Details of the Disaster in the Oil Regions.

Two Hundred Lives Lost in Oil City Alone.

Many More Names Added to the Long Roll of Dead and Missing-The Fency Loss Away Up in the Millicus-How the Blaze Began.

ADDITIONS TO THE DEATH ROLL.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., June 6.—The following are added to the list of the dead: Henry Riche, of Buffalo; Miss Golda Cohen, Mrs. Neal McKenzie, John McFadden, Mary. McFadden, Wm. Eckerts' child, Mrs. C. P. Casperson, Geo. Pease, Mrs. Lena Osmer and twoi children, Mrs. Fred Reid and Amelia Reid (aged 12), Fred Reid and Amelia Reid (aged 12), This makes a total of 53 bodies recovered.

THE FIRE BURNS ITSELF OUT.

OIL CITY, Pa., June 6.—Ac 6 o'clock this morning the fire had burned itself out. The creek and river are rising, but there is little left which the flood can damage. The fire has left nothing upon which it could prey. The flood destroyed one mile of property along the creek on the west side. Across the creek from the main portion of the city not a house is standing between the creek and hill. On the east side from the mouth of Oil Creek for a distance of three-fourths of a mile every building except one along the creek has been destroyed. HUNDRED LIVES LOST IN OIL CITY will be over $1,000,000.

ALONE.

At 7 a.m. 63 bodies had been found. It is safe to say the loss of life in this city alone will reach 200. The financial loss will be over $1,000,000.

THE CAUSE.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., June 6—2:30 p.m.—
George Stephens, a prominent merchant here, says the fire was caused by a spark from a passing train on the Western, New York and Pennsylvania Railway, which ignited the oil in a tank alongside the line. The oil set fire to every building with which it came into contact. which it came into contact DELUGED BY A BURSTING DAM.

mill dam at Union City burst and all of the water swept through the town, carrying 30 houses from their foundations. The damage will reach $100,000.

damage will reach $100,000.

TRUE HERGES.

THUSVILLE, Pa., June 6.—Had it not been for the heroic work of Tony Daub and Wm. Bennett the death list would have been increased by over50 more. The two men set out in skiffs, and by most heroulean efforts succeeded in placing the occupants of various dwellings in secure places. The body of Fred Luers, a lame watchman, was found this afternoon. This makes 56 bodies found. There are fifteen bodies lying in McNett's rooms which are burned beyond recognition.

lying in McNett's rooms which are burned beyond recognition.

THE OIL CITY DEAD.

OIL CITY, Pa., June 6.—At a late hour to-night 67 bodies had been taken from the ruins. It is estimated that the loss of life will reach at least 150—many put the figures at 200. The number of bodies recovered gives no fair estimate of the number lost, and it will be impossible ever to learn how many are missing.
