well may, by the Help of our Fleets) all the Papists in Christendom will depend upon us for their Fast Day Provisions, and must pay us a greater Tax for their Superstition than they pay even to the Pope himself.

Seas)

nent,

e the

nore

, or

in be

vast

f the

tions

uent

hich

Men-

Fifh

ench.

2, to

En-

Pro-

eatly

night

we,

ngest

ivate

have

from

ring

the

carry

the

En-

man But very

25

8. That we shall not only hurt the French Nation in general (our most dangerous Rivals) by depriving them of their Fishery, but must largely abridge the Revenue of France, by lessening the Consumption of French Salt, the Prosit of which is solely in the Crown, and more than Half of which, that was made in the Kingdom, was employ'd in this Fishery. At the same Time the Revenue from our own Salt Trade, which stands engag'd for a considerable Part of the National Debt, may be made to increase in Proportion as that of France is lessened.

9. That the Advantages to arise from this Fishery, are not merely the Profits of the Fish, or the Salt to cure it; but the vast Consumption of British Commodities, of most Kinds, that must be occasioned by this Trade, and the Superiority it must inevitably preserve us at Sea, by being an eternal Nursery of perhaps 30, 40, or 50,000 Seamen; since nobody can tell what Numbers might be employed, while we had this Trade solely in our Possession.

10. That the British Empire in America can be no otherwise compleated, nor our Trade to New England, New York, the Jersies, Maryland, Virginia, Carolina, and Georgia be secured, than by keeping Possession of Cape Breton.

tacked by the New-England Men, the long Siege at held out, and the Danger there was of a Mit-

carriage,