Medical alert tags

Company Summary

Life Alert Data Inc., established in 1984, manufactures and retails a unique medical information system under the Life Alert trade name. The device consists of a tiny stainless steel box that contains three hinged fold-out metal panels. Attached to the side of each panel is a tiny metal photo page which contains typed information, such as vital medical and personal details, up to a maximum of 350 characters or 50 words. The box attaches easily to a wrist chain, expansion or watch bracelet or can be worn as a neck chain.
