A reporter of The World, however, having got a clue of his own hunted Hall up. He was found on John street, where he had just taken up house. He said he had no fear of being arrested, much less extradited. He admits he owes some money to his mechanics and luborers, but he does not think he can be jailed for that. He seemed to take the matter quite coolly. seemed to take the matter quite coolly. "Why," he said, "they sent a man over after me last week to sign a paper certifying to an account for lumber. I ain't making any secret of my whereabouts. If they think they can bring me back to the states, why let them try it, that's all." Meantime the amateur reporter-detective may be surprised when he takes up The World this morning and sees how there are more rning and sees how there are more reporters than one in town who can hunt reporters than one in town who can funt up such little happenings without the aid of a Chicago detective.

Hall has been drinking heavily since he came here, and has made large purchases of dry goods and furniture, but he refuses to tell where the remainder of the money is. A BOLD HOUSE THIEF.

His Exploits in Sherbourne Street-Burning a Stolen Coat at the Station.

About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon man entered the front door of the residence of Wm. Dineen at 230 Sherbourne street and passed quietly and unobserved upstairs. He did not happen to get hold of any plunder, came down again and helped the United States. The tariit to points in Arizona, California, South Texas, Washington territory, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, etc., has been reduced from $1.50 to $1 for ten words. He then very coolly left the house, but was observed by Mrs. Dineen. Mr. Dineen followed the thief and coming up with him said he would thank him for the return of his headgear. The articles were handed over and Mr. Dineen informed the thief that he would take him to the police station. The latter however darted off and turning around to Mr. Dineen shouted that he would shoot who lives near Mr. Dineen, came along in a cutter, and both men started in hot pursuit of the man. After dodging several corners he was captured in Queen street. Detective Reburn was attracted by the crowd and the man was handed over to him. He was taken to police headquarters and locked up. He gave the name of George Nightingala and the man exist of the general hospital. They will be collected every other day and taken to the hospital. Literature of any kind will be gratefully received by those having the matter in charge. This system of collecting reading matter has been adopted in other cities with great success and there is no reason why it should not be here. him. He was taken to police headquarters and locked up. He gave the name of George Nightingale, said he was only a few days in the city and had been roped in and robbed in a house of ill fame in Queen street. The so called Nightingale is quite a respectable-lookin man of 33, with cleanshaven face and eropped moustache. He said he was only six weeks from England and that he was a tinplate maker.

When arrested Nightingale had on a

There was a ticket pocket on the right side. A short time after being locked up he burned the coat in the stove, which proved pretty conclusively that he had stolen the coat from some one. A silk handkerchief found in one of the pockets is in possession of Detective Reburn. It seems as it thieves are bound to pursue Mr. Dineen, both at his store and private

The train from Hamilton due at 4.25 arrived at 6 o'clock. The which was published in the Hamilton Spectator of Saturday: Friday evening Mr. Deitz, the colored tenor singer with Miller's Uncle Tom's Cabin company, went to Mr. Clarke, the agent of the company, and asked him to get him a room at the St. Nicholas hotel, get him a room at the St. Nicholas hotel, as his wife had just come up from Toronto. Clarke did as requested, and the woman went to the hotel, where they registered as H. Dalton and wife, and forgot to mention their abiding place. The woman was a comely mulatto, with a plump and placeing person intelligent, even and pleasing person, intelligent eyes and a sprightly, vivacious manner. They were shown to a room, and quite early in the evening retired for the night. This morning a colored man named Dority came up from Toronto on the 9 o'clock train. Arriving up town he had some conversation with P. C. Hallisey, when they had with P. C. Hallisey, when they both made a break for the St. Nicholas hotel. Dority went in first, rushed up stairs to Deitz's room, knocked at the door, and when it was opened jumped wildly in. Deitz was partially dressed, but the women had not yet risen from bed, and her curly locks and shapely head reposed blissfully on the white pillow-cover. But as soon as Deitz caught sight of the new comer, he gave one yell, made a bolt for the door and was off as fast as he could go. Dority chased the gay Lothario, and like another gentleman lor named Othello, would have had his blood, but Deitz escaped and the woman disappeared. Up to date Mr. Dority has neither got revenge nor his wife.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Is hereby given that the City of Toronto has applied to the Ontario Legislature for an Act, entitled "An Act to empower and authorize the City of Toronto to institute an issue of Corporation Stock for Drainage Works."

The Bill proposes amongst other things:

1. To provide for the issue of $1,500,000 (if so required) of Irredeemable City Stock for Drainage Works only; the rate of interest not to exceed five per cent, and be fixed by the bylaw authorizing the issue. 2. To limit the taxing power of the City Council to one and a half cents in the dollar on the assessed rateable property of the city for general purposes, instead of two cents, as at present authorized.

at present authorized.

3. To limit the borrowing powers of the city to four per cent on the assessed value of all rateable property over $50,000,000, instead of eight per cent, as authorized by the Consolidation Act of 1879.

4. The Act not to come into effect unless and until sanctioned by the vote of the electors taken as on a bylaw ereating a debt.

The above Bill will be considered by the Committee on Private Bills in about ten days. W. G. McWILLIAMS, Solicitor for Applican Toronto. 16th February, 1884.
