

WHENEVER I see Hood's Sarsaparilla now I want to bow and say "Thank You!"

I was badly affected with Eczema and Scrofula. Sore, covering almost the whole of one side of my face, nearly to the top of my head. Running sores discharged from both ears. My eyes were very bad, the eyelids so sore it was painful opening or closing them. For nearly a year I was deaf. I went to the hospital and had an operation performed for the removal of a cancerous growth from one eye. One day my sister brought me which I took, and gradually began to feel better and stronger, and slowly the sores on my eyes and in my ears healed. I can now hear and see as well as ever. Mrs. AMANDA PAISLEY, 179 Lander Street, Newburgh, N. Y.

CANADIANS ON THE THAMES.

LONDON, England, June 5.—Despite the boisterous weather of the past week, Ryan and Wright, the crack Canadian scullers, are pluckily sticking to their practice on the Thames. Wright has gradually reduced his weight, and both men are now in perfect health and condition. Experts in rowing express their opinions that the men will do Canada credit when they start for the diamond sculls and silver goblets at Henley next month.

My Dear William, In the Farmers' Sun of May 8 I observed that the leading editorial is devoted to ourselves. There would be no objection to that if the whole article was as true as certain parts of it. Referring to myself, the editor says: "The oldest Patron in Oxford county has a record that is unique. A sturdy, honest, intelligent Scotchman, he proudly maintains the principles of our order, and champions our cause against all comers." Referring to you, he says: "In a neighboring constituency, the son—also a sturdy, honest, intelligent man—has become an exponent of Criticism, and is the sitting member for the Legislature. The son is a dutiful fellow, but filial regard cannot influence him to cease to worship at the shrine of the Premier of this Province."

You are quite able to tell the electors of North Brant why you have given the Government a general support, and like myself I think you can point to your private and public record as the best proof of your honesty and intelligence. So far, so good, but the point of the editorial is the subsequent reference made to myself. "The aged parent will, however, regard it to be a duty to support the Patron candidate, who is contesting the riding of North

The General Elections

Good Work Being Done for Jackson in East Middlesex.

Natural Mistake Made by an Old-Time Conservative.

A Pretty Bubble Most Effectually Pricked—Latest Nominations and Withdrawals.

THE CAMPAIGN IN EAST MIDDLESEX.

An enthusiastic meeting was held Monday night at Dorchester Station in the interests of Mr. R. W. Jackson, the Reform candidate.

As the campaign proceeds it appears to be quite evident that the liberal-minded Conservatives are uniting with the Reformers to vote down the P. P. A. candidate, Mr. Shore. The Patrons of Industry do not feel themselves in any way tied to Mr. Shore, nor do they see any reason why they should abandon the Government of Sir Oliver Mowat, whose platform meets with their views in almost every respect.

The chair was occupied by Mr. C. W. Edwards, J.P., who introduced the Reform candidate, Mr. R. W. Jackson.

Mr. Jackson reviewed what the Mowat Administration had done for the farming community, and pointed out how, by its own various ways, and by the encouragement of farmers' institutions, the position of the farmer was being improved. He referred to the position taken by Canada at the World's Fair as proof that the farmers of Canada were not behind the farmers of the world.

An invitation was then given to any speaker on the other side who desired to speak, but no one came forward.

Mr. Archibald Black then addressed the meeting. He dealt with the question of separate schools and conclusively showed that no reason existed, apart from prejudice or bigotry, why any charge should be laid against the Mowat Administration. Mr. Black displays, as a speaker, the qualifications of clearness and fairness, and when he had dealt with the subject there was little left to be said.

Mr. A. S. McGregor delivered a rousing speech. He dealt with the questions of biennial sessions, Government House, partly with separate schools and the mining industry of the country. Mr. McGregor, in an able manner, sustained the position of the Government on all these questions.

The meeting was brought to a close by Mr. T. H. Fardon. He recalled the incident of 1886, on the occasion of the visit of Sir Oliver Mowat to St. Mary's, when one of their banners had printed across it, 1872-1886-1886-1900. He stated that eight years of that prophesy had already been fulfilled, and it looked as if Sir Oliver Mowat would complete the century and his four score years at the same time, and that the Province during the balance of the time would be governed by the Mowat Administration. He urged all Reformers and Conservatives to support Mr. Jackson in preference to Mr. Shore. He pointed out that the questions arising in the Ontario Legislature were not so much party questions as they were questions of business. There was no reason why Conservatives or Reformers should not unite against the P. P. A. candidate, Mr. Shore. He dealt generally with the other issues.

The meeting closed with three cheers for the chairman, Sir Oliver Mowat, Mr. R. W. Jackson and the Queen.

MINUTE OF THE MEETING.

Whether the Conservatives are of the opinion that the election is already won or not, it is evident that there is a lack of interest in their meetings and some are getting tired of their attempt to find some charge against the Government. There was but a slim attendance at their recent meeting in McColl's central committee rooms. The speech of the evening was made by T. W. Crothers, who gave his attention to the officer governing and the Roman Catholics, throwing in a little about Peter Ryan, who he said had a strong hand on Mowat, because he (Ryan) was a Catholic, and controlled the Catholic vote. After Mr. Crothers had spoken, a short time, a little incident occurred which caused a coldness to govern the audience. Mr. Orr interrupted the speaker by saying, "Mr. Crothers, I have always been a good Conservative, and a loyal subject of the Queen. My father fought in the rebellion of 1836 and 1837. I came here thinking it was a political meeting. Is that true?" Mr. Crothers, "Certainly. Mr. Orr, 'Oh, I thought I had got into a religious meeting.' Some said out that he should take the platform, but he said, 'No, I will not; I will not stay here,' and left the room." (St. Thomas Journal.)

AN F. P. MISSTATEMENT EXPOSED.

The Opposition papers are getting desperate early in the campaign. For the purpose of raising feeling among the Patrons against the Administration, the London Free Press stated that Hon. Mr. Harcourt "denounced" Mr. Darling, the Patron candidate, at the Ridgeway meeting on Tuesday evening of last week. This statement is simply untrue. Mr. Harcourt, instead of denouncing Mr. Darling, said he was glad to see him on the platform, and warmly thanked him for his generous references to the purity of the Mowat Government. A member of that Government could not very well denounce a man who gave unsolicited testimony in its favor. (Amherst Echo.)

"LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON."

Brantford Examiner: In a recent issue of the Farmer's Sun was an article, with the above caption, the purport of which will be gleaned by the appended letter written by Mr. Alexander Wood, of East Nissouri, to his son, W. B. Wood, ex-M.P., North Brant:

EAST NISSOURI, May 15, 1894.

My Dear William, In the Farmers' Sun of May 8 I observed that the leading editorial is devoted to ourselves. There would be no objection to that if the whole article was as true as certain parts of it. Referring to myself, the editor says: "The oldest Patron in Oxford county has a record that is unique. A sturdy, honest, intelligent Scotchman, he proudly maintains the principles of our order, and champions our cause against all comers." Referring to you, he says: "In a neighboring constituency, the son—also a sturdy, honest, intelligent man—has become an exponent of Criticism, and is the sitting member for the Legislature. The son is a dutiful fellow, but filial regard cannot influence him to cease to worship at the shrine of the Premier of this Province."

You are quite able to tell the electors of North Brant why you have given the Government a general support, and like myself I think you can point to your private and public record as the best proof of your honesty and intelligence. So far, so good, but the point of the editorial is the subsequent reference made to myself. "The aged parent will, however, regard it to be a duty to support the Patron candidate, who is contesting the riding of North Oxford against Sir Oliver." This statement is wholly and entirely untrue. I am a Patron, and it is true that I have always been willing to maintain the principles of our order, but I have never considered myself bound, and I will not be bound, to turn my back upon Sir Oliver Mowat in the present contest. I do not claim to be in exact accord with every part of Sir Oliver's policy, but my intelligence is at least great enough to appreciate good government wherever I find it, and, taking it all in all, I regard it as the best we have ever seen in Canada. In another sentence the editor says: "To battle for purity and economy in the administration of public affairs is a record that many good men of to-day will be proud to leave to their children's children." These are true words, and they furnish the very reason why I intend to support the Mowat Administration. I am not prepared to barter away my liberty and sacrifice my judgment and independence to satisfy the ambitions of the men who framed the slavish resolutions of 1894. No political party in Canada ever sought thus to "boss" and "bully" its supporters. Perhaps the editor will now place my name in the black list along with Mr. Joseph Stratford, the president of the county of Brant association, a gentleman who has done heroic service for the Patrons of Ontario, and who is (in the Farmers' Sun of May 15) accused of being a partisan. Well, let it be so. We are in good company, Mr. Stratford. The list of good Patrons who refuse to oppose parliamentarians who have done all in their power for the farmers is swelling every day, and nothing so much tends to add to its number as the foolish attempt of some of our leaders to muzzle and chain their fellow-reformers.

ALEX. WOOD.

The Oldest Patron in Oxford.

Mr. Wrigley's bubble has been most effectually pricked and all the sweetness he has lavished on the father for the purpose of making it uncomfortable for the son has been wasted. The Oldest Patron in Oxford proposes to retain his own liberty of action. He believes, in a different sense from Mr. Malloy, that "Britons never will be slaves," and will not be fettered even by the Patron "bosses."
