

CHAPTER XXI.

THE URSULINES OF QUEBEC AND THE URSULINES OF NEW ORLEANS.

Foundation of the Convent of New-Orleans, p. 221.
—Appeal of Bishop Dubourg, 223.—Candidates for the mission, 224.—The journey, 225.—Adventures
at sea, the Pirate Ship, 229.—The arrival, 231.—
The missionaries of Texas, 232.

CHAPTER XXII.

EDUCATION IN OUR CONVENT SCHOOLS.

Impetus given to studies in 1800, p. 234.—Boarders and half-boarders united, 236. Irish-class, Externs organized, 237.—Mother Painchaud of St. Borgia, 238.—Oil-painting,—Music, 239.—Mother Cecilia O'Conway of the Incarnation, 240.—Ursulines of St. Mary's, Waterford, 241.—New class-rooms, 242.
—Rev. Father Maguire, chaplain, 242.—Mother
Elizabeth Harrison of St. Joseph.—Mother Mary
Barber, in religion, Mary Benedict, 244, Patronage
245.—The Legislature visit the Convent, 248.—
Public Examinations, 250.—Obligation of the Ursu-lines to the Episcopacy, 255.—Archbishop Baillairgeon, Archbishop Taschereau, 256.

CHAPTER XXIII.

REMINISCENCES, INCIDENT OF THE 12TH JULY.

Scene within the Convent grounds, p. 258.—History of the Convent bells, 260.—The old French cross, 266.—View of the garden and the Convent-buildings, 268.