Windsor claims the title of the Typograph City. Windsor has the honor of being the headquarters in Canada for the manufacture of typographs. It has also the honor of being the only city in Canada operating an electric street railway. In this respect it is also ahead of its big, goodlooking but somewhat slow neighbor over the river. Windsor is the only place in Canada where a typograph and an electric railway can be seen in operation.

A gentleman closely identified with the Government at Ottawa was in Windsor on Wednesday. The opinion prevails that he was here making inquiries about Earnest Pacaud, wanted at Ottawa as a witness in the Baie des Chaleurs Railway investigation.
