouth with a cargo of coal, and then take away another cargo of herring.

"Blundering Billy."

At St. Joseph's Hall on Monday night next one of the prettiest performances will be staged at St. Joseph's Hall, Holytown, for the benefit of the parish. Mr. T. M. White's Dramatic Co. will appear in a 3 act comedy drama entitled "Blundering Billy," while the specialties are left into the hands of Miss Ida Hewitt together with the Mount Cashel-bags.
After the performance a dance will take place, which will be given free to those attending the play, the music being supplied by four brass instruments. With such well known performers a unique presentation of a first-class entertainment is in store for all who attend, and as the tickets are at the Royal Stationery no doubt a capacity house will greet the performers.—adv.

Alconda in Collision.

S.S. Alconda, which was engaged during the summer carrying pulp and paper from Botwood to London for the A.N.D. Co., was in collision with two steamers, the Sagona and Bogota in the Clyde on December 14th last.
The Alconda received serious damage, the Bogota had her rudder carried away, and the Sagona also received considerable injury. The Al-conda was bound from London to Glasgow at the time of the accident, and is now undergoing repairs at Prince's Dock.

FREEZONE

Corns Lift Off
with Fingers

Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. It doesn't hurt a bit.
Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn,

Not Corner Brook But Deer Lake.

The Humber Valley proposition is now engaging the careful attention of the Government, and we have every confidence that it will receive due consideration from every point of view. We understand the present plans provide for the erection of the works at the head of Deer Lake, instead of Corner Brook as in original plan. It is also reported that shipping docks will be constructed at Cow Head or Summerside, and will be connected with the works at Deer Lake by a spur line of railway running north of Deer Lake and Humber River. No doubt in a few weeks the whole matter will come before the Legislature, when the public will have an opportunity to know just what the proposals are and the concessions asked for.—Western Star.

Motor Car Ran Down Child.

Yesterday evening, a little daughter of Mr. J. Burnstein, whilst crossing Water Street, near her home, was struck by a motor car owned by Mr.
B. Stafford and thrown to the ground.
The driver stopped his machine immediately and brought the child to a doctor. It was found that beyond slight bruises on the head and legs the little one was not injured.

Fashions and Fads.

The waistline is slightly higher.
The bateau neck is still in favor.
The feather comb is a whim of fashion.
The long skirt is decidedly the smart one.
Paris favors the high collar for the street.
The scarf sleeve is gaining in popularity.

Motifs of plaited braid trim a smart suit.
Floating panels even appear on evening wraps.
The reign of the long wide sleeve is in full sway.
Shades of flame and orange are very fashionable.
The transparent hem is used to give added length.
Black and white are being combined in a great deal.
The new cape-manteau is a prominent feature of the mode.
A dress of navy serge has sleeves of cyclamen chiffon.
Many charming costumes are made with the tunic blouse.
The youthful mandarin coat is developed in handsome furs.
Linings of coats and wraps are shown in vividly colored silks.
This season sees a great deal of fur banding used as trimming.
Long wide sleeves are drawn in at the wrist with narrow cuffs.
