WEST MIDDLESEX BACKS ELLIOTT AS CANDIDATE

Rousing Rally Pledges Support To Popular Campaign Veteran—Selection Made Unanimous by Motion of Dr. Bice. After 340 Delegates Cast Ballots—Duncan Marshall, E. G. Odette, Senator McCoig, Miss Armstrong Address Constituency's Most Outstanding Convention Since 1908.

LIBERAL WOMEN PROMISE SUPPORT

Special to The Advertiser by Staff Correspondent.
Strathroy, June 3.—With a storm of enthusiastic applause, J. C. Elliott, K.C., was this afternoon chosen Liberal candidate for West Middlesex for the next federal election. The convention held in Lyceum here this afternoon gave Mr. Elliott solid support. Since the convention which brought out Judge Duncan C. Ross in the famous by-election of 1908, there has been no Liberal meeting which could match today's convention in attendance or enthusiasm.

Every polling subdivision in the riding was officially represented. The center of the hall was occupied by 340 delegates, while the sides and back were packed with enthusiastic Liberals. Fully a third of the gathering, both delegates and audience, was composed of ladies.

Eight Nominations.
An executive meeting to settle details was held at 1 o'clock. At 2 o'clock President John A. McGugan called the convention to order and asked for nominations. Mrs. M. C. Dawson of Parkhill, J. C. Elliott, Charles McPhee of Appleton, Dr. Bice of Delaware, James V. McDonald of Strathroy, Allan McPherson of Glenora, warden of Middlesex, Norman Newton of Parkhill and John A. McGugan of Caradoc were all nominated.

All except Mr. Elliott and Dr. Bice withdrew. The warden of Middlesex stated his present job brought more work and more credit than any parliamentary position, so that he was satisfied. Mr. McPhee, who contested the riding in the last provincial election, announced he was staying in the provincial field. Mrs. Dawson, who edits the Parkhill Gazette, refused to allow her name to stand, but was delighted that in West Middlesex, the women had taken their proper place in politics. She thanked the men especially for her nomination as a recognition of this fact.

Will Stand By Elliott.
Mr. McGugan, Mr. McDonald and Mr. Newton all withdrew in short addresses and all promised to stand by the choice of the convention. Mr. Elliott, in allowing his name to stand, said he believed there was a big body of Liberal opinion in the riding which desired him to do so. He was glad to return to the friendship and associations made during the many years he represented West Middlesex at Toronto.

Dr. Bice, who was born and educated in the northern part of the constituency and had practiced medicine for years in Delaware, was willing to offer himself as a candidate. A poll was necessary, and it was taken by ballot. County Clerk John Stuart, Charles McPhee, James V. McDonald and John Currie were chosen scrutineers. Mr. Elliott won the poll. This result was greeted by a storm of applause and cheering. As soon as he could make himself heard, Dr. Bice moved that Mr. Elliott be made the unanimous choice of the convention, and promised to do everything to elect his good friend, Jack Elliott. Norman Newton seconded this resolution, which was carried with cheers and shouts of approval both for the resolution itself and the good sportsmanship which prompted it.

Demonstration Lasts.
The president called Mr. Elliott to the platform.

Marshall's Congratulations.
The Hon. Duncan Marshall congratulated the meeting on their candidate, and urged the completion of their organization.

"Never has Liberalism entered a fight with so much confidence and enthusiasm, as it does this," he stated. "This meeting is a splendid sample of the resurgence of Liberal spirit, which is moving all Canada from east to west."

"A political party can only succeed by leadership. I know hundreds of Conservatives who will vote Liberal, because we have that essential quality of leadership, because they believe Hon. Mackenzie King is the right man to lead in paths of national progress, and they're right too."

Mr. Marshall concluded with a prophecy: "In ten years I prophesy that we will be proud of our leader, Hon. Mackenzie King, and that he will look as large as any political figure in our history."

Miss Isabel Armstrong, who followed, had a special message for the women present. It was observed that the men listened closely and intently too. In some places, she said, women had even yet no integral part in public affairs. West Middlesex was no exception. She said that they had not only the vote, but an equal voice in choosing a candidate. She had frequently heard the objection that the vote for the man, not the party. Here they could vote for both the man and the party, which statement produced loud applause.

It was a mistake to think of Liberalism as merely a party. It was also a huge body of principles and a banner of service. The fair sex had a real place under it, because it had always been fair and just. In urging the women to organize, and vote, she reminded them of the fact that a woman's vote counts just as much as a man's vote, and to use it.

Odette Supports King.
Mr. E. G. Odette, Liberal candidate for East Essex, spoke briefly. He had just come from Ottawa, where he had listened to Hon. Arthur Meighen speak two and a half hours on confidence resolution. "It just took the prime minister," he said, "about fifteen minutes to answer him. The burden of his answer was that he would never set the east against the west by a tariff, and that what the people of Canada wanted, was less talk and more hard-headed business."

"I am a manufacturer myself, and as such, I assure you that the tariff is sufficiently high now to satisfy any honest manufacturer."

Senator Archie McCoig, who is well known to West Middlesex audiences, conducted the meeting.

"West Middlesex has in the past served this country well by giving to its service the late Senator Ross, Judge Duncan Cross, and they will do an equal service in sending J. C. Elliott, a man whose services to Liberalism cannot be enumerated."

His associates don't. He was in the union government, and when he became prime minister every one of his associates deserted him. The Hon. J. M. Baxter is also leaving. The Mall and Empire, for the while he was shouting blue ruin in Ottawa, printed a list of cities and towns where manufacturers were working full time and there was no unemployment. If his own associates are deserting, why should the country take him up?"

Two resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted. The first expressed confidence in and loyalty to the leadership of Hon. Mackenzie King, the second expressing the sympathy of the convention with the widow and family of the late member, John Drummond.

Three rousing cheers and a tiger, followed by the singing of the National Anthem, closed the convention, which will be conspicuous in the annals of West Middlesex for its fine, enthusiastic spirit. Its success augurs well for the success of its choice in the coming election.

BULGAR CAPITAL IS CITY OF DEAD
Trains, Telegraph, Trolleys Idle Following Edict at Sofia.

By JUNIUS B. WOOD.
Special Cable to The Advertiser and The Chicago Tribune.
Sofia, June 3.—Bulgaria's capital awoke Tuesday to find itself in the most amazing state of siege ever effected in modern times. Throughout the day, until the sun dropped behind Mount Vitocha at 6 in the evening, Sofia lay like a city of the dead, its streets deserted, its shops closed, its motor cars idling in the rumble of motor lorries filled with steel-helmeted soldiers, and occasionally a solitary pedestrian, posing a special permit, who had emerged furtively from his home.

All other activities ceased. Factory whistles did not blow. Morning trolley cars did not leave their barns. The shutters remained up at shop windows. Animal trains stood in the stations. Travelers were forbidden to board through trains. There were no deliveries of mail, milk, meat or newspapers. Courtesans and churchgoers were closed. Citizens not only were prohibited from emerging from their homes, but were not even permitted to stick their heads out of doors or windows.

Behind the silent exteriors, armed squads were going from house to house searching for every building in the city. The only respite was between 11 o'clock and noon. Women and children, but not men, were permitted to go out long enough to buy bread from neighboring bakeries.

The occasion was the final mopping up of the battle by the army of 10,000 additional soldiers, authorized temporarily by the council of ambassadors, following the Soviet attack on Bulgaria, April 16. The drastic siege was precipitated by the capture Monday near the city of the notorious bandit, Ivan Christoff, who confessed he had been paid to assassinate the king, and also declared to plead on the charge of manhandling the king, as well as large stores of ammunition, were hidden in Sofia. Hundreds of men, and some women, were taken to prison by armed men. Though the importance of the prisoners was not known for several days, the authorities admit that Peter Abileff, supposed director of the cathedral outrage, and Stanke Dimitroff, also sentenced to hang, were not captured by the immense dragnet.

BODY OF WINDSOR MAID FOUND IN DETROIT RIVER
Rose Lalonde Believed To Have Jumped Off Ferryboat.

Special to The Advertiser.
Windsor, June 3.—The police tonight reached the conclusion that a woman's body found in the Detroit River, near Grosse Ile, is that of Rose Lalonde, 30 years old, who disappeared March 15. Her umbrella and hat were found on the ferryboat Pleasure, an it is supposed she jumped overboard. She was employed as a maid in the home of Miss Sarah Gibson, 431 Bruce avenue, Windsor. The body was found on the river by the H. F. Thon undertaking rooms in Wyandotte to try to identify the body. At first, the police thought the body might be that of Mrs. Anna Ruggirello, 4622 Heck place, who disappeared March 3, leaving a hat and coat on the Belle Isle bridge, but this theory was abandoned.

PETROLIA DEMANDS SIFTING OF CHARGE AGAINST DRIVER

Council Wants Investigation of Why Death Car Case Was Lessened.
PROTESTS OF TOWN

Special to The Advertiser.
Petrolia, June 3.—The town council, at a meeting last night, passed a strongly-worded resolution questioning all investigation as to why James Burns was tried on a charge of reckless driving, when the coroner's jury had returned a verdict of death of the boy.

Burns ran down and killed little Johnny Burns, aged nine, in an excessive rate of speed. He did not stop after the accident. C. S. Wood, convicted at Petrolia on a charge of causing the death of a man by reckless driving, was not asked to plead on the charge of manslaughter. A term of three to nine months was given him. The resolution of last night is the result of the demands of the people of the town.

The text of the resolution is as follows: "That the attorney-general of the province be requested to have a thorough investigation made as to why James Burns was only charged and convicted on a plea of the offence of being in charge of a motor vehicle on the second day of May, 1925, and by his wanton and careless driving of the said vehicle, or by wilful misconduct and neglect with said vehicle, did do bodily harm to his day James Burns, contrary to the provisions of the criminal code, in the face of the findings of the coroner's jury that the said James Burns caused the death of the said Johnny Burns, through the action of the said James Burns, and that the clerk be instructed, and is hereby instructed, to forward a copy of this resolution to the attorney-general of the province of Ontario."

The resolution was presented by Alderman Finlayson. The only opponents were Aldermen Preston and Landan, who thought it outside the province of the council.

TORONTO BOY DROWNED, TWO OTHERS ARE RESCUED
Toronto, June 3.—Thirteen-year-old Alfred Rogers lost his life while bathing in the Don river this afternoon, and two companions, Reginald Dailey and Arthur Leacher, were rescued by William Hoskin, another boy, who was swimming farther along the river. Hoskin also succeeded in recovering the body of young Rogers early this evening.

Stratford Park System Opened

Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, June 3.—The opening of the 1925 season of Stratford's park system was an enjoyable event today. Upwards of 1,200 men, women and children gathered in Queen's park, where music was provided by the First Regiment band. The majority brought lunches and sat down under the cool shade trees and spread the tempting viands. A number of races for the children were keenly contested. A dance was held in the evening in the new pavilion. During the afternoon, members of the Retail Merchants' association distributed candies, peanuts and chocolate bars to the children. It is hoped to make this an annual event.

EASTERN HEAT WAVE CLAIMS DOZEN LIVES
Records Are Broken by Continued Spell—Storms Afford Relief.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, June 3.—A record-breaking heat wave in the east has claimed a dozen lives in two days. Continued hot weather is forecast for 48 hours. High wind and electrical storms late last night broke the spell temporarily in parts of Pennsylvania and New York. At Wilkesbarre, a storm washed out roads and damaged houses.

Philadelphia topped the list of eastern cities when the thermometer hit 98. Two men died and a boy was drowned in Rochester, N.Y., where a maximum of 90 degrees was reported. A third death and heat casualties in New York. In northern New Jersey four persons have died and more than a score have been overcome during the present hot spell. New England sweltered, but escaped the extreme temperatures experienced in states to the south and west.

INSURANCE SCHEME IS NOT APPROVED

Toronto Anglicans Send Motion Back For More Information.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 3.—The formation of a mutual fire insurance company and the rejection by the private bills committee of the legislature of a bill having this end in view was referred to at the Anglican synod of Toronto today by J. T. Ormsby, who suggested that if they wanted to organize a company the wisest thing to do would be to go to the Dominion government.

The insurance matter came in for considerable discussion, the proposal meeting with some disfavor. It was finally decided that full information should be sent to churchwardens in the diocese of the arrangements made for insuring church property under the auspices of the executive committee of the synod and of favorable terms that could be obtained.
