Today, les Grands Ballets Canadiens is internationally acclaimed as a "World Class" company. Yet no matter how many thousands of miles the company travels, it has a special affinity with its home audiences. Its roots and history are Quebecois by definition and Canadian in nature.

The company continues to win international acclaim as "Magnificent Montrealers" for itself on its extensive tours. In 1984 the company undertook an Asian tour that encompassed 20 cities and 6 countries. The forthcoming tour will bring the company to 6 different countries in 5 weeks.
