STOCKS AND NEWSPRINT.

Our Canadian stock exchanges continue to be preoccupied with the drop in paper stocks and the reported forthcoming cuts in the price of newsprint. If the Canadian newsprint industry is really to run into a period of lower prices for its commodity, its effect upon the companies involved will be largely a question of their preparedness, Some have shown in their financial statements that their margin of safety is too narrow to successfully cope with smaller output and lower prices while in other cases performances have proved other cases performances have proved hat shareholders can face with complace may such a development as that in question. It is natural that the market hould reflect such possibilities, and the echnical position of the various stocks will play an important part in their market performances under such conditions.

pearing in some circular we have not seen which says: "Total consumption in Canada increased from 3,597,394 barrels in 1918 to 7,086,538 barrels in 1923, but fails to state that the consumption in 1923 was about 38 per cent less than in 1913, so that, as a matter of fact, in the last seven years I regret to say Canada's consumption of cement has not increased, but has decreased."

Mr. Jones denies the reports that the present time is witnessing "a rush of present time is witnessing "a rush of construction in homes, factories and all classes of building work being done." He qualifies this as an outrageous statement for anybody with any sense of responsibility.

Brazil holds the dominating influence in the coffee market at present, and dealers are giving that government full credit for its cleverness in handling its coffee problems. The coffee market of America is practically based on Rio

A war of words and reading matter is at present in progress with regard to statements being made in the press concerning the cement industry in Canada. F. P. Jones, president of the Canada Cement Company, issued a statement yesterday, referring to literature published on his company earlier in the week.

Mr. Jones points to a statement and confirmation of the maintenance of arbitrary values by government action, is dependent for its success largely on the results of efforts by the Brazilian government to obtain a loan from Britania.

With the demand fairly good, twelve loads of hay, ranging from $13 to $15 per ton, were offered on this morning's market.

The price of oats has dropped from $1.65 to $1.60 per cwt. Very little butter was offered this morning. The price remains the same. There is no change in the price of

REGINA MORNING LEADER:
"Any budget brought down at a time like this must expect to be vigorously attacked. The violence of the attack will be measured by the extent of the fiscal innovations proposed. The budget brought down Thursday will displease certain powerful interests ably represented in the House of Commons; but to the country generally it will appeal as an earnest and promising effort to reduce the taxation along sound economic lines."

SASKATOON PHOENIX: "Mr. Robb's taxation proposals go a long way toward satisfying the demand of those Canadians who have, in the past, felt the tax burden most heavily. The cut in tariffs on implements of all kinds is a substantial measure of relief to the agricultural industry."

GRAIN MARKET GOSSIP

There has been some buying of wheat and corn that looks like short wheat and corn that looks like short covering.

Inactivity of the market is discouraging to everyone, and disgusted holders may commence to liquidate without any new item of news. There being no cash demand and only a small short interest in the market, it is hard to conceive of a buying power to absorb liquidating sales.

It takes very little selling to affect prices, as the buying power is frightfully poor. frices, as the buying power is fright-fully poor.

It is the practice of wheat ware-housemen to balance their holdings of wheat either by forward sales for ship-ment or by hedging sales of the futures. Delivery of wheat on the sales will bring home to the owner the difficulty, not to say the impossibility, of finding new buyer. The government report looked bullish on its face, showing 237,000,000 bushels of winter wheat less than last year. It should not be taken seriously, as there has been no growing weather this year

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, April 10. — The wheat market was dull today, and prices iluctuated within narrow limits during most of the session, but near the end firmed up, and closed about ½c higher for May, ¼c higher for July and ½c for October. The general demand was not very strong, and, with lower cables, little incentive was given the market. There was some switching going on which looked like liquidating May and getting into the more distant futures, especially October. Overnight sales for export were estimated at about 200,000 bushels of wheat, while Norway was reported to have purchased 400,000 bushels of rye.

The future coarse grains were all steady, with prices little changed from Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, April 11.—The budget speech had but little effect on the local stock market this morning, the session being quiet, with trading light. British Empire Steel was strong, with a 2-point advance to 124 on a very small turnover. Paper stocks were lower, with Abitibl off 4 at 55½. Brompton down ½ at 35, and Spanish River 3 lower at 974. In none of the paper stocks did transactions reach 100 shares, however.
