THE GRAND MASTER WORKMAN'S REPORT.

The following extracts from Grand Master Workman Daniel Spry's annual report convey a good idea of the progress of the order in Canada during last year.

From every section of our jurisdiction encouraging reports have been received, indicating zeal and fidelity in the performance of their duty by the officers and m-mbers of our great brotherhood. Lodges which have been dormant for some years have awakened to new life, there has been better attendance at the lodge meetings, and a large increase in the membership. All along the line we have had renewed energy and active exertion among the members, securing the grand results which I shall lay before you to-day, and showing what can be accomplished when a! endeavor to do their best to make the order the most beneficial,
as well as the most influential, in Canada.

We have a great increase of members during the past year, as the following statement will show:

Scized an Embodied Spirit.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Three reporters and a detective the other night attended a dark cabinet scance, and when the proper time arrived one of them seized the embodied spirit and another struck a light. The result was screams and a sensation. Then a patrol wagon drove up and Mrs. Carrie M. Sawyer and Miss Kittie Ranger, who played the parts of spirits, and Frank Burk, manager, were bundled in and carried off to a police station, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses.

The St. George Accident.

Toronto, Feb 20.—The St. George accident cases occupy considerable attention at Osgoode Hall. A number of witnesses were examined vesterday. Among these were Mr. Wm. Pott, who was a passenger on the train, and being in the smoker escaped uninjured; James A. Heaslip and Robert Hilton, two of the claimants, who were in the coach that fell through the bridge; Thomas McKenzie and Jessie Gibson, who had a special knowledge of the accident though not on the train.

The Believille Murder—Discovery of the Culprit.

Belleville, Feb. 20.—The brutal murder of Hannah Cole on Dundas street Monday night is still the sole topic of conversation. Richard Arnott was arrested on suspicion of being one of the parties, but no evidence could be brought against him and the Magistrate dismissed him. Yesterday aftermon the police received private information that Walter Heartgraves knew something about the murder. He was taken to the police headquarters and when confronted with the crime turned Queen's evidence. He affirms that he had nothing to do with the murder, but implicates William Arnott, who has all along been suspected as the guilty party. The police are now scouring the country for Arnott. Susquehanna, Fa., Feb. 20.—Susquehanna county, is greatly interested in a queer lawsuit. Philander Brown and his wife, of Lathrop township, were last week arrested and brought before Esquire Courtwright in Montrose, charged by Paul Hill, of Lathrop, with fleecing him out of $2,700. Hill says that Brown and his wife claimed to be spiritualists. They represented to him that Jesus Christ was in need of a large sum of money and that Hill must supply it Brown also said he had received letters asking for money and signed "Jesus Christ," and that he had also received letters purporting to have come from a deceased relative of Hill, saying that she was very much in need of money and clothes.

After one of the most exciting trials ever held in this county Brown and his wife were held to bail, in default of which they were sent to jail. Brown now brings suit against Hill and A. H. McCollum, his attorney, for damages amounting to $109,000, and also against Constable Orlando Watrous and Esquire Courtright for $10,000 each for false imprisonment.

SHE PRAYED ALL NIGHT.

Court Clerk Williams Taylor Made

New York, Feb. 20.—William Taylor, a clerk in Justice of the Peace Rusche's court in Hoboken, was closing the office the other night when a woman stepped in and asked for the Justice. The clerk told the other night when a woman stepped in and asked for the Justice. The clerk told her the Justice had gone for the night. The woman then fell on her knees and began to pray in Swedish. Taylor asked her to leave the office. She refused to go, and continued praying, occasionally changing to German, and finally to English. Taylor says he couldn't go out for a policeman because he didn't dare to leave her alone in the office. He tried to persuade her to go. The only satisfaction he got was that she continued her prayers in English, instead of German or Swedish. She prayed for two hours and then got up and turned around twice, dropped on her knees again and resumed her praying.

About midnight Taylor made extraordinary efforts to induce the woman to leave the office. He didn't succeed, and he then made himself as comfortable as possible on two chairs for an all night siege. The woman prayed on, only stopping occasionally for a minute or two.

Justice Rusche arrived at his office about 9 o'clock the next morning. He found his clerk half asleep on the chairs and the woman praying. He didn't know what to make of the scene, and went out and called a policeman, who arrested the woman. She said she was Mrs. Mary Olsen, and that make of the scene, and went out and called a policeman, who arrested the woman. She said she was Mrs. Mary Olsen, and that the Lord had told her to pray all night to save the clerk's soul. She apparently was insane. Taylor had been confined with her nine hours, and was very happy at his release. The woman was committed to the county jail to be examined by the county physician.

This is unhappily an age of skepticism, but there is one point upon which persons acquainted with the subject agree, namely, that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a medicine which can be relied upon to cure a cough, remove pain, heal sores of various kinds, and benefit any inflamed portion of the body to which it is applied.

Is the latest and greatest improvement in the way of soap. It combines miraculous dirt-removing, time and labor-saving qualities with perfect harmless. ness; the finest and coarsest articles are alike washed more easily and better than with any other soap or compound. Pearline does away with the most of the rubbing, hence it saves the most of the wear. It is the continuous rubbing on a board which wears out your clothes, rubs off the buttons and strings-not so much the wearing. It cleans paint, china, windows, glassware and carpets without taking up. Over one million families are now using Pearline. Its popularity is unparalleled.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers are offering imitations which they claim to be Pearline, or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—they are not, and besides are dangerous. PEARLINE is never peddled, but sold by all good grocers.
