U. S. MARINES SENT TO COERCE HAYTIEN REBELS

Force of Seven Hundred Sailed for Santo Domingo Friday to Open Customs
Action Is Taken by Taft on Showing of Interference With Revenues

Washington, Sept. 29.—A force of 750 American marines under Col. F. J. Moses sailed from Philadelphia on Friday on the transport Prairie for Santo Domingo to compel the reopening of the Dominican custom-houses, closed by Haytien revolutionists.

Authority for this step was given by President Taft after a conference with Acting Secretary of the Navy New York in the private car on which the president was returning to Beverly.

With the American marines went Brig. Gen. McIntyre, chief of the army insular bureau, and Mr. Doyle, a special commissioner to investigate conditions in Santo Domingo, particularly on the border between that country and Hayti, where the revolutionists have been most active.

Resistance Not Expected. Whatever force necessary will be used by the marines to reopen the ports and continue their operation.
