NO SUNDAY JOY RIDING

The auto riding throughout the Annapolis valley was considerably reduced last Sunday but still there were too many cars out considering that a special request had been made to conserve gasoline throughout Canada for at least one day. Few Bridgetown cars were used, but many passed through the town, especially in the afternoon and evening. In almost all the surrounding villages, as far as we could learn, the ministers and churchgoers, although many of them are car owners, either went by teams to their various churches or walked, thus giving the people a good example of patriotism. The previous Sunday was "gasless" day in the United States. In the city of Chicago, citizens' committees were appointed for the various wards, who held up every car and either gave them a ticket to proceed, one to return back, or took the wind from their tires, according as the case in the opinion of the members of the committee, warranted. We believe that the car owners of Nova Scotia will not be required to be dealt with in such a strenuous manner. They are too patriotic and too willing to give their cash or sacrifice pleasure for the benefit of those who are fighting for us in this great struggle. Should the request be continued very few cars will be used in the future for joy riding.

Sergt. George Appleton Jackson Has Paid the Supreme Sacrifice

A despatch announces that Sergt. George Appleton Jackson, son of Mrs. Martha Jackson, of Paradise, was killed in action September 1st. No further particulars are yet available.

Sergt. Jackson was 28 years of age. He was a member of the Episcopal church, of Lawrencetown, had a large circle of friends wherever he was known, was very popular with his comrades and the news of his death will be regretted by all.

He is survived by a widow, two children, also his mother and six sisters, Lizzie and Alice in Massachusetts; Annie, George Wilson, Paradise; Annie, teacher in the Bridgetown schools; Minnie, in Connecticut; Gladys, in Saskatchewan, and one brother, John, in Paradise.

Sergt. Jackson enlisted in April, 1916 and trained some weeks in Bridgetown with the 219th.

PAID THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

Another Bridgetown Boy, LeRoy Why-not, Killed in Action.

Word has reached here of the death of Pte. LeRoy Why-not, who was killed in action "somewhere in France," September 1st.

Pte. Why-not enlisted in Bridgetown in the 219th in April 1916 and trained for awhile in this town. He was 22 years of age, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Why-not. Besides his two children, he also leaves four brothers and seven sisters. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Business Changes

Mr. E. A. Rawding, dealer in and manufacturer of leather goods, who has been occupying the Ross block on Granville street, has removed his business to the Lockett building on the opposite side of the same street, west of the Post Office.

Messrs. Tupper & Chute, who for several months have been occupying the store recently vacated by E. W. W. Purdy, have purchased the Foster block on the west side of Queen street, south of W. A. Warren's Drug Store, and as soon as they can get the same suitably fitted up, intend moving their business into their new premises. In the meantime, however, they will continue to do business at the old stand.

The Yarmouth Exhibition

As will be seen by our advertising columns the dates of the Yarmouth exhibition are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 2nd, 3rd and 4th. We wish to also remind the public that the special train from Annapolis will run on Thursday and not Wednesday as advertised several weeks ago. The Yarmouth show is always a good one and with none in Halifax this year should be attended by a larger crowd than ever. The roads are good between all points in the Valley and Yarmouth and it is certainly a beautiful auto trip at this season of the year.

Local Happenings

The Hampton Red Cross Society shipped 15 pyjama suits to Halifax yesterday.

The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church will hold a pantry sale, including cakes, pies, bread, baked beans, etc., in the Lockett Building, Granville street, on Saturday, Sept. 21st. Open at 2 o'clock.

Chautauqua opened at Annapolis yesterday and continues today and tomorrow, Sept. 18th and 19th, matinee and evening performance. It is spoken of in the highest terms by all who have attended.

An Ottawa despatch of the fruit crop report, puts the Nova Scotia yield at 400,000 bbls. The report states that the embargo on apple shipments to Great Britain, is discouraging to the growers but the orchards are being kept in good condition in view of the after-the-war possibilities.

Successful Anniversary at Lawrencetown

The Lawrencetown Methodist church celebrated its 104th anniversary on Sunday evening last, Sept. 15th, and an eminently successful anniversary it was. The pulpit was prettily decorated with flowers and plants and the large audience filled the church. The pastor, Rev. S. J. Boyce, conducted the service and the Rev. P. J. Armitage, a former pastor, presided at the organ and led the congregation in prayer. The special preacher for the occasion was the Rev. W. J. W. Swetnam, of Bridgetown. Mr. Swetnam preached a stirring sermon and made an appeal which will long abide in the memory of those who heard it for an enthusiastic Christianity. The choir pleasingly rendered an appropriate selection and Miss Henderson and Mr. Boyce sang a duet. The lesson was read from the historic Bible, which was used in the old church from 1845 to 1872, which was kindly loaned by Mr. H. H. Whitman. The offering was a record one, totalling $93.00, with more to follow, which will doubtless take it past the hundred mark. The congregation is to be congratulated on such a splendid result, and should be encouraged to push with the utmost zeal every branch of the church's activity.

Annapolis Welcomes Capt. Dan Owen.

There was a large gathering at the Annapolis railroad station Saturday on the arrival of the eastbound express to welcome home Capt. Dan Owen, after his experience of being taken prisoner by the Germans and interred in Holland until recently, when there was exchange of prisoners and he was set at liberty. He was accompanied by Mrs. Owen, who had gone to St. John to meet him. On arrival there he was greeted with cheers and a hearty welcome from his many friends, and escorted in a decorated auto. The Annapolis Band played several patriotic selections. A procession was formed of cars and paraded the principal streets to his father's residence. Flags were flying around town and bunting was suspended across the street near the station, bearing the inscription, "Welcome Home."

In the early stages of the war, Capt. Owen gave up a lucrative legal practice to assist the Allies in this great conflict, and still bears the marks of his capture by the Huns in the loss of one eye. Otherwise he appears as active as ever.

Death of Mrs. Simon Wilson.

After an illness of two years, Mrs. Simon Wilson passed peacefully away at the home of her son, Granville street, last Thursday noon, aged 73 years. She was a member of the Methodist church and highly respected by all who knew her. Her husband predeceased her many years ago. She leaves no brothers and sisters, but is survived by two sons Hubert and Willard, of Bridgetown, and one daughter, Mrs. L. S. Shores, of Worcester, Mass. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon with interment in the Riverside cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. M. S. Richardson.

Granville Red Cross

The Granville Red Cross has recently shipped the following goods to Halifax: 23 pyjama suits, 32 pairs of socks.

DEATH OF MRS. D. M. OUTHIT

A Highly Respected Lady Passes Away At Melvern Square

(Special to the MONITOR)

The death of Mrs. D. M. Outhit occurred at her home, Melvern Square, on Thursday evening, Sept. 13th, 1918, after a lingering and painful illness.

Mrs. Outhit, formerly Miss Annie Morse, was the only daughter of the late Robert and Lavinia (FitzRandolph) Morse, of Melvern Square, Annapolis County, N. S., and in early youth united with the Baptist church, faithfully following her Saviour until the end came a few days ago. She was also, for many years, an honored and useful member of Kingston Rebekek Lodge, being sincerely mourned by that sisterhood. A lady of sterling worth and much force of character, naturally kind of heart, and hospitable in her home, she will be sadly missed, not only in her own home, which is left desolate, but in the community where she has lived her lifetime.

We fail to understand, why she, so universally beloved, with much to live for, should be so soon called from a life of usefulness, but the dispensations of Providence can never be rightly understood this side of Heaven. But we know that she has laid aside the cross, which we all have to wear in this brief life, and obtained the crown, which is far beyond any joy we could wish for her here below and "May she rest in Peace."

She is survived by a sorrowing husband and four brothers, John P. and Charles, of Melvern Square; Burpee, of Kingston, Kings Co., and Dr. Geo. Morse, of Saskatoon, beside a large circle of relatives and friends, left to mourn their loss.

The funeral services were conducted at the home on Saturday, Sept. 7th, by her pastor, the Rev. F. E. Roop, assisted by the Rev. Thomas McFall, of Somerset (Presbyterian) and the Rev. D. K. Grant, of Middleton, a large number of sorrowing friends being present.

She was laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery and the floral tributes, the last token of love and respect for the dead, were many, some costly, and all of beautiful design.

Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband and relatives of the deceased.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is wrong for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are overexcited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build up your strength.
