WEST SHORE

The West Shore is the only illustrated magazine published on the Pacific coast, and aside from its excellent literary features, its object is to convey information, by both pen and pencil, of the great resources of unit persons and the progress of their development.

Special illustrated articles appear in each tame; also, several peace of notes of the progress being made in every sealer and the progress being made in every sealer and the Pacific Company of the progress of notes of the progress being made in every sealer and the Pacific Northwest in general, are being illustrated. The subscription price is only $2.50. It is not only the cheapest illustrated magazine in the United Statos, but contains articles and engavings of great interest to every resident of this region, which can not be found in any other publication.

Subscribers for 1888 receive a large supplement every month. The first one is a beautiful oleograph of the "Entrance to the Columbia River" printed in nine colors, and cancel of the others represents some feature of our sublime somery. The supplements are alone worth more than the price of the magazine. Try it for 1888, and after reading, send it to your rivends elsewhere. You will find it both entertaining and instructive.
