Oshawa Fatal Smash-up on Grand Trunk — Kingston Penitentiary Investigation — Galt Natural Gas Explosion — Guelph New County Treasurer

ONE KILLED, THREE INJURED WHEN EXPRESS HIT FREIGHT

G. T. R. Flyer in Collision Wit h Cattle Train Near Oshawa —All Passengers Receive d Shaking Up, But Steel Pullmans and Vestibuled Coa ches Saved Big Casualty List.

(Special to The Toronto World).

OSHAWA, Dec. 12.—The failure of a Grand Trunk freight crew to protect the rear of their train was the cause of a rear-end collision a half-mile east of Oshawa at seven this morning, when the Grand Trunk Montreal-Toronto flyer, going fifty miles an hour, crashed into a stalled freight train that had broken in two. One man was killed and three others seriously injured, including the engineer of the passenger train.

Henry Held of Fisherville, a cattle drover, who was riding in the van, was crushed to death when the heavy engine tore its way thru the van.

Bert Walker of Hagersville, another cattleman, was badly crushed, while Engineer Jack Muir of the express was seriously hurt when he jumped.

Another man, who could not be identified, was picked up unconscious. The injured men were taken back to the hospital at Bowmanville.

Rolling Stock Undamaged.

That the wreck was not more serious is due to the effective equipment of the passenger train. Steel Pullmans and steel platform vestibule coaches were stout enough to resist the impact. There was no damage done to the rolling stock.

All the passengers on the train were up when the emergency brakes were clapped on. They were tossed around and thrown in heaps in the aisles of the cars. The crew of the freight escaped death when they went back to put out signals to warn the fast express.

Toronto Man's Escape.

A. O. Hogg of Toronto had his back slightly strained and he is suffering from a stiff neck. He miraculously escaped cutting his own throat. When the collision occurred he was in the washroom shaving himself with an open razor. He jabbed himself in the chin when he felt the bump and dropped the razor.

When Engineer Jack Muir saw the freight train his first thought was of the passengers who were entrusted to his care. Instead of jumping, he jammed on the brakes and stayed with the slackening train till it was within ten yards of the stalled train. It was then he thought of himself, and, along with his fireman, he jumped. He struck the ditch with terrific force, injuring his ribs.

MORE IRISHMEN TO INVADE CANADA

Direct Steamship Connection to Be Taken Advantage of by Government.

(Special to The Toronto World).

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—The Canadian Cunard steamship service will next year make Queenstown a port of call. Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, recently stated that direct steamship connection between the south of Ireland and Canada would result in the diversion to Canada of much Irish emigration which now goes to the United States.

W. D. Scott, commissioner of Canadian immigration, will go to Ireland early in the year to study the situation at first hand, and it is expected that the number of Irish emigrants to Canada will be much increased next year.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION BLOWS OUT STORE FRONT

Due Directly to Leak in Main and High Pressure Blamed as Contributory Cause.

(Special to The Toronto World).

GALT, Dec. 12.—This evening the large plate glass front of Struthers & Church's feed store on Main street was completely demolished by an explosion of natural gas. The shock did considerable damage to adjoining premises, tho the principal loss was confined to the feed store. The explosion was directly due to a leak in the main, but just how the gas became ignited is a mystery.

The gas company has not been able to supply the demand from its regular wells at Dunnville, and to increase the supply has run mains from new wells near Tilbury. The pressure from this source is termendous, and small leaks not discoverable on the old pressure are a decided menace now.

BODY OF LINDSAY WOMAN FOUND IN RIVER SCUGOG

(Special to The Toronto World).

LINDAY, Dec. 11.—The body of Mrs. R. Hungerford, who was drowned, it is surmised, early last evening, was found in the river Scugog, near the Ops swing bridge, about 1.30 o'clock this afternoon by Herb. Begg and Francis McPhee. It appears that Mrs. Hungerford left her residence in William street about 5.30 o'clock last night to spend the evening with friends, and from that hour she disappeared. Anxious relatives and friends made diligent enquiries as to her whereabouts, but without avail. The search was continued this morning, with the result above stated.

HAZEN SCOUTS REPORT OF EXPLORER'S PLIGHT

Nothing to Support Theory of Stefansson's Abandonment, He Asserts.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—Speaking of the theory that Stefansson has been abandoned by the Karluk, Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine, said today:

"The story is not only absolutely unfounded and unwarranted by anything that has occurred in regard to the expedition, but it is a most serious allegation to make against the character of the scientists who accompanied Stefansson.

"We have not a shred of information which would justify such a theory," he continued. "The Stefansson expedition was better equipped than any previous venture of its kind ever sent north. Supplies abundant enough to last for three years were carried, and every possible provision was made, not only for the subsistence, but for the comfort of the men. Everything furnished to the crew, as well as to the officers, was first-class in every way.

Inspector Reburn was sent to enquire, and he yesterday arrested a man named Ephraim Racine of Crysler on a charge of committing the offence. Henry Duhamel, aged 17 years, gave evidence before Robert Steven, J.P., at Crysler, stating he had been engaged to do the work. Racine was committed for trial and was brought to Cornwall jail today.

ORDER LIGHTER RIFLES FOR THE CADET CORPS

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—(Can. Press.)—The Cadet corps of Canada are to be supplied with 22-calibre rifles. The Ross Rifle Co. is making the rifles of a pattern approved by the militia department. They will weigh about five pounds or less and are almost a miniature of the long Ross.

In the past, while the cadets used the long rifles for shooting over the ranges and will do the same in the future, these rifles were found too heavy for drilling in the case of the smaller boys. The light rifles will be used for drill purposes and for indoor shooting.

WAR OF RATES ENDED AT LAST

Dominion Railway Commission Now Proceeds to Prepare Its Judgment.

EXPECT BRIEF DELAY

Finding Will Be of Vital Concern to People of Canada.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—(Can. Press.)—"Well, gentlemen, this case is closed," said Chairman H. L. Drayton, K.C., of the railway commission, just as the electric clock on the wall of the board room clicked off four o'clock this afternoon.

He gave a sigh of relief and then added smilingly to the assembled counsel before him: "I don't suppose you expect a judgment on this case before tomorrow." Then the regiment of lawyers and their assistants began to gather their briefs, etc., together, and five minutes later the room, in which most of the hearings in the western freight case have been heard, was empty. Since February, 1912, the case has dragged its weary way on, absorbing the labor of mathematicians, statisticians, lawyers, newspapermen, traffic and tariff experts, almost ad infinitum, and now the judgment day will be awaited with interest by half the nation, as the judgment, whatever it be, will affect the whole country in some way or other.

Monumental Task.

The western freight rates case is the biggest one the railway commission has ever tackled, probably bigger than any other similar tribunal has ever dealt with.

It is reported that the judgment will be given without much delay. The whole fight revolved round the request of the people of the west for lower freight rates, to be lowered to the same standard that prevails in the east.

As soon as the case closed James Bicknell, K.C., thanked the commission on behalf of counsel in the case for the forbearance and patience shown.

Argument in Rebutal.

Today was taken up by government counsel in rebutting the arguments of the railway's counsel.

Mr. M. K. Cowan declared that the eastern division of the C.N.R. could not pay operating expenses in view of the fact that industrial centres were already well supplied with roads.

He declared that they would like to see reductions made within the present generation.

"I don't suppose you will expect a judgment on this case before tomorrow?" remarked Chairman Drayton smilingly.

"Well then, the case is closed."

HOGS AND SHEEP SOLD HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

(Special to The Toronto World)

GUELPH, Dec. 12.—The prices at the auction sale this afternoon of the sheep and hog carcasses shown at the winter fair were in advance of those of last year. Hogs went $2.25 per cwt. higher than last year's price, which was $11.75. The hogs, which were sold in one large bulk, brought $14 per cwt.

Lambs also brought considerably in excess of former prices. The average lamb sold at 16 cents per pound while some went at 18 cents. A large number brought 16 1-2 cents, while the lowest sold was at 15 1-2 cents per pound, equal to last year's price.

The better quality of the hogs and lambs shown this year largely accounted for the increase in the prices.

It doesn't take all morning to read The World. The news is condensed.

"FRAME-UPS," SAYS CONVICT WITNESS

Stories of Ill-Treatment Concocted by Prisoners to Do Injury.

"PUTTING IT OVER" HIM

How One Inmate Boasted After Testifying Against Deputy Warden.

(Special to The Toronto World.)

KINGSTON, Dec. 12.—The feature at this afternoon's session of the prison reform commission was the sworn statement of convict F 95 that stories of ill-treatment told by many convicts already heard were "frame-ups" on their parts, to do injury to prison officials. This convict gave the name of another convict and claimed he was the chief leader in the scheme to give false evidence against officials.

Manufactured Them.

"I know these men, and I know their stories have just been manufactured," he declared."

That the class of men who had given evidence against the officials would swear to anything under oath, was another declaration this convict made. "They do not know the nature of an oath," he said.

He gave the name of a certain convict and stated that he, after giving evidence, had gone back to his cell and then told him that he had "put it over" the deputy and surgeon.

Asked about the traffic in tobacco, he said that it was brought into the pen. in wagons and carts.

In answer to a query as to how he had been treated since he had been behind the bars, he replied, "I have been treated as well as I deserve. I have no complaints whatever to make."

His Code of Honor.

Additional evidence was given concerning the traffic in tobacco, and one convict, asked to give names of guards who had furnished him with tobacco, said, "no, I would not do it even if I were given my freedom for it."

COST OF LIVING STILL CLIMBING

Eggs Made Most Spectacular Advance During November, Say Statisticians.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—(Can. Press).—The labor department today issued the following bulletin:

"The department of labor index number of wholesale prices stood at 138.4 for November as compared with 136.8 in October, and 136.6 in November, 1912. The increase was due to advance in the prices of grains and fodder, beef, sheep, dairy products, (especially eggs), and fresh vegetables. These increases, however, were somewhat offset by declines in flour, glucose, honey, raw cotton and silk, coke, iron, pipe, linseed oil, resin and raw rubber.

The level was higher than a year ago in animals and meats, dairy products, textiles, hides, leathers, boots and shoes, lumber, miscellaneous building materials, furniture and crockery. A lower level than last year appeared in grains and fodders, fish and paints and oils. Fruits and vegetables were slightly higher, but miscellaneous groceries were somewhat lower than last year.

The feature of the month in retail prices was the advance in eggs, but the movement was also upward in butter, potatoes, coal, milk and prunes. Beef, veal and mutton advanced in some localities, but fresh pork and lard declined in a number of Canadian cities.

SEVEN TRADE DISPUTES RECORD FOR NOVEMBER

Number of Working Days Lost, However, Showd an Increase.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—(Can. Press.)—According to a bulletin issued by the department of labor, there were only seven trade disputes in Canada during November, 1913, a favorable showing in comparison with October, when there were nine in existence, and also with November, 1912, in which month twenty-five were recorded. There was, however, an increase in the number of working days lost, over the previous month, the figures being 89,000 for November, 1913, and 70,700 during October.

It is worthy of note that of the 89,000 working days lost during November, 67,500 were lost as a result of two disputes in British Columbia, coal miners on Vancouver Island and railroad construction workers on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. Three disputes were definitely settled during November, leaving four in existence at the end of the month as compared with eleven at the end of November, 1912.

EX-ALD. VERRAL DIED THURSDAY

Took Great Interest and Was Active in Municipal Affairs.

HIS FUNERAL MONDAY

For Ten Years Continuously He Sat in the City Council.

In the death of George W. Verral on Thursday Toronto lost one of her oldest citizens. The late Mr. Verral was born in Seaford, Sussex, England, in March, 1829. His father, Dr. Charles Verral, was a prominent physician, widely known in England as the inventor of the Prone Couch, a cure for spinal diseases which was of such benefit to the community that the existing Orthopedic Hospital in London was established. On the death of his father the late Mr. Verral came to Canada and settled in Toronto. He was employed for some years on the survey of the Grand Trunk Railway, and on the completion of its eastern line started a livery business, which he carried on successfully for many years.

Mr. Verral took a great interest in public affairs and was active in municipal politics. He was an alderman continuously for ten years; for seven years he sat for old St. George's Ward, and then, when that district was incorporated in the new system of wards and was part of Ward 4, he was elected for the three succeeding years. For several years he was chairman of the market and license committee and also sat on the board of harbor commissioners. He was one of the first to advocate the King street subway, the addition to the western cattle market, the rounding of the corners of King and Yonge streets, the enlargement of St. Lawrence market and the ownership of the roadbed of the street railway. He is survived by his wife, two sons, George proprietor of the Verral Storage Co. and other enterprises, and Charles, manager of the Dominion Livery, and six daughters: Clarissa, Martha, wife of Charles E. Boyd, Emma V., wife of Matthew Currey; Harriet, Mary, and Frances, wife of John J. Walsh.

Mr. Verral was a member of the Anglican Church, a Liberal in politics, a member of Alpha Lodge, A. F. & A. M., the St. George's Society and the York Pioneers. His funeral will take place on Monday to the family plot in Mount Pleasant.

PELLETIER EXPLAINS BARRING OF LIQUOR

Doesn't Wish to Tempt Employes Who Will Handle Parcel Post.

PROTECT "DRY" AREAS

Local Option Communities Have Rights That Must Be Respected.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—(Can. Press).—In an interview today the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, postmaster-general, stated that after giving the matter considerable thought, he had decided to make a public statement as to the parcel post regulations, bearing on the question of the transmission of intoxicating liquors. At first, Mr. Pelletier declined to make any statement as to the regulations until the whole scheme was worked out and all the regulations drafted and issued.

However, in view of the numerous communications received at the department daily, from those who believe in temperance principles, and, in order to avoid giving these people so much trouble in writing the department on the matter, the postmaster-general has come to the conclusion that, as his mind has been made up from the beginning on this point, he may as well let the public know now that no intoxicating liquors will be allowed to be transmitted by parcel post.

No Outside Influence.

It has been incidentally remarked that perhaps the postmaster-general was doing this to please the Dominion Alliance. Mr. Pelletier's answer to this is that he was not doing it at the special request of the Dominion Alliance or any other organization, which directly, or indirectly might be considered as a political or quasi-political organization; that the question had been decided on its merits and to further the good administration of the postal service.

The postmaster-general was shown a letter recently published in the press in which the question was put as to why liquor should be prohibited from the parcel post when it was considered permissible and proper for transportation by railroads, steamboats, etc. Mr. Pelletier answered that he could give many reasons, but that he had no intention of discussing the matter at great length. He was satisfied to give two reasons for the moment. In the first place, he had recently notified the postal employes (particularly those to whose care money is entrusted), that if they used liquor they would be dismissed. Consequently, he was not going to be instrumental in putting liquor within easy reach of these employes.

In Dry Belts.

In the second place, Mr. Pelletier said, there are many places where the sale of liquor is now prohibited, and illegal, because the people have decided that is should be so, adding, "Am I going to thwart their wishes by allowing the transmission of liquor by parcel post into the districts where the people have said they do not want it?"

In conclusion, Mr. Pelletier said the question is settled and will not be reopened. It is known that Mr. Pelletier is a firm believer in temperance principles, and before entering the government was for many years a member of the anti-alcoholic league of the Province of Quebec.
