PROTEST FLAG USE

High Authority Says It Is Customary Practice During War.

WAR ZONE PROCLAMATION

President Wilson Awaits German Memorandum Before Reaching Decision.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, Feb. 9.—The Administration view of the hoisting of the American flag on the British steamship Lusitania, as stated today on the highest authority, is that the use of other flags by ships of nations at war is such a customary practice that no formal protest can be made, but that it will be proper to send to Great Britain a note pointing out the danger to neutral shipping which may follow if such a practice is continued.

Explanation Needed
Regarding the establishment of a war zone by Germany around the British Isles, President Wilson said today he was awaiting the German Government's memorandum being forwarded by Ambassador Gerard before reaching a decision on what attitude to take. He said Germany's first proclamation on the subject contained many questions on which the United States would like further explanation.

The President takes the view that the war zone proclaimed by Germany does not constitute a blockade, or even a paper blockade. He stated that it was simply a warning.

Out of Congress Control
The President said that action by Congress could not control the use of the American flag by foreign ships, and that restrictions on such practices would have to come through international agreement.

The Administration is studying the war zone question with the view of determining its possible effect on American shipping, and will seek to get full information from Germany on exactly what was intended and what measures will be taken to insure American vessels from attack.

Mr. Wilson mentioned Ambassador Bernstorff's explanation of the war zone order, but repeated that the United States would not finally determine on its course until the explanation from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin was received.

Will Protect Rights
High officials of the United States attached much importance to the Lusitania and war zone situations, and it was made clear today that every effort will be made to protect American rights.

President Wilson told callers that up to the present no other neutral governments have officially asked the cooperation of the United States in forwarding its final reply to the American.

Discussing the general international situation, President Wilson said today that time taken by Great Britain in forwarding its final reply to the American.

SOISSONS BOMBARDMENT

Enemy Uses Projectiles in an Effort To Set Town On Fire.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, Feb. 9.—2:45 p.m.—The report on the progress of the war given out this afternoon by the French war office follows:

"In Belgium yesterday there were intermittent artillery exchanges, and the Belgian army headquarters, in a communication issued today by the British press bureau, lays stress upon the political significance of the wholesale surrendering of the Belgian army, which compose the Austro-Hungarian army."

These surrenders are an indication of the feelings and aspirations of the various nationalities banded together under the name of "Austria," Professor Pares declared, "and the political significance of the wholesale surrendering of the Belgian army, which compose the Austro-Hungarian army."

Professor Pares says the Czechs regard the Russians as brothers, and will be treated as such by the Allies. He said the Czechs are now in the hands of the Germans.

Speaking of the Menonites who are so numerous in the United States, Prof. Pares says that, although they are in military service because of their objection to war, they are serving in large numbers as ambulance volunteers.

Speaking of the attitude of the Russian soldiers toward death in the trenches, Prof. Pares says that it is "going to America, the United States, and the British observer."
