TRADE WITH TRAIL. Mr. Henry Croft, who has just re-turned from a three weeks' trip to the Kootenay country, is strongly impressed with the fact that the Coast cities should make a great effort to obtain a share of the large and rapidly growing trade of that rich mineral country. The tram-way between Trail and Rossland is busy night and day transporting ore, taking 480 tons in the twenty-four hours. More communication is needed in the district, however, as at present transportation cannot keep up with the amount of ore to be shipped. Besides many of the mines at their session yesterday took action at the session yesterday to the session yes the session yesterday to the session yes the session yesterday took action at the session yesterday took action at the session yesterday to the session yes the yes the yesterday to the yesterday t are stacking up their ore, preferring to toward augmenting the discretionary wait for a little until rates shall have been lowered and admit of shipping to better advantage. Mr. Croft is of opinion that it is imperative for the Coast people to obtain direct railway communication with the Trail Creek country if they want to get the west of Kootenay. The Kootenay people are going to trade where they can cation that the Coast can benefit.
