motives of those taking part in them.

A PETERBORO' case shows the difficulties and annoyances growing out of the present state of the law, as touching bankruptcy, in a marked manner. W. J. Larmour, boot and shoe dealer, of that place, wanted an extension from a wholesale house in this city, and also wanted and ordered, through a traveller, an unusually large bill of goods on credit. These were not promises and performance of Larmour excited distrust on the part of the manufacturers and they at once placed the matter in the hands of a lawyer, who garnished debtors to Larmour right and left, creating no little perturbation amongst the insolvent's circle of customers.

Larmour's estate, it is stated, will easily pay 100 compromise their claim at all if the estate is so abundantly good. The legal proceedings have since come into Court, and a decision has been rendered, that only one garnishee is permissible except in case of joint liability. The solicitor for the creditors gets an allowance of $10 costs on the garnishee sustained, but has to pay his own costs on all the others struck out, the sheriff's fees for which are said to be over $20.
